

Local and Personal

To Crater Lake—Wayne Lapworth spent yesterday at Crater lake.

Mrs. Lantis Goes North—Mrs. A. Lantis left this morning for Salem, where she will spend two weeks visiting relatives.

Visit Nephew—Mrs. D. L. Jones left today by train for Weed, Cal., where she will spend about a week visiting her nephew, Walter Jones.

To Visit Here—Mr. and Mrs. Luther Elliff of Portland arrived in Medford today by train to visit Mr. and Mrs. Asher Neff.

Visited the Cores—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lessard of Portland, en route to California by motor last week, were guests in Medford for a short time of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Corey.

Four Front Seat Fine—E. G. Miller, mechanic for a local transfer company, was fined $10 in Judge Taylor's court today for driving a truck with four adults in the front seat.

To Begin Business Career—Camille Clemenson, whose father operates the Jackson hotel at Medford, arrived in Portland yesterday to start her business education. She was registered at the Imperial hotel. The Oregonian.

Praise for Kerby—Mr. Brault, assistant general manager of the Southern Oregon Gas corporation, made a business trip to Kerby Friday, and commented on the progressiveness of the lively little community.

Eagles Victors—The Fern Valley Eagles baseball team yesterday afternoon defeated the North Phoenix Terrors by a decisive score. The game was played at the Fern Valley school. Miss Gladys Murphy coached the Eagles and Miss Preston the Terrors.

Arizona Visitor—Mrs. J. B. Stone of Miami, Ariz., who has been visiting in White Salmon, Wash., for several days, spent yesterday in Medford as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bolse. She left by train last evening for her home.

Travel in Bus—The Marshfield high school football squad of 26, including the coach, arrived here last evening in a large Pacific Greyhound bus, and will return home tomorrow in the same vehicle. They are registered at the Hotel Medford.

Local Golfers—Mr. and Mrs. H. Chandler Egan and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Clark are at the Portland hotel from Medford. Both Mr. Egan and Mr. Clark are well known for their expert play on the golf fairways. Mr. Egan was winning national championships before most of the present crop of golf stars were born. He is now a designer of golf courses.—The Oregonian.

LABOR EXCHANGE PLAN IS PRAISED

J. M. Devers, attorney for the state highway commission, following a conference with the governor's relief committee for Jackson county and the county court, left last night to upstate.

The highway Devers discussed with the county court details for the emergency road work next winter.

The scrap warehouse plan, as formulated by Dr. D. A. Chambers, whereby labor and farmer are brought together for needed supplies and work, was praised by Attorney Devers. The plan will be used in this county.

Attorney Devers is on a tour of the state and will make a report of his findings to Governor Meier at an early date.

SUSPEND JAIL TERM FOR FISH VIOLATION

Glenn Woolridge, who now resides in Grants Pass and who after a warrant was sworn out for his arrest several months ago for having more than the legal limit of fish left the county, voluntarily appeared before Judge Taylor's court yesterday, pleaded guilty, was fined $30 and given a jail sentence of six months.

Inasmuch as he has a large family to support, the court suspended the sentence on condition that Woolridge, who makes his living by fishing and acting as guide to sportsmen, hereafter keep within the law.

The accused man explained his feeling from the charge and absence for so long by the fact that he feared a heavy jail sentence would have been meted out to him at that time, and felt that his family could not get along without his support then.

HUTCHISON CRITICIZED BECAUSE RAIN LACKING

"Nice brand of weather you have been putting up lately" was the comment made to W. J. Hutchison, meteorologist at the head of the Medford station of the U. S. Weather Bureau, this noon.

"Yes, that is all very nice, but it is rain that we need and I have been getting thunder daily for some time past from many," was the reply.

"I'm doing my best to attract some liberal moisture to this locality, and eventually will succeed."

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness and sympathy and beautiful floral offerings in our recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Kline, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Catey, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Catey.

Autoists are warned by the authorities not to leave their keys in their cars.

4-H CLUB REVIEW FEATURE OF LAST OREGON FAIR DAY

SALEM, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The seventh annual Oregon state fair will not come to a close until tomorrow night, but today will mark the finish of the activity program. Final races, rodeo program and horse show will be presented as features of the editors' and Exhibitors' day. Today broke with fine fair weather again, after threatening rain most of yesterday.

The 4-H club review was presented this morning, at which time the four winners of juvenile club honors were introduced. H. C. Seymour, state club leader, announced the winners of all club activities as Ruth Holcomb, Clackamas, Margery Stewart, Polk; Clifford Conrad, Union and Eugene Freeze of Linn county. The winners were entertained specially last night and presented with gifts and trophies.

The varied program at the fair yesterday, including the events in honor of Portland and Graceland, was attended by a crowd estimated at 14,000, despite the low temperature and overcast skies. Sunday the program will be in charge of the Portland federation of churches and various musical organizations.

EAGLE POINT GRANGE MEETING IN CHARGE OF PHOENIX OFFICER

Last meeting of Eagle Point Grange was very interesting, despite the fact that the attendance was not as large as usual.

A feature was the address of Dr. Dan Standard, of Phoenix, who talked on "Helpfulness." He enumerated many habits of unkindness which people have which cause much unnecessary grief and sorrow. He also said that he considered "the Grange" the most helpful of any organization he knew of.

During the lecture program there were two pleasing solos by Mrs. Jessie Mittelsteadt, accompanied by Miss Yetta Olson. Mr. Jack Stowell pleased the audience with several numbers of old-time fiddle music, accompanied by Mrs. Rose Smith.

During the business part of the meeting a resolution was passed asking the federal government for a moratorium on all federal farm loans, until stock bank loans, and other farm mortgages, to be continued until conditions for farmers are improved.

