

GRANGE APPROVES RADICAL CHANGE COUNTY OFFICES

Contrary to recommendations made by the Pomona Grange committee, five of the six tax-reducing resolutions introduced at the Bellevue meeting shortly before noon yesterday, were adopted by the 250 Pomona members in attendance. The measure was voted on in the afternoon, with Albert Straus of Gold Hill, Pomona Grange master in charge, it was reported last evening.

With the committee opposing the resolution that the offices of the watermaster and county engineer be merged, the move was approved by the majority when voted in the session.

Pomona members also voted in favor of the removal of Dr. B. C. Wilson and one county nurse, and recommended the employing of a county physician for a retaining fee of $100 per month. No action was taken on the abolishment of county aid to the Humane society. Two votes were taken on the resolution of abolishing the positions of road supervisors with county commissioners to do the work. One report was negative, and the other affirmative.

Until times improve, the Grangers thought it best to eliminate the office of county home demonstration agent, contrary to the committee's report.

Although drastic action was taken to bring about tax-reduction, the votes recorded express only the sentiment of county Grangers. Pomona Grange is composed of representatives from various county units, and meets once a month.

WILLIAMS CREEK, Ore., Oct. 24.—(Special)—Williams Grange No. 399 held its regular monthly meeting Oct. 17. Pot luck supper was served at 7:30. Grange was called to order by Master George Fields with all officers present except one.

There were 37 members present. The grange had 105 guests, eight granges being represented: Applegate, Murphy, Central Point, Redwood Highway, Rogue River Valley, Fruitvale, Abernathy and Williams.

After the business the meeting was turned over to the Central Point delegation who initiated six candidates of the Williams Grange and one from Applegate Grange in the first and second degree work.

Drill team of 16 gave the flower "H." This team took third prize at the state Grange at Medford. After the team work, remarks were made by masters present. Lecturer Lilly gave two readings, "The Slave of St. Michael," and "A Scotch Song." The Hansen orchestra gave several numbers and the evening ended with dancing. The hall was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and laurel berries.

RELIEF SOUGHT IN DAMAGE SUIT JURY COSTS ON COUNTY

As the result of a number of damage suits in this county the past year, between litigants wherein the county was put to the expense of paying the jury, in a private quarrel, it is highly probable that the county court, backed by civic organizations, will insist that the next session of the state legislature pass a law, placing the cost of jury service upon the shoulders of those chiefly concerned. It is estimated that the cost to Jackson county yearly runs between $15,000 and $20,000—more in lean, than prosperous years.

Requiring litigants in damage suits and other civil actions to post a bond insuring the county of payment for jury service, is favored by the county court, as a means to stop the drain.

In the damage suit of Mrs. Nettie Marcho against Dr. B. C. Wilson, county physician, and O. W. (Ike) Dunford, county jailer, the bill for the jury will approximate $170, with costs for witnesses, aggregating $125.00. The present law provides the county pay the juror's fees. The same costs prevail in the Patch damage suit against the Holly theatre.

In the Marcho case, the payment of witnesses rests with the plaintiff who has no funds, so the witnesses are left holding the sack. The county, however, foots the bill for the jury.

In both the Marcho and Patch sections, the jury after short deliberation, denied damages to either. In both these actions, the filing of an affidavit of prejudice against Circuit Judge Norton, by the plaintiffs necessitated paying expenses of a jurist from an outside county.

A number of the counties of the state are urging the passage of a law placing the costs of the jury upon the losing litigant.

NEW GRAND JURY DRAWN TOMORROW

The October term of the circuit court will start tomorrow, Circuit Judge H. D. Norton presiding, with the drawing of a new grand jury and the impaneling of the petit jury. The grand jury will be selected from the first seven names drawn from the jury box.

Among the matters scheduled to come before the grand jury is an investigation of two fatal auto accidents on Jackson county highways within the past three months, the shooting of two men, evidently by hunters, an investigation of the county health over roads and fences, and a number of assault cases and one case of non-support.

WHEAT PRICE UP ON HEAVY BUYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—(AP)—On an immense rush of purchase order late today, wheat soared to new top prices for the season.

Contributing to the buying stampede was a report that a widely known eastern speculator was actively in the wheat market as a bull after an absence of several years. Foreigners were also credited with acquiring wheat future deliveries in a broad scale, lifting prices to 12 1/4 cents a bushel higher than was the rule scarcely a fortnight ago. Among factors stimulating buyers were intimations that an expected statement from the federal farm board would show Uncle States government sponsored wheat holdings had been reduced to a total far less than was generally supposed.

520 SUBSCRIBE TO CIVIC MUSIC PLAN, IN THIS VALLEY

With a membership of 520 southern Oregon people, the Civic Music association drive ended successfully last evening at 10 o'clock, with 120 more members than required to bring the leading concert of the circuit to this city. This afternoon at three o'clock, members of the artist's committee will meet to select the musicians who will present Medford concerts.

