Easter Plans Hold Interest of Local Society This Week

While all nature rejoices in the promise of Easter day, each bud swelling to add its fragrance to the world-wide pageant in celebration of renewed life, society folk of Medford today respond to the inspiration of the blossoms and ask, "Where are you going Easter?" And the replies are many and varied, for all churches and organizations will be singing hymns in praise of the risen Lord, when lilies bloom on altar and in home this Sunday.

Morning and evening at the Presbyterian church will be marked by Easter observance programs, the major program being arranged for the evening under the direction of Mrs. Eva Hazelrigg Marsh, organist.

It will include numbers by the church quartet, composed of Elsie Carlton Strang, Edna Elfert, A. J. MacDonald and Dr. W. W. Howard. The following artists will also participate in the elaborate musical observance: James Stevens, Florence McElhose, Nina Cole Mulholland, Dr. E. W. Shockey, E. C. Beach, Dorothy Reynolds and Geraldine Thompson.

At the Christian church the morning service will include the usual number of musical compositions and a cantata will be presented in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, with Effie Herbert Yeoman, soloist, as director. "Life Everlasting," by Petrie, is the cantata chosen. The cast will include 22 voices. W. T. Bolger and Bernice Morehouse Bolger will play flute and violin accompaniments, and Mrs. Theodore Sims will preside at the piano.

The men's octet of the Christian church, also under direction of Mrs. Yeoman, will furnish the musical program for the meeting of the men's class at the Rialto theatre Sunday morning.

Program for the Sacred Heart Catholic church will feature the male choir, under the direction of Sebastian Apollo, organist. The major program of observance will be sung during the morning service, beginning at 10:30 o'clock, when the mass in D Minor will be completed. The choir includes Harold Corliss, bass; Nell Foy, tenor; Earl Foy, tenor; William Stuart, baritone; and Raymond Miksoch, baritone.

Easter Monday Major Event in Social Whirl

Next Monday night social life in Medford will be renewed with increased interest when dance enthusiasts from all sections of the valley gather at the Oriental Gardens for the annual Easter Monday ball sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Elaborate decorations will express the Easter season, with spring blossoms in abundance. Arrangements for the party are nearing completion, the committees announced this morning. Heading these arrangements are Mesdames Walter Olmstead, Goodwin Humphreys, C. T. Baker, Belva Alken, Everett Brayton and George Goding.

Primary Council to View Demonstration Saturday

The Jackson county primary council will meet Saturday afternoon at 1:30 in the Medford Junior High school. Miss Lillian Wise will give a demonstration in primary writing, which will be of great help to each primary teacher.

Election of officers will be held and all primary teachers are urged to be present.

Mrs. Riley Guest of Father in This City

Mrs. Philip Riley, formerly Miss Theodosia Von Der Hellen, arrived here yesterday from Los Angeles and is a guest today of her father, Harry Von Der Hellen. She will continue to Marsfield to join Mr. Riley in making their home in the coast city. Their wedding is remembered as an event of last month in Corinto, Nicaragua.

Mrs. Bergman Arrives Here Tomorrow

Mrs. Bertha Bergman of Salem, department president of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, will arrive here tomorrow for her official visit. All daughters are urged to attend this meeting of the tent. After the business session a social hour will be enjoyed and refreshments served.

Triangle Meets Tuesday Evening

Tuesday evening the regular meeting of the Christian church Hi-Triangle club will be held with Miss Velma Smith as leader. Self denial offerings will be sought to this gathering, and all members are urged to attend.

The subject for the study period will be Porto Rico.

Easter Egg Hunt Announced for Friday

The primary classes of the Christian church Sunday school will have an Easter egg hunt at the church Friday afternoon, under the supervision of Mrs. Everett Eads.

Easter Monday Luncheon Plans Grow This Week

As the joyous Easter day draws nearer plans for luncheons and parties to follow become paramount in the minds of many society folk. The advisory board of St. Ann's Altar society will entertain at luncheon Easter Monday in the Catholic parish hall and elaborate arrangements are being made for the event. The board will be assisted in the dining room by Mrs. R. Baker, Mrs. J. C. Murray and Mrs. R. Lewis. Those planning to attend are asked to phone 826-W for reservations.

Music for the luncheon will be furnished by the St. Mary's rhythm band.

Miss Robbins Honored Before Departure

Friends of Miss Lorraine Pobbins, who is leaving for LaGrande after spending the winter as guest of her aunt, Mrs. O. W. Click of Beall lane, gathered at the Click home Tuesday evening for a surprise bridge party, feteing her before her departure.

There were 12 guests present and the traveling prize bridge was awarded Miss Jean Fitzgibbon. Guests were: Marguerite McAllister, Lois Smythe, Jean Fitzgibbon, Roberta Metzger, Mrs. F. W. Clark, Mrs. Ellen Lorton, Kathleen Wilson, Mrs. George Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dintamoor.

Mr. and Mrs. Brickman Return to Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brickman, who spent the winter season in this city, are leaving Friday for their home in Rupert, Idaho. While here they have been much feted by former residents of Idaho, many of whom met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers to spend an evening reminiscing with the Brickmans Saturday.

En route to Idaho they will visit friends in Portland and in Washington. Their departure from this city is regretted by their many friends, who hope they will return to Medford for future winters.

