

FEHL'S AFFIDAVITS WILL BE OPPOSED BY PARR CLAIMS

Fifteen or twenty counter affidavits will be filed by Roy Parr game warden, through his attorney, Allison Moulton, in denial of affidavits filed by the Pacific Record-Herald and its editor, alleging prejudice and misconduct of jurors and counsel in the libel suit in which Parr was recently awarded $15,000 judgment. The plaintiff's affidavits will deny the truth of the Fehel affidavits and the plea for a new trial will be resisted.

The plaintiff yesterday was granted until Saturday to prepare and file its affidavits.

The defense affidavits alleged that Mrs. Myrtle GeBauer of this city, a member of the jury, expressed prejudice against Fehel, that Anderson Mee, another juror, is not a resident of Jackson county, but instead lives in Josephine county and that Mrs. GeBauer gave Attorney Allison Moulton an aspirin tablet.

An affidavit of the plaintiff will admit the presentation of the aspirin and the receipt thereof, but will maintain that Mrs. Grace Pankey, another woman juror and not Mrs. GeBauer, made the gift. It will be contended that at the time the attorney was suffering from what he diagnosed as the flu, and the aspirin was given as a passing act of kindness.

No date has been set by the court for hearing of arguments on the motion for a new trial, but it is expected to be called when the present pressure of business lessens.

TABLE ROCK PEOPLE SAD AT PASSING OF PIONEER IN DISTRICT

TABLE ROCK, March 24.—(Sp.)—Mrs. Maud H. Pendleton, who died March 18, was a pioneer resident, having resided here for more than 40 years, where she took an active part in social functions of the neighborhood. Mrs. Pendleton was noted for her literary and educational work, being an able writer, keeping in touch by letter with hundreds of friends.

She served many years on the Jackson county educational board and took a deep interest in local and county school affairs. She was an authority on dates and happenings, having faithfully, through all the years of her residence here, kept an account of what each day brought forth and the weather conditions.

A loyal and devoted wife and mother whose loyalty and patriotism helped her to see her home as the best in the district, her district the best in the county, her county the best in the state, her state the best in the country and her country the best in the world. In this she set an example that many well could follow.

A host of devoted friends in this district and the county mourn the departure of Mrs. Pendleton and feel that her place will be hard to fill.

The sermon for the evening will be read by Rev. George Kabele of the English Lutheran church.

Men Will Enjoy Easter Services At Rialto Sunday

Men enjoy fellowship together, and most men enjoy singing, especially when they take part in the same. The men who attend the Easter program of the Men's Bible class of the First Christian church at the Rialto theatre, promptly at 9:30 a. m. next Sunday will enjoy both.

There will be a large attendance of men from all walks of life, rubbing elbows with each other and joining in singing the old gospel songs so familiar to their boyhood days in the old home church and around the home fireside.

Then there will be a short talk to real men by W. R. Baird, a man among men and pastor of the local Christian church.

There is no limit as to age; just a gathering of men of all ages to spend an enjoyable and profitable hour.

You are invited and expected. The time, Easter Sunday, 9:30 a. m. sharp.

HEALTH WORKERS HEAR REPORT ON MEMORIAL CLINIC

Report of progress of the Alex Sparrow memorial clinic was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Lewis Ulrich at the meeting of the Jackson County Public Health Association, held at the Presbyterian church at Jacksonville, with an attendance of more than 50. The report was greeted with enthusiasm by the membership when the increased list of donors was revealed, carrying names of contributors in states as far distant as Iowa. Contributions are constantly coming in from all sections of this state. Mrs. Ulrich informed the association, each accompanied by an expression of appreciation of the late judge, who did so much to promote child welfare work in this county.

A message regarding the value of the tomato was brought to the association by W. A. Gates, another speaker of the afternoon. The increased production to be accomplished in the Rogue River Valley through the Bagley Canning company was stressed by Mr. Gates. The qualities of tomato juice, which he stated contains much more iron than orange juice, were also emphasized in an appeal to the health workers to join in the program to bring increased consumption of a Rogue River valley product.

A report of the state health association meeting in Portland was given by the president, Miss Mildred Carlton, and Mrs. Glen Fabrik outlined the plans of the local committee for the White House conference. The Medford committee will present the southern Oregon needs at the meeting in Salem, May 2.

Plans to endorse for office in the coming election, candidates who are in sympathy with advancement of the health program in this county, were discussed by the association and adopted.

Arrangements for a house to house canvass to investigate the milk supply consumed by children of Jackson county under six years of age, were also made at the meeting, following an address by Dr. Haakell, representative of the United States Public Health service on milk investigation. The canvass will be carried out through the use of questionnaires, under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Carpenter.