Alice Seckels of San Francisco, noted improviser, is expected in Medford on the Shasta this noon, and will meet with the committee, members of which are Carlton Jones, chairman, Miss Louise Woodruff, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Effie Herbert Yeoman, William F. Isaacs and Miss Harriet Baldwin.

Mr. Isaacs, president of the Medford branch, last evening expressed his thanks to the officers, tear, captains and workers, who gave their time to the cause, as well as to the Mail Tribune and Daily News for their support during the campaign, and R. W. Ruth's editorials concerning the association. Appreciation was also expressed for the work done by Miss Jane Coude of San Francisco, who came to Medford from the southern office to aid the local staff.

In the 520 memberships listed 80 were booked from Ashland, according to the records. Music lovers from other southern Oregon points outside of Medford and Ashland also responded readily when given an opportunity to join.

4 ARRESTED AFTER RAID ON LOZIER LANE 'SPEAKEASY'

Charged with the possession of intoxicating liquors, four men and one woman were lodged in the county jail last night after being arrested at an alleged "speakeasy" on Lozier lane about 8:30 by state, county and city officers. About one-half gallon of wine, and one quart of moonshine were seized by the officers.

John Taylor and Mrs. W. Alkon of Medford, H. L. Trux, automobile salesman of Grants Pass, L. C. Parkhurst, also of Grants Pass, and E. J. Putnam of San Francisco, were arrested. Charges were not filed against several others who were in the house at the time of the raid.

A pitcher, with a small amount of alleged moon, and another pitcher with which were several glasses and a bottle, were taken from the house as evidence. One of the arrested men had $220 with him at the time of his arrest.

Trux presented his business card to the officers, when the names were placed on the record book. He was driving an automobile with a dealer's license, according to the officers.

ran out, Scheel kicks the line for two yards. Fichtner carries the ball to the three yard line, Fichtner goes another yard and then repeats for a touchdown. Zumbunn failed to convert.

Medford kick-offs and Klamath receiver is downed on their 15-yard line. The Pelicans rush the Tigers line and in 4 downs made 14 yards. The half ended their march up the field.

Medford kicks off and downs Klamath on the 32 yard stripe. The Pelicans ripped through Medford's line for four yards, but on a left end run were held to no gain. The Pelicans then tore through the Tiger line for seven yards. On the next play Grievs broke through, and threw Taber for a five yard loss. Medford forces Klamath to punt, and the ball goes over the line.

Scheel Leads Attack

Scheel ripped through his favorite hole over tackle for five yards, and Medford loses three yards when a Klamath back oozes through the line. The Pelicans hold, and Harrington punts. Klamath makes a first down in mid field on line plays. Zumbunn intercepted a Pelican pass and is downed on the 43 yards. Scheel then passes to Bennett for a 14 yard gain. Scheel hits the line for two yards on a fake pass, but is held on a line buck. Fichtner hits the line for two yards, after which Medford punts.

Klamath makes three on a reverse play, and two on the line buck, and then punts, and Harrington returned to the 39 yard line. The Tigers hit the line for two yards, and Scheel's pass to Grievs is incomplete. Fichtner hits center for five yards, and follows with four more to make first down. Zumbunn lost eight yards on a reverse play, and Scheel loses five more on the same play as the third quarter ends.

The fourth quarter opened with Medford in possession of the ball and 15 yards to go. Fichtner hits the line for two, then Harrington punts to the 15 yard line. The Pelicans tear around right end for eight yards, and hit the line for seven more. White breaks through to throw Taber for a four yard loss. Scheel intercepted a Pelican pass on the forty yard line. Harrington passed to Scheel for 12 yards, who fumbled when tackled. The play was recalled when both sides were off-side. Harrington tossed a pass to Bennett who fumbled, and Medford penalized for two incomplete passes. Harrington punts, and Klamath Falls is downed on the 23 yard line. Klamath made 14 yards on an end run, two on a line buck, and one on a cutback play.

Rough Play

Medford holds, and Klamath Falls is forced to punt to the 32 yard line. Scheel hits the line for two, and Fichtner follows with six yards, and Fichtner eases round the end for two, and Scheel follows with 13 yards on an off-tackle buck. Ficht-

QUARTER MILLION IN TAX REFUNDED

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 24.—(AP) The quarter million dollar mark was exceeded today by the secretary of state's office in the distribution of 1229 intangibles tax refunds. This larger sum apparently appear last on the list, Hoss said, as the 8000 will require about $650,000.

