

AMERICAN LEAGUE GETS EARLY EDGE THANKS TO STARS

Yankees and Athletics Chalk Up All 13 of Training Season Victories Over National League Opponents

By Herbert W. Barker.
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)
NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—The American league has piled up a winning average of .650 in 20 games with the National league so far this spring training season, winning 13 games and losing only seven.

These figures are hardly significant of the comparative strength of the two circuits, however. All 13 of the American league's victories have been chalked up by the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics, favored in most quarters to finish one-two in the junior circuit. The big losers among National league clubs, on the other hand, have been the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves.

Braves Look Bad.
The Cardinals, as world champions, can be ranked with either the Yankees or the Athletics, but the Braves are picked to finish deep in the National league's second division.

Six of the National league's defeats have been charged to the Braves.

The only clubs with perfect records in the inter-league series are the New York Giants and the Phillies, both of the National league. They each have accounted for two straight wins.

Indians, Sox Undeclared.
A tabulation of all exhibition games, whether against major or minor league opposition, reveal the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox as the only undeclared teams. The Indians have won seven straight games and the White Sox three, all against minor league teams. Washington has won four and Los Angeles and Pittsburgh eight and two.

The Yankees' record of six wins and one defeat is the best so far as strictly major league opposition is concerned. The Giants and the Athletics are tied for second place with seven victories and three defeats each.

BABE HERMAN ON CINCY'S PAYROLL

TAMPA, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Babe Herman, the well-known hold-out, became a full fledged Cincinnati red today, emerging smilingly from an early morning conference in which he was understood to have signed a contract paying him $16,500 a year.

With signing, he became Cincinnati's ace, the keystone of the baseball arch the Reds hope to crown with a pennant.

For the first time since training began, the Reds' roster is complete. Stripp and Cuccinello, two troublesome non-signers, went to Brooklyn in the trade that brought the slugger Herman here, and with him Ernest Lombardi and Wally Gilbert, the latter already looked upon as likely to grab a regular infield berth.

CROSETTI NOW TAKES HEALTHY CUT AT BALL

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—Frank Crosetti, Pacific coast star, came to the New York Yankees with a reputation as a "chop" hitter but he has been taking a full cut at the ball in the training season.

He closed a home run yesterday in the trade that brought the slugger Herman here, and with him Ernest Lombardi and Wally Gilbert, the latter already looked upon as likely to grab a regular infield berth.

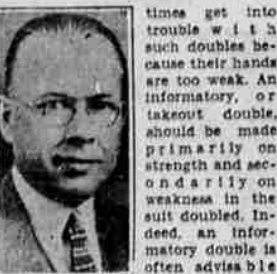

HACK WILSON SHOWS OLD BATTING FORM

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 22.—(AP)—If Hack Wilson can keep up the good work the Brooklyn Dodgers may not miss Babe Herman so much after all.

Wilson leads the club in batting so far with an average of .480. He has collected 12 hits in 25 times at bat. He has clouted three home runs and batted in 13 runs in eight games.

Tips on CONTRACT

TAKEOUT DOUBLES
By Tom O'Neil
Doubling of an opponent's bid to compel one's partner to bid is often a successful method of arriving at the correct contract in bridge.

TOM O'NEIL

Now and then times get into trouble with such doubles because their hands are too weak. An informative, or takeout double, should be made primarily on strength and secondarily on weakness in the suit doubled. Indeed, an informative double is often advised by the doubler when the doubler holds the ace and more of the suit doubled.

The doubler must be prepared usually to support a response in hearts or spades especially if one of those major suits has been bid by an opponent.

Minimum requirements for the double ordinarily are three honor tricks.

Such a double is not made when partner has bid. In that instance the double would indicate a possibility of the opponent being set.

WEST	EAST
♠9876	♠AKQ2
♥543	♥A2
♦KK9	♦J6543
♣AK9	♣64

The great advantage of the informative double is that without danger it shows partner a much stronger hand than would be revealed by a bid of a suit, requirements for defensive overcalls being much less than the standards for opening bids.

