

BUTTER AND EGGS HOLDING FIRM ON CURRENT DEMAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 14.—(AP)—With continued good demand for current butter as well as for storage goods, market for butter in general is reflecting a rather fair degree of strength locally. In fact throughout the country there is practically no change either in price or trading trend.

Make of butter is likewise showing little, if any, material change for recent days. Demand locally continues best for the 80 to 90 scores with only passing call for the 91s and better.

Many complaints are being made in the trade that the state grading law is being openly violated and that considerable undergrade stock is passing to consumers as extra.

Butterfat situation is firm. Continued strength is reflected generally in the market for eggs locally and in a national way. Late receipts show little change as to volume.

Increased strength is noted in the market for live chickens. In some quarters advanced prices are being freely offered. While the local market for turkeys is getting its full requirements of small sized birds, there are unfiled orders available for large stuff. Shipping demand is just starting.

Demand for country killed calves is weaker with some slight reaction in the price. Hogs are about steady while lambs are in firm call.

Martin McCaskey, "The Jackrabbit of Wards Creek," in the county jail serving a ten day sentence for failure to send his three minor children to school, is still in durance vile, but, according to the county school superintendent's office, the three children are still out of school. Welfare agencies provided the McCaskey flock with necessities, it is said, but they are still absent. Just what will be done about the matter is a problem for the district attorney's office, and it is felt that by the time McCaskey has finished his ten day term, he will feel kinder towards education. No definite action will be taken until then. McCaskey, one of three heads of families in the county refusing to send children to school, was brought before Justice H. D. Reed and given a ten day sentence, and paroled, on condition that he send his children to school the following Monday. When he failed to do so, the state police and sheriff's office started hunting for him. For two nights McCaskey hid out near his home. On the second night he was apprehended near midnight in a clump of bushes, when his wife went to see him and carried a lantern. The ambushed officers followed her.

OPTIMISM VOICED BY BUSINESSMEN AT LIONS' LUNCH

The depression is over—so say W. S. Bolger, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store; Wm. Warner, postmaster; Henry Fluhrer of the Colonial bakery; C. T. Baker, secretary of the chamber of commerce; and D. O. Frederick of Sneider's Dairy and Produce company. They brought their message of optimism to the Lions club today at the regular luncheon at the Hotel Holland and brought proof of their statements in selling statistics and a map prepared by an expert of the national chamber of commerce.

The map, which traces business conditions from 1894 through 1931, was prepared years ago and shows that depressions occur every 27 years. It offers no solution for their but marks 1931 as a low level from which business turns again to the upward trend.

The map was explained by Mr. Baker, who acted as master of ceremonies, after being introduced by the program chair, Clayton Isaacs. The first speaker on the program was Henry Fluhrer, who emphasized the demand for color and style in all products and selling programs. Color, he told his audience, has entered the bathroom, the kitchen, conquered bread wrappers and men's pajamas. The merchant who has realized this change is doing business, he declared. Even the grocer, who is now reaping profits from tomato juice.

Prosperity signs read in the postal receipts graph were presented by Mr. Warner. An increase of 12.8 per cent over last year was realized in late summer of 1931, he reported. Mr. Frederick, agreeing with Mr. Fluhrer emphasized the profits to be realized from a new, colorful and quality product. He mentioned the popular and ice cream specials under this heading. "We can't sell near beer any more," he stated, "and you know why. So we had to think up a new product."

Mr. Bolger voiced a slap at all calamity howlers, laying the heaviest blame in the recent long faced era on to them and promised the Lions that "Old Man Depression" is licked. The meeting closed with the club singing "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag and Smile."

We didn't have any spending money and didn't go any place to spend it. "Those were the days when women wore red flannels and black corsets," C. I. Hutchison, local merchant contributed. "They didn't spend 20 cents then where they spend dollars today. Had they gone in for any luxuries their troubles would have been mountains, where we have mole hills. It is all a state of mind."

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned"

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be. There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring. "I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago. "In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay." When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it. After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars. FIFTEEN DIFFERENT BODY TYPES $430 to $640 (F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Taxes and spare tire extra at low cost. Conventional economical terms can be arranged through your Ford dealer.)
