ACROPLANE GIVES THRILLS OF REAL FLIGHT, SAY FANS

An acroplane, designed for student training and manufactured by the Eyerley Aircraft company of Salem, is on exhibition here today and attracting much attention and creating as much fun, according to reports from the Earhart lot on South Central, where it is being demonstrated. The plane was brought here yesterday by George Miller, owner, and Harold Shangle, brother of J. Verne Shangle, local photographer. The controls are complete just as those on other planes and although it is a stationary machine the sensation realized while it is in action is "also quite the same."

It is electrically operated and complies with specifications of the aeronautical department of the United States Department of Commerce. Although designed for training purposes it is proving equally popular as a medium of amusement.

Many people were visiting the plane this morning and enjoying the thrills of flying "while still on earth."

Plans to Entertain "Oregon" Group Here Progressing

Mother and fathers of students attending the University of Oregon, alumni of the school and many other members of local society interested in the university are awaiting the arrival here next week of Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the university, and his party of Oregon Mothers and Dads and members of his staff.

A banquet has been planned in their honor for Tuesday evening at the Hotel Medford. It will be followed by several group meetings.

In the party will be Dr. Hall, Mrs. F. W. Bond of Pendleton, president of the Oregon Mothers; Mrs. Walter M. Cook, Portland, honorary president of the Mothers; Paul T. Shaw, Portland, former president of the Oregon Dads; Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the university; Mrs. Paul Ager, secretary to the president and executive secretary of the Mothers club; and Alfred W. Powers, dean of the university extension school.

A cordial invitation is extended to interested persons to attend the banquet, and mothers and fathers of "Oregon" students are especially urged to be present.

Mrs. R. E. Carley is president of the local branch of Oregon Mothers. All persons planning to attend are asked to call reservations to Mrs. E. E. Gore, phone 151, or Mrs. Allen Drury, 1448.

PRINTERS' WIVES FORM AUXILIARY TO LOCAL UNION

A ladies' auxiliary of the Medford Typographical union was organized at a meeting conducted last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Murray at 734 West Fourteenth street, with nearly all wives of union members in attendance.

Mrs. Murray was named temporary chairman, and introduced various proposed plans to be followed by the organization. The keynote around which the auxiliary is to function is to promote the use of the union label, and the purchasing of articles which bear that stamp.

Talks arousing enthusiasm were given by Maynard Bush and W. E. Rowley, members of the Medford union.

A committee, including Mrs. Kenneth Murray, Mrs. Emmett Gillings and Mrs. James W. Grigsby, was named to complete organization. The group is meeting today.

The next meeting has been announced for Thursday evening, October 22, at the home of Mrs. A. F. Stennett, 325 South Riverside ave.

WAR ON COLDS IS PLAN FOR PUPILS IN CITY'S SCHOOLS

The cough, cough, cough which has echoed through local school buildings for many winters, is going to be absent this year, if the campaign to start in the very near future is a success. Many programs have been inaugurated to end "Old Man Depression," but it's "Old Man Colds" the health department of the schools is after.

Miss Ruth Swanson, public school nurse, will head the campaign and there are going to be prizes. The room in each elementary school which has the lowest percentage of colds will be given the equivalent of a four day holiday as reward for the honor.

A list of health hints for prevention of colds has been prepared for distribution. The campaign will open with the beginning of the next six weeks' term.

LEGALIZED BEER WILL BE SOUGHT BY UNION LABOR

Federation Reaffirms Stand In Convention—Repeal Volstead Act Fails As Does Job Insurance.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15.—(AP) William Green today was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor by acclamation. He was opposed and his nomination and election was attended by wild outbursts of enthusiasm by delegates.

Frank Duffy was unanimously elected first vice-president.

Martin F. Ryan was re-elected treasurer, and Frank Morrison, secretary.

Seven vice-presidents were re-elected.

By a vote of about two to one, the delegates voted to hold next year's convention in Cincinnati.

By Harold Turnbull.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15.—(AP) The American Federation of Labor today reaffirmed its stand for legalization of 2.75 per cent beer in the coming session of congress.