Informative doubles in tournaments often have resulted in game being made by the partner of the doubler on four-card suits containing no honors. Here is a typical doubling situation:

Assume that north opens the bidding with one heart. East's cards are better than a normal hand. His longest suit, diamonds, is too weak to bid.

One stopper in hearts is insufficient for a no trump. An overcall with spades might be troublesome. If east doubles west will answer with two spades, east will indicate satisfaction with spades by a raise and then west will contract for game, which should be made barring unfavorable distribution.

MAIN MAT EVENT HERE WEDNESDAY TO BE THRILLER

Kewpie Harkins of Denver, who will wrestle Yagui Joe here Wednesday evening at the Armory, is confident he can trim the Indian, and will go into the ring with his mind made up. Although he has never seen the famous grappler, Harkins' mastery of numerous holds gives him an even break.

Yagui's early training in developing physical strength and endurance have aided him in the past six years to steadily mount to the upper brackets of the wrestling game. He credits the remarkable strength in his legs to competition in tribal races, which sometimes extended over miles of hilly and rough country.

His flying toehold has been copied by local experts throughout the country, but few can carry it out as successfully and as rapidly as the Sororan.

Flying body scissors and flying head scissors, as applied by Yagui, have brought crowds to his matches throughout the eastern states. His facial expression, as if carved in stone, remains the same.

Earlier in his wrestling career, Yagui Joe appeared in Medford, where his bouts were considered some of the best cards of the season. Harkins also won favor here last week with his classy airplane spin, and unexpected butts. His holds are numerous, and the Kewpie's opponents are kept guessing.

Being heralded in the second event is Tony Caponi, the "walloping wop," who resides at Baton Rouge, La. He will appear again Speedy Achilman of the northwest, who can inflict holds that are not forgotten readily.

Tony has acquired a name in the southern section for his speed, and Achilman, who carries the same title, expects to prove his superiority.

Manager Herb Owen of Eugene, who is making preparations for the show, states that he expects the largest crowd of fans this season to pack the Armory.

AMERICAN TENNIS CHANCE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, March 22.—(AP)—With no better than an even break in the first two singles matches of the international team competition with France, the United States hoped to gain a perhaps decisive edge tonight by winning the doubles.

Representing America in the doubles will be the national indoor champions, George Lot and John Van Ryn. France will call upon Jean Borotra and Christian Boutsik.

It was the spectacular play of Borotra last night that enabled France to break even in the first two singles matches.

Boutsik had bowed to the New York indoor champion, Gregory Mangin of Newark, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, in the opening engagement but Borotra came through with a brilliant victory over Frank Shields, 6-8, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

VAN CAMP SEA FOOD CANNING FIRM PLANS GREATEST AD DRIVE

The largest newspaper advertising campaign in its history will be conducted in 1932 by the Van Camp Sea Food Co., Inc., canners of White Star Tuna. This statement was made by Emil Briescher, president of Emil Briescher and Staff, San Francisco and Los Angeles advertising agency, which has directed the advertising for the past 10 years.

The Van Camp Sea Food Co., Inc., of Terminal Island, Cal., is the world's largest canner of tuna, and attributes a great part of its success to the power of newspaper advertising. Practically the entire advertising appropriation has been invested in newspaper advertising every year, with a highly gratifying response from the public.

So satisfying have been the sales increases produced by the previous year's newspaper advertising that the 1932 advertising will appear throughout the United States in many hundreds of newspapers, beginning early in the spring.

A new honor has just been conferred upon White Star Tuna by the American Medical Association. This is the first and only brand of tuna which has been approved by the organization, and the endorsement of the medical association was won by the exceptional quality of the product and the sanitary kitchens in which it is canned.

Briescher states that tuna was seldom served in the average household until the Van Camp Sea Food Co., Inc., began its advertising. Now it is served several times a week in a considerable percentage of homes throughout the entire country. Its popularity has lowered its cost to the public, and today it is one of the few delicacies that can be purchased at economy prices.
