GRIMES PITCHES SUPER BALL FOR 4 TO 2 VICTORY

Spitball Veteran Blanks Athletics for Eight Innings—Earnshaw Erratic in Early Stages of Final Game

SPORTSMAN'S ARK, ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Burleigh Grimes, bewhiskered spitball veteran, with the ninth inning aid of Bill Hallahan, beat the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 2, today to win his second victory for the St. Louis Cardinals in the final game of the world series, and gave the National league its first world championship in five years. The Cardinals won the series, four games to three.

The attendance was only 20,805, smallest in the history of a world series game here. The paid attendance was only $32,165, but it boosted the total receipts for the series well over $1,000,000.

After blanking the A's for eight innings and allowing them but four hits, three of them by Bing Miller,

BURLEIGH GRIMES

Grimes weakened in the ninth, passed Al Simmons and Jimmy Dykes. Bing Miller forced Simmons at second but Grimes was touched for successive singles by Dibs Williams and pinch-hitter Roger Cramer with two out.

Grimes Through.

Cramer's clout to center scored Miller and Dykes, and Grimes, feeling himself through for the day, walked out of the box. Hallahan came in to force Bishop to fly out to Pepper Martin and center field for the final out of the game and series.

The Cardinals, getting to big George Earnshaw when he was erratic in the first three innings, scored their four runs on a total of five hits. George Watkins' home-run onto the roof of the stands in right field, with Andy High on base in the third, was the last clout made off Earnshaw up to his retirement in favor of a pinch hitter in the eighth. Grimes allowed seven hits, fanned six, and walked five.

HIGHWAY BONDS TO GIVE RELIEF WORK IN WINTER

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 10.—(AP)—A formal call for bids on the $1,000,000 bond of bonds offered to finance unemployment relief in Oregon this winter, was issued by the state highway commission at a meeting with other road interests here Friday. At the meeting here Friday of the highway commission with the forest service and bureau of public roads, $1,715,000 of forest, highway, state and county funds were allocated to various sections of the state. This money will be spent in grading or surfacing 146.7 miles of highway under the 1932 forest highway program.

MANCHURIA WAR CLOUDS THICKEN ON CHINA HOLIDAY

Military Display Marks Observance of Republic's Birth—Japs Deplore Misleading of United States

SHANGHAI, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A report from Chinchow today said a Japanese airplane had bombed and destroyed the railway junction at Taonan, Manchuria. Other planes were said by Chinese sources to be reconnoitering over China proper in the vicinity of Tangshan, north of Peiping.

(By the Associated Press)

The sinister cloud threatening the peace of the Orient as the result of the Japanese occupation of Manchuria thickened quietly today despite moves by the United States and the League of Nations to dissipate it.

China observed the twentieth anniversary of the birth of its republic with an impressive military display and with an atmosphere in its capital that was in no sense a holiday air. Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese president, pleaded for national unity and strength to resist foreign invasion.

Says U. S. Missed

An official of the Japanese war office, informed that President Hoover's council was summoned to meet yesterday by the California-Oregon Power company. This land had been bought from Eugene Spencer of Ashland. The tract will be used as a reservoir for the power plant site if the company eventually receives permission to start its proposed program which will involve expenditure of about $20,000,000 over a long period of years.

On the strength of a new appeal by China, the League of Nations council was summoned to meet, in urgent session next Tuesday. Alejandro Lerroux, president of the council, addressed an urgent appeal to both China and Japan urging them to avoid aggravation of the situation.

Anti-Japanese sentiment simmered as the minister of that country to China went from Shanghai to Nanking on an imperial warship to present a strongly worded note to the Chinese government warning it to stop the hostile demonstrations or take the consequences.

The Japanese minister did not attend the celebration at Nanking as he previously had announced he intended to do. The destroyed was delayed by fog in the Yangtze river and did not reach Nanking until after the formalities.

Suppression Demonstrations

The Chinese government took extra steps to suppress anti-Japanese demonstrations. Extra guards were stationed in the capital and anti-Japanese posters were torn from the walls of buildings before the Japanese ambassador arrived.

A Japanese cruiser arrived at Shanghai and 200 members of its landing force were sent to guard the Japanese concession there. Altogether there were twenty Japanese fighting ships in Chinese waters.