The following group of welcome visitors were present from Roky Ann Grange: Roscoe Roberts, master; Frank Hansen, secretary; Mrs. Roberts, mother of Roscoe Roberts; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Redpath, Woodrow Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen, Celma and Anna Hansen and J. Kellogg.

It was announced that the Phoenix Grange would have charge of the next Grange meeting, October 6, both the business session and the lecture hour.

This is expected to be a very interesting meeting, and all Grangers are invited to attend.

Home Economics club is busy preparing for the annual carnival to be held this fall, and many beautiful pieces of embroidered linen are already finished. They also take orders for work to help swell their fund.

Mrs. Fordyce Has Luncheon Room in Moffit's Grocery

OREGON GRANGERS EYE RELIEF PLANS IN SALEM SESSION

SALEM, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Unemployment relief, special session of the legislature, and the enactment of a luxury tax were considered by the Oregon State Grange executive committee, in session at the state fair yesterday, but no definite steps were taken. It was announced by Walter M. Pierce, member of the board and former governor of Oregon. The committee indicated its support of a special session, despite the statement of Governor Julius L. Meier that such a meeting would not solve the problem at this time.

Senator J. E. Bennett of Multnomah county appeared before the committee and urged approval of his proposal to issue state bonds for $500,000,000 and loan this money to home owners and farmers at a low rate of interest. Bennett contended that such a plan would stimulate industry, provide additional payrolls and relieve materially the existing business depression.

"The Grange is committed to the policy of a luxury tax and we believe that the imposition of such a tax at this time would give material assistance," Pierce said. "This money could be expended on public work and other projects beneficial to the people of this state."

MEDFORD JUNIORS TROUNCE ASHLAND YOUNGSTERS, 18-0

(By Claude Manke)

In a lopsided game at Van Scoyoc field this morning, Medford Junior high football squad trounced the Ashland Juniors 18-0.

The experienced local team's knowledge of fundamentals and their end runs and line bucks proved too much for their weaker opponents.

Medford's weakest spot was shown in the aerial department, both offensive and defensive. In this Ashland was supreme.

The ball was kept almost constantly in Ashland territory up to the last quarter, when the invaders, by a series of short passes and end runs forced the locals back to their two-yard line. Twice Medford was pushed back, but each time they rallied, holding Ashland to four downs and then putting into the center of the field.

The score by quarters was: First quarter, 6; second quarter, 13; third quarter, 0; fourth, 0. Medford failed to convert the goal kick on any of the three touchdowns.

Lineups:

Information was received in the city last night from Crater National park that indications at that time were that the fine weather which had been prevailing there would continue for at least a few days longer and that visitors to the national park can now see the lake in all its autumn glory.

Autumn colors are prevalent in the lake region and on the road en route to the scenic wonder. The air is not cold, but is wonderfully clear and invigorating and a trip to the national park at this time of year is exceptionally enjoyable.

Visitors are continuing to arrive at the lake from all parts of the country, but as during the season, California visitors are the most numerous.

CRATER LAKE IN AUTUMN GLORY

Double Program at The Holly Tonight

The Holly theater offers its patrons an unusual added attraction for tonight only, along the last showing of "Waterloo Bridge," the great love drama with Mae Clarke and Kent Douglas, and which closes at the Holly with the last performances tonight.

Those who attend the second show tonight are invited to remain as guests of the Holly to see a special return engagement of Joe E. Brown's greatest comedy riot, "Top Speed." Without exaggeration, it is his greatest comedy and will make a pleasing added attraction with "Waterloo Bridge," which is of a more serious nature.

Also on the program tonight is a news reel with Graham McNamee announcing a reel of football thrills and a musical act entitled "Night Club Revels."

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., comes to the Holly tomorrow in his second starring picture, a rollicking comedy romance entitled "I Like Your Nerve." Loretta Young appears with the star in a picture that is said to be full of comedy and thrills.

Laurel and Hardy Is Craterian Hit

Tomorrow brings to the screen of the Fox Craterian theater America's ace pair of comies, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in their first all-feature length comedy "Pardon Us," in which Stan and Oliver run afoul of the law and fill the prison cells with riotous yells of laughter.

Warner Baxter in "The Squaw Man" is featured for the last time tonight at the Fox Craterian. As an added attraction Harold Lloyd in "Feet First" will be presented following the second evening performance.

All patrons attending the second show will be invited to remain as guests of the Fox Craterian for this midnight revival presentation.

Thrilling Film At Fox Rialto Sunday

Romance! Intrigue! Mystery! These are the dominant notes in "The Spider," thrilling mystery melodrama which opens a three-day engagement at the Fox Rialto theater starting tomorrow, featuring Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran in the romantic leads. The drama is from the famous play of the same name by Fulton Oursler and Lowell Brantano. Other members of the cast are El Brendel and George E. Stone.

Showing for the last time tonight on the screen of the Fox Rialto theater is Buck Jones in the western thriller "Branded."

In Memoriam

(For Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Kline and family.)

Our Boy,
Little fellow, young and sweet;
Our hope, our life, our joy—
God's greatest gift sent down to us—
A darling little boy.

With light brown hair and dark blue eyes,
And rosy cheeks so fair;
Baby hands and baby face—
A precious thing so rare.

We loved your little baby talk;
We loved your pranks at play;
But like a tragic, shattered dream
Fate took you far away.

Oh, Father, please take care of him;
He's timid and so shy.
Don't scold him for his little pranks;
Soothe him if he should cry.

Play his little games with him;
Watch him laugh with joy.
Thou' he was ours, new he's yours—
Our darling little boy.