Many taxpayers are receiving their refunds in two or more warrants, mailed separately, Hoss explained, because they made their tax payments in two or more installments, and their names and amounts appear separately on the tax list. Hoss said if parties receive only part of the money due on the refund, the balance would be received within a few days.

VALLEY DAKOTANS SHAMELESSLY ROOT AGAINST WEBFEET

The many Medford residents from North Dakota with malice aforethought, but best of intentions, for the first time since they became Oregonians declared a temporary moratorium yesterday on owing allegiance to their adopted state, and openly, silently and otherwise rooted for the University of North Dakota to win the football game with the University of Oregon, played at Grand Forks, N. D. Not that they loved Oregon the less, but that for the time being they loved North Dakota the more.

Especially was this the case with resident graduates here of the University of North Dakota, such as Judge and Mrs. Glenn O. Taylor, Howard Boise and Harold Corlies, and others who had attended that university. George Trechler and Bill Budge, the latter a trustee for many years and who when in state political office and as head of the Republican party of North Dakota for years, probably accomplished more in the development and support of the university than any other factor.

While the conduct of this contingent was regarded as traitorous by the many local Oregon rooters, both sides were happy at the tie game outcome, for either would have keenly felt the disgrace had the other won.

The financiers who have been very caustic with all of us for hoarding our money say they will hustle five hundred million dollars together for the White House prosperity plan in forty-eight hours. Hey, who's been hoarding now?—Chicago Tribune.

CHEERFUL TONE ON ANNIVERSARY OF WALL ST. DEBACLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Substantial advances in foreign bonds, decidedly bullish grain trading, and another late rally by the stocks gave the financial markets a cheerful appearance today, the second anniversary of the 1929 crash.

Week end dealings in securities were dull, although during the last half hour's advance shares turned over more actively, the volume in that period equaling transactions for the first three quarters of the season.

Steel trade advisers said there would be a 7 point rise in Youngstown district operations at the beginning of next week, presumably reflecting somewhat greater activity among automobile plants which are getting ready for new models. Steel shares improved moderately, but issues representing other heavy industrial lines were quiet; so were the Rails. Chrysler rallied the better part of a point on the strength of the earnings statement. General Motors closed unchanged after easing slightly.

Wrigley, International Salt, Phillips Jones, Woolworth, Loew's, American Woolen Preferred, R. H. Macy and Shattuck closed 1/2 to higher. American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Waterworks, Union Carbide, Atchafon, Case and Allied Chemical advanced about a point net. Radio "B" Preferred rose 3/4, helped by a report that the dividend requirements on the senior issues had probably been covered this year to date.

Final prices for cotton were 2 to 7 points lower.

Princess to Wed, Aids Mussolini, Quiets Balkans

SAN ROSSORO, Italy, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Another royal marriage through which Premier Mussolini may strengthen his political alliances in the Balkans appeared in prospect today with reports that Princess Maria, 16-year-old daughter of the king and queen, will wed Archduke Otto, pretender to the vacant throne of Hungary.

It was said the announcement would be made tomorrow on the first anniversary of the marriage of Princess Giovanna to King Boris of Bulgaria.

If the wedding is this year it will be the third in two years, the first having been that of Crown Prince Humbert of Italy to Princess Maria Jose of Belgium.

With each marriage the Mussolini policies which have established friendship with Russia, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey have been considerably strengthened. This third would greatly assist the premier's acknowledged Balkan policy which he once emphasized with the statement: "The future of Italy lies to the East."

SUSPICIONS RIFE IN CLOSING HOURS OF BRITISH VOTE

LONDON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—As the campaign for the general election Tuesday swept into its final phase today both the government and the opposition prepared for last minute trouble.

Labor circles were suspicious that an attempt would be made to "scare" the voters with something akin to the famous "Zinovieff letter" of the 1924 campaign—the document which purported to show unanimity between the labor government and communist Russia.

Lord Arnold, labor member, categorically charged that such a last-minute coup was to be attempted. He recalled the labor contention that it was the Zinovieff letter which won for the conservatives in 1924.

Labor was suspected of having last-minute ammunition in the form of "secret financial correspondence,"—apparently dealing with the labor charge, made unceasingly during the campaign, that in forming the national government Ramsay MacDonald succumbed to the threat of international bankers, particularly American ones, who demanded that the debt be cut 10 per cent.

Financial London backed Mr. MacDonald's government in Seaham harbor, where the prime minister is fighting hard to win the house of commons seat he held as a labor member. Bookmakers offered odds on him.

If the wedding is this year it will be the third in two years, the first having been that of Crown Prince Humbert of Italy to Princess Maria Jose of Belgium.

With each marriage the Mussolini policies which have established friendship with Russia, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, Greece and Turkey have been considerably strengthened. This third would greatly assist the premier's acknowledged Balkan policy which he once emphasized with the statement: "The future of Italy lies to the East."
