

ELKS' FIGHT CARD SCHEDULED OCT. 15 IN LOCAL TEMPLE

A tasty dish for Medford fight fans will be served up at the Elks' temple October 15, when Herb Owen will present a card under auspices of the local "herd," featuring Young Doc Snell of Albina, and Bobby Ambrose, Salem, in the top spot at six rounds.

In addition to the main event, Ray Morgan, 147-pound Portland scrapper, and Jerry O'Neil, 147-pounder of Eugene, will trade wallop in a six-round semi-windup that should be check full of action. Two four-round bouts will open the show with Louie Nelson, 125 pounds, of Portland, meeting Buddy Ambrose, Salem, at the same weight, and Curly Johnson, 135, of Albany, pitted with Ray Avery, 135, of Eugene.

Coin does not come so easy in the leather pushing racket these days and Owen has been able to sign up talent that ordinarily would not consider coming here. Young Snell has garnered many good purses in Portland, going on in semi-windups and several times stealing the show. He has fought main events in a number of up-state cities and in Washington.

Bobby Ambrose who meets Snell, is one of the famous fighting twins of Salem. These two boys met in a main event in Salem some time ago and sent the fans home talking to themselves with a great exhibition of cleverness and hard punching. Snell will tip the beam at 124, while Ambrose is a pound heavier. Ray Morgan put his opponent to sleep in the first round when he appeared on the recent card, featuring Jack Dempsey in Portland. O'Neil, who meets Morgan here, is rated as the "Eugene iron man," and can assimilate punishment as well as land a healthy wallop on his own account.

The Buddy Ambrose-Nelson embroglio should prove entertaining as both boys throw leather from the first gong. Johnson and Avery are also touted as willing mixers, the latter packing a kayo punch rated high in his home town of Eugene, where he attends high school.

GRIFFIN CREEK CHILD BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Mary Wilson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson of Griffin creek, was in Medford yesterday afternoon with her mother, having her arm, which she recently broke, removed from a cast.

A neighbor child had lit a match, and held it so close to the little girl's face, that it had frightened her. She fell over backwards, breaking the bone in her right arm just above the wrist. This is the third time her right arm has been broken.

Talks To Parents

CHOOSING A HOME.
By Alice Judson Peale.
The mother of a 12-year-old boy was bemoaning the fact that he was so extremely homesick. He had no friends and apparently no desire to make any. She wondered what could be wrong with him.
It did not occur to her that, when two years ago she had bought the house which had appealed to her by its quaintness and the fact that it was well out of town, she had made herself responsible for his difficulty.
When we choose a home we should think of something more than its charm and the view.
We should remember that children cannot manufacture playmates. Unless there are other children within shouting distance of the front door we can be pretty sure that our youngster will be lonely.
It is not fair to place any child in a situation in which he must use a separate act of initiative every time he wants to find a playmate. Children cannot plan their lives. They cannot be expected to think about what is good for them or even deliberately to pursue something that they want very much. For them, association with others must be casual and effortless.
It is not well even to choose a location that offers only one or two near neighbors, for then the child has no choice, and, if the few children who are available happen to be un congenial, he must decide between unsatisfactory alternatives. He either must play alone or with children whom he does not enjoy.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes a few good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They are extra, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the same Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. Ask at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Student Stenographers Type to Music at High

(This is the third of a series of articles on the various departments in the new high school which will display their work at open house Friday night.)

Any casual visitor walking down the corridors of Medford high school some morning or afternoon would imagine himself approaching a concert by Sousa's military band if he believed his ears.

Martial airs, such as the Marsellaise or Yankee Doodle, float through the halls at all hours of the day as the students in the commercial department learn to typewrite. Mrs. M. C. Jerome, typing instructor, for years has taught rhythm to beginners on the keyboard by having them time their strokes in unison with the beats of the music.

Slow pieces are used first and the tempo gradually stepped up as the typists improve. Visitors at open house this Friday will be treated to an exhibition of typing to music as one of the features of the entertainment for the evening, which lasts from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Enrollment in the typewriting classes, this year is the largest in the history of the school. Forty-one typewriters are kept busy from 8 o'clock in the morning until late afternoon. More than 200 students are taking the beginning or advanced work. One special class of beginners, under Miss LaVere Moe, starts to work an hour before school takes up.

Students in the second year group take up typing of business letters, carbon copies, envelope addressing, tabulating, stencil-cutting, billing and preparing legal papers, all practical work which will be of use to them if they enter the stenographic field. Each student is given the amount of work he is to cover each six weeks' period and is allowed to progress at his own rate under the "contract plan." Thus speedier students are not held back to the level with slower ones.

Exhibits of typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping work done by the students will be on display Friday. Miss Lora Mitchell and Miss Moe, together with Mrs. Jerome, form the commercial department faculty.

Students in the high school Commercial club are planning to earn enough money this year so that they can rent calculating and bookkeeping machines for use in the bookkeeping classes. The school does not own any as yet. Members of the school chamber of commerce, which is being reorganized this year by Miss Moe, are planning to do mimeographing work for downtown business men, making a charge only large enough to meet the expense of doing the work.

OFFICERS AFTER ONE-EYED AUTOS

The state police renewed their light testing campaign here last night and out of 135 auto lights, found 80 defective. An unusually large number with only one light, or none at all, was found.

The state police will stress the campaign against "one-eyed cars," Captain Bown said today, and unless corrective steps are taken by the autoists themselves, direct arrests will be made.

"Defective lights on autos are dangerous, and there is no excuse for it," said Captain Bown. "The car owner cannot help but know it, as it is something he can see for himself."

Many cars were found with no tail light burning.

