CAPONE IS GIVEN 11 YEAR TERM

GANGSTER KING IS STUNNED BY HEAVY PENALTY

$150,000 Fines and Costs Prosecution Also Levied In Tax Evasion Case—Bond Plea Is Refused

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today ordered that Al Capone be held at the county jail until Monday to permit his attorneys to seek bond in the United States circuit court of appeals.

Judge Wilkerson had previously ordered the gangster taken to Leavenworth penitentiary immediately to start serving his 11-year sentence for violating income tax laws.

Judge Wilkerson, denying defense motions for bail, for a writ of supersedeas and for a stay of sentence, ordered the defendant remanded immediately to the custody of the U. S. marshal, to be taken to prison. Defense attorneys asked him to instruct the marshal not to take Capone to Leavenworth immediately.

The court replied he had no further instructions to the marshal and with a gruff, "that's all," walked out of the courtroom.

Marshal Henry Laubenheimer took the gangster to the county jail and said his office would follow its usual custom and start for Leavenworth with Capone tonight.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Orders for filing a lien for $51,496 against the palatial winter home of Al Capone at Palm Island, near Miami Beach, were issued today at the office of the United States collector of internal revenue.

By Victor Hackler

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—(AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, underworld czar of Chicago, was sentenced today to 11 years imprisonment for violating income tax laws and ordered taken tonight to start his term in Leavenworth penitentiary.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson not only passed a sentence more than twice as severe as had ever been given an income tax evader before, but he denied every motion which would have given the big gangster his freedom while the case was appealed.

$150,000 Fines and Cost

In addition to the sentences, 10 years in the Leavenworth prison and one year in the county jail, Capone was ordered to pay a $50,000 fine and the costs of prosecution, estimated at about $100,000.

The court assessed the maximum possible penalties on the five counts on which Capone was convicted, but cut the penalty from the possible maximum of 17 years by ruling that reveral terms should run concurrently.

As the gangster, downcast and apparently dazed by the sentence, was led from the courtroom he was handed a demand for taxes and immediately afterward a lien on his $40,000 Florida estate and on three safety deposit boxes in the Equitable Trust company, a bank on the south side of Chicago.

Curses Collector

Capone appeared to lunge at Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue E. P. Henthorn as he was served with the legal papers. His face grew livid and he cursed. Two deputy marshals held him.

Last Saturday night, when the jury returned its verdict convicting the gang leader on five counts and not guilty on 18, there was some doubt as to which side seemed most elated. But there was no doubt today. Capone, his huge shoulders hunched forward, was glum. His attorneys were almost frantic in their efforts to obtain his freedom pending appeal.

U. S. District Attorney E. Q. Johnson, who directed the prosecution and asked the jury in his final plea to convict "this man who tried to set himself above the law," smiled broadly but refused to comment. It was the high points of his three-year drive against Chicago gangsters.

LINDBERGHS HOME FROM PLANE TRIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The Lindberghs, after flying across the continent in 39 hours and 12 minutes, ran into delay last night at the very end of their journey home from China—but it was automobile, not airplane, trouble that caused it.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh, flying from Rock Springs, Wyo. put their borrowed plane down at Newark airport at 9:28 o'clock last night.

Two motorcars from the home of the late Senator Dwight Morrow were at the field. The Lindberghs entered one, while their baggage was placed in the other. Their car, however, blew a tire. The fliers transferred to the other machine and departed for the Morrow home at Englewood.

Failure to file a return on taxable income will cost Al "Scarface" Capone, Chicago gang czar eleven years to life in Leavenworth and over $150,000 in fines and costs.

ATTORNEYS BLOCK ATTEMPT TO QUIZ TRUNK MURDERESS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Awaking from a fitful sleep, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd faced questioners anew in the county jail today but she had nothing to say about the double killing of her two friends, Agnes Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson.

She had rested eight hours since midnight, when detectives, blocked by her silence in every attempt to wring a story from her, sent her to jail following her arrest in a mortuary last night.

"My attorneys ask me not to say anything," she replied quietly to all questions when police sent her to bed.

"I'm only holding on by the barest thread," she said. "I am really sick. My arm has pained me so I can scarcely endure it.

"But the police will not let me rest. I'm not a fugitive from justice and I'm not a criminal. I did the only thing any decent woman could do. I should not be treated like this."

Josee Disappointed by Missing Football Game

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Thud of foot against pigskin will go unheard by the petite Josee Laval, her desire to see a gridiron struggle having been thrown for a loss.

