

Local and Personal

Guest of Mrs. Akers—Mrs. Florence Nichols of Roseburg was the guest over the week-end of Mrs. Rose Akers of this city.

From Indian Agency—Louie C. Mueller of the Klamath Indian Agency is here in attendance at the session of United States court.

Embry's Return from North—Mr. and Mrs. James Embry have returned to this city from a week's stay in Eugene.

Health Body Visitors—Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Haskell of the state public health department are in the city on business, having arrived yesterday.

Central Point Rummage Sale—The Central Point health unit will hold a rummage sale in the Hatfield building of that municipality October 8, 9 and 10.

Visited at Klamath Falls—Miss Friedella Webb, teacher in the public schools, was a week-end visitor in Klamath Falls at the G. L. Black home of that city.

In Portland—Charles G. Gould is spending this week in Portland as delegate to the grand lodge from the Medford chapter of Knights of Pythias.

Business Callers Today—Mrs. P. L. Morrell and Mrs. Baumgartner of Butte Falls are in Medford today shopping and transacting business. Other callers are Mrs. Ethel Olsen of Jacksonville and Harold Gebhardt of Antelope.

Grows Big Turnip—A turnip which rivals Jack's beanstalk in size was on display today at the Chamber of Commerce building. It was grown by N. S. Bennett of the Eden Valley Nursery.

Grange Deputy Here—Arthur Brown, state Grange district deputy, stopped in this city yesterday to confer with local Grangers, and is continuing to Klamath and Lake counties.

Fish in Umpqua—Frank G. Noyes stated last evening that he plans to journey up the North Umpqua, where he will join Frank K. Burnham on a fishing trip. Both men are spending some time in southern Oregon from their homes in San Francisco.

Royal Neighbors Plan Dance—The Royal Neighbors dance, planned for Tuesday, October 13, at the K. P. hall, promises to be a jolly event of the fall season. The party is invited and music will be furnished by Ray Shumaker's orchestra. The affair is in charge of Margaret Franklin.

Visit in Seattle—Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus A. Herr and children arrived in Medford last evening from Seattle, where they will spend two weeks vacation. Mr. Herr, formerly in charge of the Southern Oregon district of the federal prohibition department, with headquarters in this city, is now located in Seattle.

Attend Ashland Kiwanis—Federal Prohibition Administrator W. K. Newell of Portland visited the branch office in charge of Deputy Moon, in the Federal building here today. Mr. Newell and United States District Attorney George Neuner drove to Ashland this forenoon to attend the Kiwanis meeting.

Warning to Anglers—Gates of the Savage Rapids dam will be lowered on October 12 to flush mud and debris from the floodgates. Muddying of the river, which is expected to accompany the lowering of the gates, will ruin fishing for several days, but outside anglers are being advised by letter so that they will not plan their trips to the Rogue during that time.

Firemen Prepare Toys—The Medford firemen are much interested in the fact that the firemen of the Klamath Falls department will spend their spare time on duty repairing discarded and broken toys. The remedied playthings will be given to needy children of that city at Christmas. Donations of broken and outgrown toys are asked of Klamath Falls residents. Small contributions of money to purchase glue, paint and mending materials are also asked for.

INJURED ASHLAND WOMAN IS BETTER

Mrs. M. J. Wolcott of Ashland, who sustained injuries in an auto crash Sunday night near Keno, was removed from the Community hospital to her home yesterday. She has two fractured ribs, a badly bruised arm and a few minor cuts.

Mrs. Wolcott, her husband and son, Wallace, who was driving, were returning to their home from Dorris, Calif., when their car collided with a commercial truck bearing an Oregon-California license plate. The truck, according to their report, was on the wrong side of the road.

Mrs. Wolcott was riding in the back seat and was thrown several feet from the car by the impact. The name of the truck driver, who after helping the Wolcotts continued on his way to Klamath Falls, was not obtained. The Wolcotts continued to Ashland by stage.

George Arliss Has Role Holly Picture

George Arliss, greatest character actor of the day, comes to the Holly theater tomorrow in the screen version of his brilliantly successful stage play, "Alexander Hamilton."

