

WHIRLWIND TYPER IN DEMONSTRATION FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Fingers that fly at the rate of almost 1000 distinct strokes a minute, thrilled the students at the Medford high school where Miss Louise English of the Behnke-Walker Business college at Portland, Ore., gave a typing demonstration for their benefit and inspiration.

Miss English, who has a speed record of 145 words a minute on new work and 214 words a minute on familiar matter, was a guest of the high school, with Mr. I. M. Walker, president of the college, and his wife, Mrs. Walker.

Besides writing, without error, at the speed of each one of the world's champions, she wrote 126 words a minute typing from an unfamiliar matter; meanwhile engaging in an animated conversation with Mrs. Elizabeth Jerome. She asked her all manner of questions which she answered, while her fingers kept flying on striking the keys at the rate of better than 10 strokes a second. During the demonstration, President I. M. Walker told of the rapid advancement training methods since 1906 when Rose L. Fritz won the first world's championship at Madison Square Gardens, New York, writing at the rate of 82 net words a minute. Now students, after a few months' training, are able to write from 90 to 110 words a minute.

Miss English, a graduate of Grants Pass high school and a former student of the Behnke-Walker Business college, is now an instructor at the college. She has a national reputation as a typing demonstrator and teacher, and has trained many students who have won more than 3,000 awards, including the gold, jeweled, and diamond medals, as well as typewriters, and has helped make the college America's leader in the international speed and accuracy typing tests, which, until a year ago, were held by the Royal, Underwood, and Remington Typewriting companies.

COPCO PRAISED FOR FISH CONSERVATION

At the recent meeting of the state game commission in Portland, Irving Vining of Ashland, the Jackson county member of that body, complimented the California-Oregon Power company for its cooperation with the commission in constructing fishways on the Rogue river at an estimated cost of more than $15,000.

He was quoted in the Oregonian as saying that the company's attitude had been reasonable, but that this attitude had been brought about by the force of public opinion.

WITHHOLD ACTION ON HARBOR FUND PLEA

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Chairman Byrnes of the house appropriations committee said today no action will be taken on President Hoover's request for an immediate $60,000,000 appropriation for rivers and harbors work for at least another month.

"I have conferred with Brigadier-General George Pillsbury, assistant to General Lytle Brown, chief of engineers, and he agreed there were ample funds for at least another month," Byrnes said.

TAINTED MEAT LAYS EAGLES' LODGE LOW

TACOMA, Wash., March 17.—(AP)—Poison meat dealt heavily with the Eagles lodge members of southwest Washington this morning when 178 of them were reported ill as the result of lunch eaten at the district meeting in Olympia last night. Aberdeen reports 80 stricken, Olympia 30, Montesano 14, Tenino 18 and Centralia 18. None of the lodges seems to be seriously ill and all are expected by attending physicians to recover.

Mrs. Ward Much Feted At Birthday Events

PHOENIX, March 17.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Ray Ward was happily surprised Monday evening when a number of relatives gathered at her home for a dinner party. Those attending the surprise event were Mrs. C. B. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Ferns and little son, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Porter and three daughters. The dinner was cooked and prepared by the members of the surprise party, and was greatly enjoyed by all.

Another dinner honoring Mrs. Ward's birthday, bringing the number to four, was given on Sunday by her sister, Mrs. S. A. Childers. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morse, Mrs. Stella Childers and children and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ward.

The four dinner parties, Mrs. Ward says, convinced her that a birthday is worth while and something to be enjoyed.

Elaborate Plans for Church Birthday Event Underway

Plans are being completed today for the annual birthday party of the Women's association of the Presbyterian church, scheduled for Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Phythian, 828 Minnesota avenue. One of the outstanding events on the church society calendar, it is expected to draw a large crowd to Mrs. Phythian's home.

Mrs. John Perl, who has arranged the many successful affairs of previous years, is also chairman of the Friday event. The program will include humorous as well as serious numbers, and festive decorations will deck the rooms.

LATEST THEORY IN KIDNAP CASE IS BLIND ALLEY

Although the detective ingenuity lavished on the case, he said, would rival that of any of the master sleuths of fiction or real life, the police are no nearer a solution than they were two weeks ago.

They do not know, he indicated, whether the world's most noted kidnap case was the work of professional infant snatchers or amateurs with amazing luck.

Capitalism Exonerated

EL PASO, Tex., March 17.—(AP)—If capitalism is on trial for causing the present appalling crisis then capitalism should be declared innocent, J. M. West, Houston, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattlemen's association told the annual convention today. He vigorously defended capital and denounced communism.

LONDON, March 17.—(AP)—British lumber importers, organized as Timber Distributors Limited, announced today that they had contracted with interests in Soviet Russia for delivery of 2,100,000 cubic meters of lumber this year. The or-

While Schwarzkopf said investigation of the Lightfoot-Thornburg angle of the case was being continued, investigators working under him let it be known they believed the whole theory had collapsed with discovery of the chest.

Ladder Clue Discounted

The wood from which the ladder was made, they pointed out, could have been easily secured from a hundred places in the region.

The rest of Schwarzkopf's tullein dealt with angles of the case already proven to be of no value. He spoke of the child held for a time at Creston, Iowa, and said a birthmark on that baby's chest had made it possible definitely to determine it was not the Lindbergh baby, which was not so marked.

He mentioned also a report of four men in a blue sedan with New York license plates, who were seen acting in a suspicious manner in Dunellen, N. J., the day before the kidnaping. "This has been thoroughly investigated," he said, "and these people have been seen several times in Dunellen since. While probably engaged in some suspicious action, it is quite evident this carries no importance in this case."

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 17.—(AP) Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, who were waiting stoically through the draging days and nights, were reported today to pin their hopes on: (1) A police belief that Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., kidnaped 16 days ago, is still alive. (2) A feeling that when the future

"Bet You 65 Cents That Broncholine Stops Your Cough"

So says Heath's Drug Store, Jarmin & Woods Drug Store, and every other first-class druggist in the country.

One dose will give you immediate, unmistakable relief. Two doses may stop your cough entirely. A half bottle will chase it for good or the druggist will refund the 65c you paid for it.

No dope. No sweet stuff. Won't make you a drug addict, nor upset your stomach. But it will STOP YOUR COUGH. What do you bet?

"Weren't we lucky... our sweaters didn't shrink or fade the least bit!"

"The salesgirl told us they wouldn't, with Lux. Thank goodness we washed them this way..."

LUX won't fade colors won't shrink woolens

First, measure the sweater—then make lukewarm Lux suds and press them gently through—don't rub the least bit! Rinse in 3 lukewarm waters, pin flat on a board to dry, shaping to the measurements you made at first.

This easy way preserves "elasticity"—leaves your sweater soft, perfect-fitting—like new! Ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips—often contain harmful alkali which shrinks wool and fades colors, too. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux!

"I'd hate to be called an Outdoor Girl!"

THAT usually means a girl's a total loss in a tete-a-tete... and takes up 'nature' as a last resort! But I must confess a liking for hills and forest trees... and all genuine natural things.

"I like the simple sincerity of Chesterfield's advertising. Have you noticed it? There's no extravagance in the claims. Just everyday facts about the fine tobaccos they select and the painstaking way they develop the flavor and aroma.

"I've never smoked a milder cigarette! And I never tire of the flavor... a fine natural tobacco taste. They burn evenly, too. Either they're rolled more carefully... or the paper's better. I feel the greatest confidence in Chesterfields. They satisfy me!"