The daughter of the French premier today missed the train which was to take her to Princeton because she was serving as interpreter for her father and President Hoover.

Mlle. Josee had intended to see the Princeton-Navy contest. An automobile waited outside t... White House as train time came and went.

President Hoover and Premier Laval were before the talkies.

Each remark that President Hoover made to the French premier and vica versa was repeated by Mlle. Josee and Mrs. Hoover.

The talkies took too long.

The French girl apparently was keenly disappointed at the turn of events.

She walked nervously about a room in the second story of the Edge home, appearing now and then to glance out the window.

LEAGUE CALLS ON JAPAN TO RETIRE FROM MANCHURIA

Removal Troops by November 16 Is Word—Counter Proposal by Japs Rejected — Briand Is Conciliatory

TOKYO, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Official circles today intimated Japan would consider seriously withdrawing from the League of Nations if the League of Nations council, in its discussions of the Manchurian question, "refuses to support the principle of sacredness of treaties."

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 24.—(AP)—By a vote of 13 to 1 the council of the League of Nations today called upon Japan to retire its troops to the Manchurian railway zone by November 16. The single opposing vote was cast by the Japanese representative.

The council took this action after rejecting Japan's counter-proposal by a similar vote.

The counter-proposal contained "mysterious fundamental points" which Japan insisted should be settled in advance by direct negotiations with China. Exactly what these "fundamental points" were was not explained.

The technical validity of the council's demand that Japan complete evacuation by November 16 remains to be considered, as the action was not unanimous, but the Japanese government was notified of the council's position.

After the vote by a roll call, Aristide Briand, chairman of the council, made a conciliatory speech designed to encourage good will on the part of Japan and to hasten execution of the council's decision.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 24.—(AP)—A prison sentence of a year and a day was suspended in federal court here yesterday after being given Carroll Doty Hulbert, former employe of the First National bank here, charged with embezzlement. He was fined $1500 and the prison sentence suspended upon payment of the fine.

Hulbert, a fugitive since 1916, admitted the embezzlement of more than $12,000 from the bank between 1910 and 1914. He was arrested in Mexico recently and crossed the American line voluntarily after Mexico refused extradition. He said his responsible job with a large Mexican oil company is awaiting him.

CONFISCATION OF AUTO IS ORDERED

An order was signed this morning by Circuit Judge J. T. Brand, following arguments on a motion, directing that the auto allegedly used by Lee Smith and Archie Rock, in the transportation of liquor be confiscated. Smith and Lee were arrested September 3, last, following a wild chase by the state between this city and Central Point, in which the fugitives dumped alcohol out. Owing to the inability of the state police to identify the driver, the case hung fire. The court ruling today, gives the state police the right to confiscate the auto for transportation of liquor. The case against Rock is pending. Smith wanted his auto back.

Mrs. Judd Out of Hiding

Ending a dramatic five day hunt, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, sought in connection with the gun-and-hatchet murders of Mrs. Agnes Le Roi and Hedvig Samuelson in Phoenix, Ariz., surrendered to Los Angeles authorities. The bodies of the two victims were found in trunks in a Los Angeles depot. The arrow in this Associated Press telephoto indicates the wounded hand of Mrs. Judd, from which a bullet was extracted. Left to right: Dr. W. C. Judd, husband of the suspect; Mrs. Judd, and her attorney, Richard Cantillon.

SELF DEFENSE PLEA ADVANCED BY MRS. JUDD

Battle in Apartment Related —Wound in Hand Forced Surrender Is Claim — Dyed Dress in Store

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 24—(AP)—Informed that Mrs. Ruth Judd, accused of the Phoenix trunk murders, told authorities today in Los Angeles a wealthy Phoenix business man "knows all about it," the county attorney's office sent an investigator to invite J. J. Halloran, Phoenix lumberman and sportsman, to come to the office to make a statement.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—(AP)—With a story of self-defense on her lips, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, 26-year-old physician's wife and minister's daughter, was in the hands of the law today, charged with murdering her two former friends, Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Ann Le Roi, whose bodies she sent here from Phoenix, Ariz., in trunks.

The frail and attractive young woman surrendered to her attorneys last night and was arrested while mapping her plans for a defense.

"We ask that her case be not prejudged," read a statement issued by her attorneys, Louis P. Russell and Richard Cantillon. "It is our opinion she has a defense well recognized in law."

Wounded in Hand.