Two motions which attempted to obtain the federation's support for repeal of the Volstead act and the 18th amendment were defeated and the executive council's recommendation for beer was adopted without debate.

Edward Flore, international president of the Hotel Workers' and Beverage Dispensers' Alliance, first moved to substitute for the executive council's report resolutions advocating repeal of the 18th amendment.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 15.—(AP) Elbowed out of the spotlight yesterday by a spirited fight over unemployment insurance, the prohibition question was brought to the platform again today by the resolutions committee for action by the American Federation of Labor. The convention amid scenes of disorder went on record as opposed to the establishment of compulsory unemployment insurance.

ANNUAL MEETING REDMEN'S LODGE

Annual fall meeting of the Redmen and Pochontas association will be held this year in Medford on Saturday evening and Sunday, Oct. 17th and 18th.

There will be five great chiefs trailing from Portland and about twenty members from Klamath Falls. Large delegations are scheduled from Weed, Yreka and McCloud, Calif.

The local council will exemplify the degree work for about 15 pale-faces Saturday evening.

There will be a meeting Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the Redmen hall with a basket lunch at noon. A program has been planned for both meetings.

This promises to be one of the largest meetings ever held by the I. O. R. M. in Medford.

Our prediction is that the depression will be over long before any two experts agree as to what caused it.

PUFFY

So Big Chief Puffy now has a tribe—a tribe of warriors bold. One look at them would serve to make your very blood turn cold. They peek from every tree and bush, their weapons held on high—"In war the idea seems to be," says Puffy, "to do or die!"

ARSONISTS FACE SENTENCE FRIDAY TO STATE PRISON

Sentence will be passed tomorrow morning by Circuit Judge J. T. Brand of Marshfield, upon Mrs. Ann Wright, mother of two boys, her husband, L. B. Wright, and Ivan Robbins and wife, for their confessed setting fire to a dwelling for the purpose of defrauding an insurance company. The law provides a penalty from three to seven years in state prison.

Each of the quartet made a complete signed confession, detailing their role. The crime was committed September 14 last, four days after they had taken out an insurance policy for $3000. The house was a small structure on the Springbrook road in the Buckshot Hill area, owned by Samuel Maxon, now a resident of California. The house was first filled with goods and chattels, some purchased on the easy payment plan from local firms.

The night before the blaze, valuable goods and keepsakes were removed and cached. In the early morning, a kerosene soaked tarpaulin, and kindling were spread throughout the house and set ablaze.

Wright, and the two Robbins' express no emotion, at the fate in store for them, but Mrs. Wright, at the thought of her two young sons, becomes hysterical.

BOURBONS PLANNING STATE MEETING HERE

Along with the news coming from Portland that the Democratic party leaders of Oregon are planning to put a full state and county ticket in the field in every county for the next national election, and that to assist in carrying this plan out, Carl Donough, state chairman, announces that regional meetings will be held. Such meetings, he says, will be held in Medford and Portland, following ones held in Pendleton, October 24, and in Eugene, Nov. 7.

St. Mark's card party tomorrow at 2 p. m. Pivot and progressive bridge and 500 played. Prizes and refreshments. Public invited. 35c.

MUSIC PLAN WINS LARGE FOLLOWING IN LOCAL SOCIETY

The interest being manifested in Civic Music Week is very gratifying to those planning the campaign, and more and more do they feel assured of the success of the movement.

The president of the Southern Oregon Civic Music association, William Isaacs, is very happy over the enthusiasm of the large number of people who during the next week will lend their assistance in securing members in this association. It should be remembered that there will be no tickets sold to these concerts at any time and only those holding memberships in the association will be able to attend the concerts given by some of the outstanding artists in the music world. Memberships can be secured next week only. After the week closes the applicant must wait until the next year's campaign to join. Everybody wishes to join the association at the proper time—so take stock of your household. Those wanting to enjoy these great concerts may sign up for membership either by applying personally at campaign headquarters, at the Chamber of Commerce, which will open Monday, October 19, or by phoning, asking for campaign assistance to call at their homes.

Further information will be given during the coming week before the
