

ELKS ISSUE CALL FOR FEMININE AID AT SPELLING BEE

For the first time in the history of local Elksdom, feminine aid has been solicited for the annual spelling match of the lodge, led each year by the veteran schoolmisters, Gus Newbury and Court Hall, who still maintain Webster's L. A.'s thought: up words they can't spell. Unable to mobilize their forces last night, they announced postponement of the much anticipated match and issued an invitation to the ladies to attend next week as participants of spectators. If one will bring a spellingbook, it will be much appreciated, they added this morning. A more ambitious program is outlined as a result of the postponement, and more difficult words will be fired as the two teams, who will be well fed at the close of the tournament.

The spelling committee stands as originally announced, composed of Delroy Gatchell, Gus Newbury and Court Hall.

Refreshments for the evening will be prepared by Lewis Ulrich, the lodge's big cheese and cracker man. The spelling match will be held following the business session, during which the Lady Elks will meet in the club room for cards and billiards.

The members of the ladies' attendance committee are Mrs. C. G. Lemmon, Mrs. Joe Fliegel and Mrs. Don Newbury. Following the business session of the lodge they will be invited to join the Elks for the spelling match, and will be invited to participate as members of the team, or act as witnesses. The evening will be climaxed by an informal dance and refreshments, the latter of which it is predicted will be much needed when Messrs. Newbury and Hall are through defending their titles as southern Oregon's best spellers.

One week from next Thursday night installation of officers will be held at the lodge, it was announced last night. The usual festive entertainment and crab feed will be featured and Joe Fliegel, newly elected exalted ruler, and his supporting staff, will take command of the lodge.

LAD DROWNED IN COW CREEK

ROSEBURG, Ore., March 25.—(AP)—A hundred men were probing the flood waters of Cow creek, 12 miles east of Glendale today for the body of Edward Shaw, four years old, who is believed to have drowned in the stream Thursday. A cap found in the creek a half mile from the boy's house indicated he had lost his life in the stream. He is the son of Mrs. Esther Damewood Shaw.

The search for the boy started when he failed to return home for dinner. It was believed, however, he had strayed from the neighborhood. His cap was found in the creek just before dusk. Boats were obtained immediately and the waters dragged until darkness prevented further work.

MANY FEATURES FOR NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit Set New Standard for This Type of Cereal

Local grocers are featuring a new shredded biscuit developed by the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Michigan, which is a decided improvement in many ways. The improved Kellogg biscuit is "pressure-cooked" by a special process that retains the complete food value of the whole wheat. At the same time, delightful flavor is baked in.

Other improvements are a biscuit of more convenient, economical size. Two of these new biscuits just fit the cereal bowl. You get 15 to the package instead of the usual dozen. And every biscuit is toasted a rich golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. This makes them exceptionally crisp.

These new biscuits have been analyzed by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia and found to be so rich in food value that every package is certified. A. A. mother can now be certain her family is getting a well-balanced food with these new Kellogg biscuits.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are tasty for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers. Extra good with fruits or sweetened with honey—in addition to the milk or cream.

You can identify these new biscuits by the name, Kellogg's, and the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HOPE FOR CALMNESS

Crisp said he thought that with the defeat of the sales tax, the temper of the house would cool off rapidly. He thought that each item recommended as a substitute would be considered individually.

No proposition to send the entire bill back to the committee, as desired by President Hoover, would be considered, he explained.

He also said he did not plan to call for a Democratic caucus on the substitute plan, preferring to permit the house to write the remainder of the bill on the floor so it may accept the responsibility for the substitutes inserted.

"This treasury deficit is a Republican deficit," he said.