Fear of lockjaw developing from a bullet wound she bore in her hand, led to her surrender. It is on that wound, she intimated, that she will base her self-defense plea—that she shot the two women to protect herself.

At the Georgia street receiving hospital last night, Mrs. Judd underwent an operation for the removal of the bullet.

"Oh, doctor, I gave myself up because it hurt so much," she mumbled on the operation table, apparently intending her remarks for her husband, Dr. William C. Judd. "I was afraid of lockjaw."

After the effects of the anaesthetic had passed, Mrs. Judd was self-possessed, expressing no regrets for the acts charged to her, but at times she became almost hysterical.

"I had gone to the girls' home to remonstrate with Miss Samuelson for some nasty things she had said about Mrs. Le Roi," Mrs. Judd was quoted by her attorneys as saying.

Pistol Produced.

Miss Samuelson got hold of a pistol and shot Mrs. Judd in the left hand, according to the woman's story.

"I struggled with her and the gun fell," Mrs. Judd's story, as related by her attorneys, continued. "Mrs. Le Roi grabbed an ironing board and started to strike me with it.

"In the struggle I got hold of the gun and Sammie got shot.

ECONOMY POLICY OF GOVERNMENTS DISCUSSION TOPIC

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—President Hoover and Premier Haval this morning concluded their discussions of how the United States and France can expedite world economic recovery.

A brief concluding talk before 9:30 a. m., was participated in by Secretary Stimson, of the state department and under-Secretary Mills of the treasury, who also were present in the long conference at the White House last night.

Shortly thereafter, the premier—accompanied by Mr. Mills—returned to the home of Walter E. Edge, ambassador to France, his official residence.

Secretary Stimson remained with the president.

The premier's daughter, Josee, did not leave with her father but stayed for a while with Mrs. Hoover.

President Hoover and Premier Laval agree their conversations here deal "solely" with policies their governments can develop to expedite world economic recovery.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 24—(AP)—Richard B. Sheridan of Augusta, Ga., regular right end of the Army football team, was in a hospital, his neck reported broken, as a result of an injury in the final period of the game with Yale today.

Captain Walter H. Wells said Sheridan's condition was grave.

PORTLAND WHALE DIES BY HARPOON; HUMANERS ANGRY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The city's whale is dead, a harpoon through his back.

Officials of the Oregon Humane society announced they would immediately ask for the arrest of Ed Lessard accused of having hurled the heavy spear into the marine creature, which on Columbus day appeared in Oregon slough, a branch of the Columbia river here.

Every day since the whale's appearance thousands have flocked to the water's edge to watch his antics in his narrow self-defined limits.

Reports to the Humane society officer said Lessard, who described himself as a "whaler of the old school," dealt the fatal blow early this morning and plans to land the whale and place it on exhibition, charging an admission price.

The whale was the only one known to have ventured inland, 114 miles up the fresh water Columbia.

Borah Steals Spotlight From Laval and Hoover

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24. — (AP) — Whether he intended it or not, Senator Borah found today that he had projected himself into the Hoover-Laval negotiations with such unexpected and terrific force to all but take the spotlight away from the White House.

While the president and the French premier were talking yesterday in the Lincoln study, with only a six-line statement to tell the world what it was about, Mr. Borah spoke for publication at great length and in great detail, even suggesting a revision of the Versailles treaty and readjustment of the Polish corridor.

The words of the foreign relations committee chairman, reproduced in the newspapers, were read with amazement by many officials who had been counselling against any public expression just now on these delicate subjects. From the front pages of several of the papers read in Washington the massive features of the senator looked out at readers, high and low, while the photos of Mr. Hoover and Mr. Laval were discovered in subordinate places.

Some of these papers also prominently quoted M. Laval as cautioning the French newspapermen who came over with him not to take too seriously the words of a senator who spoke only for himself, and as warning that he did not come across the sea to engage in "poletica" with Mr. Borah.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 24.—Scene in box stall in Rogers home: Secretary of War Hurley eating Rogers "fodder."

"Mr. Hurley, this is not for publication, but should the Philippines have their freedom?" "Will, this is a good administration, you see if it ain't." "Now, Pat," you was in both China and Japan. Just what is their troubles?" "I'll tell you, Will; Hoover is a very warm, sympathetic man when you know him." "Mr. Secretary, will that Russian plan work?" "Listen, Will, they haven't got a soul they can run against us."

So I just fed him and slept him for nothing. The next cabinet officer pays his board.
