ANOTHER LINCOLN BIRTHPLACE FOUND 16 NOW RECORDED

HODGENVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—(AP) Louis A. Warren, Lincoln biographer of Fort Wayne, Ind., in an address here today declared the discovery of another supposed birthplace of Abraham Lincoln raised the number to sixteen.

Judge Harvey H. Smith, of New York recently stated the emancipator was not born in a one room log cabin on Nolin creek in Kentucky, but in a comfortable house on Milk creek, 25 miles distant. "There have been fifteen other attempts to create public opinion on a certain spot where individuals, groups, and even whole states, have claimed Abraham Lincoln was born," said Warren. Citizens of Hardin county (Kentucky) have for years insisted Lincoln was born on one of four definitely located sites within the present boundaries. "The project contemplated by Judge Smith is another attempt to locate the birthplace in old Hardin county. All of these birthplace projects, including the present effort on behalf of Milk Creek, necessarily imply the illegitimacy of Abraham Lincoln."

The biographer referred to a statement by Lincoln that he was born "February 12, 1809, in the then Hardin county, Kentucky, at a point within the now county of Larue, a mile and a half from where Hodgenville is now located."

REIMER SOLVES MYSTERIOUS ILL OF LOCAL TREES

Spotted Leaf Caused By Using Alkali Water In Spray Is Word To Rogue River Traffic Association.

The mystery of the Spotted Leaf, a disease affecting trees in orchards of the Talent district and Sams Valley and other places of this section, has been solved by Prof. F. C. Reimer of the Southern Oregon Experiment Station, and demonstration thereof was made at the meeting of the Rogue River Traffic association this noon. The discovery is the most important of the year in orchard research. The Spotted Leaf has been a puzzle to scientists of the Oregon State college and the northwest, since 1920, but is no longer. It cost local growers money and worry, and was first blamed on plant diseases.

The Spotted Leaf, according to Prof. Reimer, is caused by using water for spraying that contains alkali, and used in the treatment of the trees. The alkali water causes the arsenic to separate from the lead, and soiled or burn the leaves. The "spotted leaf" caused under-nourishment of the fruit, and resultant small sizes.

Well Water Used—Four orchards in the Talent district, that used water from this source, were affected, and the same condition existed in an orchard in the Sams Valley district. The Talent district well was deep. A shallow well will be dug on the property and used next year.

Prof. Reimer stated that many tests were made before the trouble was traced to the water used. He said the condition was not general, and the discovery did not mean that alkali prevailed in valley wells.

He said that the cure for "spotted leaf" was simple. Be sure spray water contains no alkali.

In illustration, Prof. Reimer poured phenolphthalein into a glass of water containing Medford city water, and into a glass containing artesian well water. The latter turned pink, and the former stayed and turned milky white.

Will Tell League—Prof. Reimer will address a meeting of the Fruitgrowers league in the near future and explain the "spotted leaf" cause and cure.

It was announced at the meeting that executive committee of the chamber of commerce had requested the Department of Agriculture for two more year test trains out of this city this year, one via Omaha and the other via New Orleans.

Word was received from the Department of Commerce, that Argentina had ordered an increase of 10 per cent ad valorem on apple imports; that Great Britain was watching closely arsenate percentage violations, that Poland had not changed her embargo on apples, and that Rumania was standing firm in the embargo on California Jonathans.

INSANITY PRICE OF CIVILIZATION SAYS DR. MAYO

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(AP) The price of civilization is an enormous amount of insanity, says Dr. Charles H. Mayo, of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn.

In an address last night before the American College of Surgeons on "Adding years to your life," he said: "The world has moved ahead so fast in material civilization that man has almost got behind in his power of adaptation. Every other hospital bed in the United States is for mentally afflicted, insane, idiotic, feeble minded, or senile persons. There is an enormous number who are almost fit for the asylum."

"Many people live to an age when they are dependent and senile. Only 5 per cent of our people, at the age of 65, have independent means. I would rather die when my brain fails than to live on."