An interesting account of a trip with a local health nurse was given by Mrs. Frank Lindley. Narrative reports written by the nurses, on their work of the past two months, were also read.

Dr. C. I. Drummond, newly appointed county physician, was introduced and welcomed by the association.

Members of the Jacksonville unit were hostesses for the afternoon.

A beautiful picture to grace the Easteride is displayed in the Rogue Valley Floral company window of the Liberty building today. Magazine cover and picture frame carry the same photograph. It is one of Jeroldyn Jerome, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jerome, formerly of this city, now of Portland.

She is shown in a natural pose among the lilies in the Rogue Valley greenhouse, which she frequented while living in Medford. Gathered about her, and falling over her arms are the precious blossoms, closely associated in Christian tradition with the resurrection of Christ.

The magazine carrying the picture as cover is The Florists' Review. The photograph, taken by J. Verne Shangle, local photographer, during last year's Easter season, was mailed east by Mrs. Schoepen, who soon after received a letter from the publishing company asking permission to use the picture as cover for the Easter number.

Another copy of the same photograph, tinted and framed by Mr. Shangle, is displayed in the same window of the floral company.

CHARLES TALENT FILES CANDIDACY FOR SHERIFF JOB

Charles P. Talent, former captain of state traffic work in southern Oregon, now connected with the office of secretary of state as field representative of the license department, today filed for the Republican nomination for sheriff. He makes the tenth candidate for the office—eight Republicans and two Democrats.

Talent gives as his slogan: "Efficiency based on experience," and sets forth he is "a self starter, who makes errors, the same as anybody else, but with no political ambitions."

Friends of Talent state that he is seeking the office of sheriff so that, in the event of election, he can be closer to his family and granddaughter. His present duties require his absence from them for long periods. He will ask for a leave of absence about May 1 to conduct a short campaign.

The latest seeker after the shrievalty is a native son of Jackson county, born at Talent, a town founded by his father, A. P. Talent, a southern Oregon pioneer. For eight years he was connected with the traffic department in southern Oregon, resigning when the state police department was established, to take his present position. He is well known in this city and Ashland.

SAM BROWN OUT FOR PRESIDENCY OREGON SENATE

SALEM, March 24.—(P) Sam Brown, holdover state senator from Marion county, announced here last night he would be a candidate for president of the senate at the 1933 session, which convenes early next January. Brown is a farmer residing at Geneva.

Brown will have opposition for the position from Portland and eastern Oregon, according to authentic information here. Senator Fred E. Kidzie of LaGrande, at the close of the last session, looked as the 1933 president, while Senator Joe E. Dunne of Portland has been reported as seeking the chair. Senator B. L. Eddy of Roseburg may again be a candidate for a post he has long hoped to secure.

The senate presidency, carrying with it the duties of a lieutenant-governor, is regarded as the most important legislative position available. Willard L. Marks, president of the 1931 session, said recently he would not be a candidate for re-election to the chair. He is a holdover senator from Linn county and will be back in the upper house next session.

JACKSON COUNTY'S PROHIBITION FUND TINY THESE DAYS

The Prohibition Fund for Jackson county on March 1, last, totalled $2303.18, according to the county treasurer's office. The amount looks puny, as this is the tenth anniversary of high tide for prohibition enforcement costs in this county, when Special Prohibition Enforcement Officer S. B. Sandefer expended more than $11,000 to catch four bootleggers, three of whom were afterwards acquitted despite the efforts of a special prosecutor.

The prohibition fund, under Oregon law is a secret fund, examined every December by a grand jury. The law also requires that the district attorney, turn over $2000 into the general fund at regular periods. Vouchers against it are issued upon the approval of the circuit court. The last grand jury reported that all these requirements had been complied with, by the sheriff and district attorney.

The prohibition fund is supported largely by liquor violation fines, and for the past three years has been kept around the $2000 mark. Most of the vouchers against it have been for gasoline mileage to and from stills.

"I agree with my Husband..."

"He says Chesterfields are milder... and he's right! They're so mild I can smoke as many as I like without bothering to keep track.

"And I find I never get tired of the taste. Probably that's because they're not really what you would call sweet... Chesterfields are just natural flavored... if you know what I mean.

"And have you ever noticed the paper?... Well, neither have I!

"That's certainly a compliment... to be able to say you can't taste or smell the cigarette paper.

"I think that's about as good a test for purity as anyone could possibly ask for. Chesterfields satisfy... that's one thing my husband and I agree on!"