The state police the past 10 days have been checking up on foreign auto licenses, and compelling the owners to secure Oregon licenses, as soon as their 90-day permit expires.

The light campaign will be conducted in all cities and towns of the county, and will also include some of the main traveled rural routes.

TOMATO THROWING NOT BY STUDENTS

Ripe tomatoes thrown at cars of Marshfield high school rooters after the football game here Saturday were not missiles in the hands of local high school students, officials at the Medford school said yesterday.

An investigation was made of the affair, which is a breach of rules of the state athletic association, and it was found that youngsters outside of school were the throwers. Medford had lost the game 13-6.

According to an agreement in the state association any school whose students are guilty of rowdism may be expelled from the association for the remainder of the year. Art Iverson, student body president, said he was sorry that it had happened but that Medford high students were not to blame.

JUNIORS APPOINT BULLDOG GUARDS

Bulldog guards have been appointed at the Junior high school to see that the school's mascot is escorted to all of the athletic contests, leads all of the school parades, and is present at all rallies.

Members of the guard are heads of the tradition department and note that proper conduct is observed by students at the games. White sweat shirts will be worn by the boys, on which are painted bulldog heads, with the word Guard written below. Each boy will also wear a black and gold hat.

Those selected to guard the animal are Dean Pieper, chief, John Millard, Herb Harper, Ted Lindley, Howard Schren, Bob Rindt, Ed Vailler, Clio Hicks, Lucien Smith, Ed Carter, Jack Henderson, George Hurd, Warren Liggett and Lawrence Hull.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO HOLD DISTRICT CONFERENCE HERE

The Oregon State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will hold its second district conference in southern Oregon in this city Sunday, October 25.

International relations will be the subject of the program to be held at the Hotel Holland. Prof. A. C. Strange of the Southern Oregon Normal school, will deliver the address of the day, immediately after the 1 o'clock dinner. He has promised to touch upon world economics, world peace and disarmament, subjects being constantly presented club members for their consideration.

The morning session will be devoted to round tables and open forum. Mrs. Belle R. Gould of Coquille, state membership chairman, will preside at the membership round table; Mrs. Leona G. Bryant of Coquille, state program chairman, will preside at the program table, and Mrs. Alice Coppin of Medford, state public and international relations chairman, will preside at the public relations round table. Miss Martha Gasch, state president, will preside at the open forum immediately following the round tables.

Music will be furnished by Mrs. Effie Herbert Yeoman, local soloist, and Mrs. Montana Mahan Emerson, who has done much concert work with her violin. It is hoped the state song leader, Mrs. Mae Ross Walker of Portland, will be here.

Clubs included in the southern Oregon district are Bend, Klamath Falls, Medford and Grants Pass, from which representative groups will attend the conference. State officers and members from other clubs throughout the state are expected to be present and participate in the program.

Cost 85 Cents to Put Rheumatic Cripple Back to Work Again

Now Joyously Happy

While all his family looked on in astonishment and all his friends were amazed, one man 'ok all the pain, swelling and agony from his tortured joints in 48 hours and did it with that famous rheumatic prescription known to pharmacists as Allenru—you can do the same.

This powerful yet safe remedy is positively guaranteed to do this—its action is almost magical. Just get one 85 cent bottle of Allenru from Heath's Drug Store or any live drugist—take it as directed and in 48 hours your pains haven't all left you get your money back.

It works just as swiftly with Neuritis, Sciatica, Lumbago and Neuralgia.

JUDGE BRAND TO REPLACE NORTON FOR COURT WEEK

Circuit Judge J. T. Brand of Coos county, is scheduled to hold sessions in this city next week, starting Monday next. Circuit Judge H. D. Norton will preside at Klamath Falls.

Cases scheduled for next week before Judge Brand, are the hearing of arguments of motions in the suit of P. K. Nalley, against Ben E. Har-der, of the First National Bank, as administrator of the estate of the late William A. Pointer.

The damage suit of Mrs. Nettie Marcho against County Physician B. C. Wilson and O. W. (Ike) Dunford, county jailer, for alleged mistreatment will follow. Mrs. Marcho asks $15,000 damages. Her attorney is M. O. Wilkins of Ashland.

Mrs. Marcho alleges in her complaint that the two county aides, in placing her in the women's ward, following her departure from the Sacred Heart hospital, she fell heavily to the sidewalk. The county aides assert that their connection with the affair was as an act of kindness, and placed her in the women's ward until they could locate her husband and remove her to her home.

The suit of Roy Patch against the Pacific Theater Co. (Holly), for alleged injury due to alleged faulty moving picture equipment, is also scheduled for next week.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOMINATES HEADS FOR JUNIOR HIGH

Student body nominations have been made at the local junior high school, with a group of selections having been made by the student council. Others were placed on the list by petition. The election will be held next Wednesday, pupils holding student body tickets being allowed to vote.

Nominations by the council include

Bob Thurman and Helen MacAllister, president; Clio Hicks and Catherine Brandt, vice-president; LeRoy Williams and Nathalie Edwards, secretary; Lewis Campbell and Allen Latham, business manager; Earl Harrison and Helen Stearns, treasurer; Sam Richardson and Leonard Hicks, boys' yell leader; Lola Nichols and Leta Kimball, girls' yell leader; Catherine Robinson, Margaret Purcell and Patricia Young, song queen, and Cyril Sander, Constance Moore and Gwendolyn Krous, pianist.

Names placed on the ballot by petitions were Suzanne Stennett and Donald Field, president; Mary Kerns, song queen and Wauneta Wilson, pianist.

According to the newly adopted constitution, names may be placed on the ballot if signed by 10 per cent of the students, and filed with the student body president three days prior to the election.
