

PARR AFFIDAVITS REFUTE CHARGES LODGED BY FEHL

The jury, because two rights do not make a wrong, but did hear her say she thought the paper was hurting the community. Parker further states, "I believe I heard everything Mrs. GeBauer said during the conversation."

Witness Questioned Max GeBauer made an affidavit in which he declares that Darrell Huseon and Mrs. Carrie Walker, who made affidavits of Mrs. GeBauer's conversation in the "What-Not," informed him that they signed their affidavits in the presence of Earl H. Fehl, and not Attorney T. J. Enright as the affidavits set forth.

Mrs. Francis Campbell, 804 East Main street, avers by affidavits that Mrs. GeBauer did not visit her home during the course of the trial but did call after its conclusion and discussed the amount of the verdict and Mrs. GeBauer declared "she had voted for Fehl for mayor." Mrs. Campbell's affidavit contains one submitted by A. C. Abrams, in which he attributed alleged prejudicial statements to Mrs. GeBauer. Abrams declared the conversation took place on March 7 last; Mrs. Campbell holds it was March 23, after the trial. Mrs. Campbell's affidavit declares, that Abrams said, "I will do anything for Fehl as he is my friend and I would go on his bond."

Corroborates Wife W. F. Campbell corroborated his wife's statement, that Mrs. GeBauer made no prejudicial statement against Fehl. Abrams is a lodger at the Campbell home.

Attorney Allison Moulton, in an affidavit, denies that Mrs. GeBauer gave him a confession during the course of the trial but admits that while in the hall, during a jury recess just after taking a "rink of water" he complained of a "back" and Mrs. Grace Pankey opened her handbag and gave him "two aspirin tablets" with the comment they had cured her headache. Attorney Moulton avers that Attorney T. J. Enright saw the incident, "joked about it," and did not regard it as "misconduct." Moulton further declares, "the courtroom was packed with political friends of the defendant and laughed and applauded the defendant and his lawyers and if statement was made in the presence of the jury, it was by them."

Saw No Prejudice Mrs. Katherine Lathrop of Central Point, a member of the jury, asserts that she was with Mrs. GeBauer constantly during the trial, and Mrs. GeBauer exhibited no prejudice towards Fehl by word or act.

John Daugherty of Ashland, another juror, makes affidavit corroborating Mrs. Lathrop.

Roy Parr, plaintiff, makes affidavit denying any prejudice or misconduct as hinted, and that he confined himself to perfunctory greetings.

Arguments on the motion for a new trial, and the affidavits, will probably be heard by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton the coming week. No definite date has been set for the hearing.

SLIGHT GAIN FOR COAST LUMBERING

SEATTLE, March 25. — (AP) — A slight gain in operations was reported by 322 mills in the Douglas fir region of the Pacific northwest today for the week ending March 19, as compared to the previous week. The mills reported production at 25.8 per cent of capacity, as compared to 25 per cent for the week ending March 12.

SPRING CHICKENS HOLDING VALUES

PORTLAND, Ore., March 25.—(AP)—Conditions in the live chicken trade are again more or less under influence of manipulative California interests.

Efforts to break the spring chicken market are proving futile at the moment, owing to the lightness of arrivals.

There was practically no change in the butter market situation for Friday on the open market for both cubes and prints were stationary at recent prices. Make is generally increasing.

There was no change in the price of eggs locally for the day but more or less secret cutting is indicated in the trade. Much of the cutting is by producers selling direct to retailers.

There remains very little change in the country meat market.
