Mrs. Reames Feted on Birthday Anniversary
 Friends of Mrs. Chas. Reames honored her Wednesday evening at a surprise bridge event in celebration of her birthday. A jolly evening was devoted to cards and after the usual number of games, refreshments, prepared in keeping with the St. Patrick's holiday, were served by those arranging the party. High score at bridge was held by Mr. Hubbard and second high by Mrs. Humphreys. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Bunch, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mikesche, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwyn Humphreys, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hubbard, Mrs. Evelyn Paulestrud, Jay Gore and Mr. and Mrs. Reames.

Students Arriving From Oregon Today
 Miss Beulah Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gore, is expected home this evening from the University of Oregon, to spend the spring vacation with her parents. While here she will play at several programs. Miss Alice Holmback will not be here for the holidays, having gone to Rainier to be guest of friends.

Miss Edna Mohr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mohr, arrived on the morning train from the university, and Miss Mary James, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James O. Hayes, is also expected home from Eugene today.
 The presence of the students here will be marked by many social activities during the coming week.

Bible Class Meets Sunday
 The Women's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church will meet in the Presbyterian parlors Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock. March 20, the subject will be the last week of Christ's life and his sayings on the cross. Questions of interest to all will be discussed.

Included among the topics will be "Why is there death?" "Do all die?" "What is the meaning of the second death, and was Christ's death different from the death of anyone whose life is sacrificed for another?"
 All members and their friends are urged to attend.

Mrs. Lorton Hostess With Miss McAllister
 Mrs. Ellen Lorton and Miss Marguerite McAllister were joint hostesses Monday evening at St. Patrick's bridge party. Holiday decorations were used in the rooms and on the bridge tables. Mrs. Gladys Herriott was winner of high score and traveling prize. Low score was held by Miss Kathleen Wilson.

Guests were Gladys Herriott, Kathleen Wilson, Lorraine Robbins, Barbara McQuat, Lois Smythe, Jeanne Fitzgibbon and Mrs. H. Wilson.

THIRTEEN POINTS STRESSED TO AID IN FARM SAVINGS

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis—(Sp.)—Thirteen points in a program to help Oregon farmers reduce their cash costs this year have been compiled by E. R. Jackman, farm crops specialist of the college extension service, who points out that modern farming methods demand much more cash outlay than in the days of trading produce for needs of the farm family.

Many of the points he mentions are not new, he says, and some are emergency measures only, but he suggests them as stimulating other similar ideas. Here are his 13 points minus his explanatory matter, which any interested farmer may obtain by writing Mr. Jackman at Corvallis or inquiring of the county agent:

1. Plant some corn for feed grain.
2. It needs no cash in harvesting and makes possible farming the land three years with one plowing.
3. Flow shallow after disking. It is cheaper and yields will be as good.
4. Grow clover seed, of the best sorts. Clover seed farming helps get away from annual plowing.
5. Put in plenty of alfalfa and get more feed on less ground.
6. Put low yielding hill grain into permanent grass pastures.
7. Put some low yielding fields into orchard grass, tall oat grass, or chewing fescue for seed production, and save annual cost of working land.
8. Grow clover seed, of the best sorts. Clover seed farming helps get away from annual plowing.
9. Cut harvesting costs if possible by using a combine and straw spreader.
10. For cows, grow kale or roots for succulents where possible, or use vetch and oats instead of corn for alfalfa. It is far cheaper to produce.
11. In western Oregon consider soy beans instead of leaving any land fallow.
12. Use these low-price years to get rid of weeds, using non-cash methods.
13. If short of hay room, chop and blow hay directly into barn. It costs no more.
14. If much fall plowing is in prospect, start early and dry plow.
15. In eastern Oregon, save hind help in plowing, disk all land first and then take as much time as necessary to plow it.

Trail

TRAIL, Ore., March 18.—(Sp.)—Ladies of the Trail Extension unit entertained their husbands Tuesday evening at the Sunset Auto camp during noon with a chicken dinner, followed by an interesting program. There were 42 present and all report a delightful evening.

Children like Amaizo Golden Syrup

Youngsters know what they like—but sometimes they like things to eat that aren't really healthful for them.

Amaizo Golden Syrup is a happy combination of delicious flavor and high food value, in an easily digestible form.

Both the American Medical Association and Good Housekeeping Institute approve it for its purity and quality.

Amaizo Crystal White Syrup is an equally high grade Amaizo product, intended for use in making dainty desserts, cakes, sauces, etc. As its name implies, it is a clear, crystal white syrup.

At all grocers—Look for the Amaizo name and the gingham background design.