This is the second American Mr. Arliss has portrayed on the screen. His first being in "The Millionaire." Needless to say the interpretation of Mr. Arliss is flawless. Showing with the feature will be a Graham McNamee news reel, a reel of football thrills, a musical act with the Russian Art Choir and a Bobby Jones golf reel. Tomorrow night only, the Porter and his band will appear on the Holly stage in a presentation which will exceed any of those presented so far. George Olsen and Douglas Patbanks, Jr.'s, second starring vehicle, "I Like Your Nerve," closes at the Holly with the last performances tonight.

Comedy Drama Will Show at Craterian

The adventures of smooth-tongued traveling salesman are humorously told in the unusual comedy-drama, "Traveling Husbands," coming to the Fox Craterian theater starting tomorrow.

"Traveling Husbands" concerns the playful moods of these boys on their frequent trips away from the home hearth. The picture features a great comedy cast which includes Evelyn Brent and Constance Cummings. Showing for the last time tonight on the screen of the Fox Craterian theater is that comic pair, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, in their first feature length comedy, "Pardon Us."

Tomorrow and Thursday, the Fox Rialto theater is featuring on the screen Lew Ayres and Joan Bennett in the comedy romance, "Many a Slip."

Edmund Lowe in the mystery melodrama, "The Spider," is playing for the last time tonight on the screen of the Fox Rialto.

The political affairs of the state and nation have always been attractive to Judge McNary, and although he took an active part therein, he never sought honors for himself until he was elected district judge, several years ago, in the district formerly comprised of Marion, Linn, Polk, Yamhill and Tillamook counties.

The judge has not been in Medford for six years and sees a wonderful growth and development in the city and valley.

Dr. J. M. Keene is an old-time personal and political friend of Judge McNary, and they enjoyed a visit this morning, talking over old times.

NEUNER AND DAY HERE FOR TERM FEDERAL COURT

Leading interest to the present session of the U. S. district court for southern Oregon is the presence of U. S. Marshall John L. Day, familiarly known throughout the state as Jack, and the equally colorful George Neuner, United States district attorney.

To watch the quiet mannered and affable Mr. Day converse with friends in the federal building corridors forenoon one could scarcely realize that only last Friday he returned to Portland from a 6000-mile airplane trip to Santa Cruz, Mexico, and Mexico City, with a federal prisoner. Altogether Mr. Day has given to be an airplane addict, having traveled altogether over 12,000 miles by plane in the past year or so.

Nevertheless he is glad to be back in Oregon on the ground again. His trip to Mexico was to bring back to Portland the former bank employee of that city who years ago embezzled $12,000, and fled to Mexico where he had resided until recently, married again and had children and established a splendid business and character record in that foreign country.

What makes the visit of George Neuner to Medford at this time of especial interest is that he is being mentioned in Portland and elsewhere in the state in Republican circles as a possible candidate for the U. S. senate to succeed Frederick Steiwer, in the coming national and state campaign.

But Mr. Neuner is talkative and affable on any subject but the above, and one might as well try to get him to comment on the political rumormongers, which places him as aspiring to the senatorship, as to interview one of the prunes from his Douglas county orchard. By the way, Mr. Neuner says he harvested a good crop of prunes this season, borrowing $5000 to do so, and if he gets a good price for the prunes, will become very prune-minded.

In addition to the regular personnel of the U. S. district court from Portland, Glenn O. Taylor, who is a resident deputy clerk of that court, is aiding Clerk Kenyon and Frank Hoffman and B. H. Bryant, local residents, are acting as bailiffs.

GIRL STRUCK BY CAR; MRS. BUCKLES DRIVER

Ruth McKinney, 10, daughter of Mrs. J. C. Embry of 123 Tripp street, was struck and knocked down by a car driven by Mrs. A. D. Buckles of Central Point about noon today. The little girl was rushed to the Community hospital for treatment and found to have sustained only minor injuries.

The accident occurred at the corner of Cottage and Main streets and was caused by lack of brakes, according to the report. No report on action to be taken by local officers has been made.