Miss Brommer Home For Short Holiday

Miss Fredericka Brommer, who plays a prominent part in activities of the Oregon State College campus, returned to Medford Tuesday to spend the spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brommer, her sister, Miss Louise Brommer, who withdrew from school last term because of ill health, will return to college with Miss Fredericka Saturday to resume her work with the opening of the spring term.

Mission Group To Observe Easter.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church will observe a pre-Easter day of prayer tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Allen Curry, president of the organization, will be in charge. All love boxes are to be turned in at this meeting, according to the announcement.

Miss Harvey to Entertain For School Friends

Miss Ver Dean Harvey will be hostess this evening at an informal party for the pleasure of the following students of the University of Oregon and Oregon State College: Misses Louise and Fredericka Brommer, Beulah Gore and Alice Harvey. Miss Alice Harvey is a guest of the hostess, having arrived here from Klamath Falls for the spring vacation, after which she will return to the University of Oregon.

Foreign War Veterans' Auxiliary Has Meeting

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars held a card party Monday evening. There were many tables in play and prizes at cards were awarded Mrs. Jaqua and Mrs. Revelle. Supper was served at the close of the evening.

Music Study Group To Meet Saturday

The music study group of the Jackson County Rural Teachers meets Saturday, March 26, at 10 a. m., in the lecture room of the library. Miss Eunice Hagar is chairman of the group.

Mrs. McCorkle Hosts For Luncheon Friday

Mrs. J. A. McCorkle has invited a group of friends to her home for an informal luncheon tomorrow afternoon.

Constabulary In Conference Here

State police from Klamath, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine and this county, met here Wednesday night for a conference to discuss routine details and problems with Captain Lee M. Brown of the southern Oregon district. The state policemen dispersed to their respective posts this morning.

O. S. C. BAND COMING ON SPRING CONCERT TOUR

Famous collegiate musicians making their twenty-seventh annual state concert tour which this year includes nine appearances in southern Oregon and northern California cities. Schedule starts at Grants Pass March 24 and includes Medford, Klamath Falls, Yreka, Dunsmuir, Weed, McCloud, Ft. Jones and Ashland in that order. At top is the band on parade, and below, the saxophone quartet which appears in specialty numbers. At right, Captain H. L. Beard, veteran director, and Miss Lucy Cass, one of few co-eds in the college band, who will play in the concert at her home city, Grants Pass. At left, Glenn Simpkins clarinetist from southern Oregon, one of the band officers.

NEWBURY CLAIMS HALL TOOK LONG COURSE OF STUDY

Contending for the spelling championship of the Elks' lodge, Gus Newbury will enter the contest tonight at the Elks' club against the little-brother, Court Hall, knowing that the latter has taken advantage of him. "Court, a man of leisure, spent the winter in San Diego, where he attended night school for three months," says Newbury. "He did not tell me that he planned to take this course." Gus said today, "but I met the school teacher in San Diego in January."

The learned man who took the title last year when Gus stumbled over a silent "w," declared that it was not necessary for him to study the words as he had memorized the list several years ago.

Mr. Newbury said today if the match becomes heated, and it will be necessary for him to save the situation, he plans to resort to phonetic spelling. Court Hall reported today that he had intercepted a number of questionnaires Gus had sent out to club members. The champion said it was obvious that from the answers he would receive, Gus could tell which people to choose on his side to spell the idiosyncratic words.

Although both leaders are looking forward to the final stages of the bee, when they can spell at each other, it is a general belief that neither will be able to stand in line after the first 20 words.

FLOWER DISPLAY OPENS TOMORROW

The plant sale planned in conjunction with the flower show of the Medford Garden club, to be held at the Chamber of Commerce building, Friday and Saturday of this week, has been postponed because of the weather; it was announced this morning. The spring flower show, however, will open tomorrow.

Mrs. C. J. Setmon is chairman of the annual event, which promises to bring a glorious array of blossoms from the garden to the Chamber of Commerce building. She will be assisted by an able committee from the club, members of which will be announced later.

FRUIT PAY CASE IN JURY'S HANDS TODAY, IS BELIEF

There were prospects that the civil suit of Fred C. Sanders against the Suncrest Orchards and L. A. Banks for $1500, allegedly due on a 1929 fruit consignment would be completed late today, after requiring a day longer than anticipated, due to every step being contested by both sides.

Sanders alleged a weight discrepancy, and the defense maintains that the number of culs cut down the tree was less than claimed.

C. C. Lemmon of Sgobet and Day was called to the stand this morning as an expert witness by the plaintiff. He described fruit trade customs of this section and held that the non-inclusion of the jumbled pack in the contract between Sanders and Banks did not exempt payment. Lemmon held that the report of the arbitration board, composed of J. E. Edmiston, C. C. Darby and H. C. Hubbard, shippers, was faulty. The board held that the Suncrest Orchards—though omitted from the contract—was not bound to pay for the jumbled pack.

The size of the Sanders pears was also discussed, the defense contend-

FEDERAL AID FOR NEEDY UNCERTAIN

Hope for federal unemployment aid for this section was dimmed somewhat today by the receipt by the county court of a telegram from Senator Charles L. McNary, at Washington, D. C., conveying the information no federal funds were now available. The message from Senator McNary was in response to one from the county court, and reads as follows:

"Wire received. There exists no federal fund for unemployment relief. However, the house has passed an expanded road building program which is now on the senate calendar and which is thought will partially relieve the unemployment situation and will have my support. Recently congress authorized the Red Cross to distribute a large quantity of government owned wheat. I want to be of assistance if possible, and would be glad to have
