After Easter Ball And Luncheon Loom On Society Horizon

As stately titles of celestial white, associated the world over with stories of the risen Lord, beckon from all altars of the city this morning, Medford society will spend its way churchward. For the day of "resurrections, awakenings, renewed hopes, revived faith" is here. Hymns of praise will herald the miracle and the coming week will be filled with festivity in society folk join trees and flowers in donning spring raiment.

The promenade starts today, the social whirl tomorrow.

The advisory board of St. Ann's Altar society is sponsoring a luncheon and card party at 1 o'clock in the Catholic parish hall. The members will be assisted in the dining room by Mrs. R. Baker, Mrs. J. C. Murray and Mrs. R. Lewis. Music for the luncheon hour will be played by the St. Mary's rhythm band. Those planning to attend are asked to phone 826-W for reservations.

Tomorrow night members of the American Legion Auxiliary will entertain with their annual Easter Monday ball, one of the gayest events to grace the spring calendar. In an atmosphere of blossoms, bunnies, little chicks, colorful eggs and other novelties, characteristic of the spring festival, one of the oldest recalled by many, dance fans will gather at the Oriental Gardens from all sections of the valley. Elaborate plans have been completed for the event by the following committee: Mrs. Walter Olmscheid, Mrs. Goodwin Humphreys, Mrs. C. T. Baker, Mrs. Belva Aiken, Mrs. Everett Brayton and Mrs. Geo. Coddling.

Guards of Chrysanthemum circle No. 84, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will also sponsor a dancing party tomorrow evening. It will be staged in the I. O. O. F. hall with Captain Lena Bergman and her 16 guards as hostesses. Refreshments will be served following dancing and a pleasant evening is predicted for all.

Miss Webster Wed at Quiet Ceremony Here Last Evening

At a simple but impressive service, in keeping with the Easter tide, Miss Millicent Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Webster, became the bride of Sam L. Goldstine of Portland last evening, the 7 o'clock ceremony being read in the study of the First Presbyterian church by Rev. H. Iverson.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster, parents of the bride, and a few immediate friends were the only guests.

The bride was smartly attired in white suit, with turban and other accessories of the same color. A former student of St. Mary's academy and a graduate of the Los Angeles high school, she is a popular member of the local younger set.

Mr. Goldstine, who came here a short time ago from the Rose city, is also an active participant in affairs of the younger social group.

They will make their home at 231 Apple street.

Misses Roberts to Arrive on Tuesday

While vacationing students from the north are returning to the universities and colleges this week, some from the south will be arriving for their spring holiday. Among the latter will be the Misses Mary Lee and Dorothy Roberts, students at Mills college, who are expected here from Oakland, Cal. Tuesday, and is among vacationing students being feted at the numerous informal events of the holiday. Mrs. Bleeter entertained with a dinner party in her honor Friday evening.

She will return to school today with Bob Bleeter, who has also been home for the spring vacation.

Miss Herzog Here From University

Miss Glory Herzog of Hollywood, Cal., student at the University of Oregon, is a house guest for the week end of her cousin, Mrs. B. W. Bleeter, of this city, and is among vacationing students being feted at the numerous informal events of the holiday. Mrs. Bleeter entertained with a dinner party in her honor Friday evening.

She will return to school today with Bob Bleeter, who has also been home for the spring vacation.

Ladies' Aid Meets, Methodist Church

The Ladies' Aid society of the First M. E. church met in regular "homecoming" in the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. The vice-president, Mrs. A. G. Bennett, presided, and Mrs. S. L. Leonard led the devotions and offered prayer.

Mrs. E. C. Koppen, in behalf of the Fidelity circle, presented Mrs. Carl C. Grant, who read a selection, "A Cross A Garden." Mrs. A. E. Lyman sang "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Mrs. Koppen. "The First Missionary" and the "Scum of the Earth" were titles of readings given by Mrs. George Bigler. During the social hour the Ladies' Aid served refreshments. Birthday guests were Mrs. Georgia Blackburn, Mrs. Frank Redden, Mrs. E. G. Roseborough, Mrs. Clausen, Mrs. C. C. Grant, Mrs. E. F. Jones, Mrs. George Bigler and Miss Ruth Keizer.

Operatic Star Will Visit Stevens' Here

Muscle minded folk are anticipating the arrival here this week of Miss Bernice Berson, operatic singer, now playing at the Orpheum in Portland. In Dr. Brockwell's Act, Miss Berson will arrive Thursday to be the guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens.

She will have a week's vacation between her Portland appearance and opening of the act in San Francisco and has chosen to spend it here.

Several affairs will probably be held in her honor.

Guild Luncheon Will Be Event of Friday

Friday afternoon, April 1, members of St. Mark's Guild will hold their regular cafeteria luncheon at the Guild hall. The luncheon will be followed by a business meeting.

Plans for another one of their popular card parties are interesting. The Guild this week. The party will be held April 8, and all women who enjoy an afternoon at the bridge table are invited to attend.

Local Artists to Appear in Church Programs

In the center is Geraldine Thompson, local violinist, and at the right Edna Elfert, soloist. This group of local artists will participate in the elaborate programs planned for presentation at the Presbyterian and First Christian churches today and tonight in observance of Easter. Effie Herbert Yeaman, soprano, will direct the cantata at the Christian church. Eleanor Curry will also sing at the Christian church. Elsie Carlton Strang and Edna Elfert are members of the Presbyterian church quartet. Mrs. Mulholland will be a guest artist there today, as will Miss Thompson.

Easter Egg Hunts Interest Children

Members of Medford's very young social set are hunting Easter eggs today on lawn, in garden and neighboring woods. In fact the search began several days ago and numerous parties have been given for the pleasure of those who acknowledge the wizardry of the Easter bunny.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mark Miller entertained with a party for her two sons, Mark and Jimmy. The following guests were invited to join them in the magic search: Steve and Patricia Dippel, Betty and Curtis Darby, Jimmy Kuehnle, Bobby Nixon, Peggy Nixon, Teddy Yale and Dick Flaharty.

Mrs. O. A. Eden will be hostess this morning at a similar event for friends of her young sons, Leigh and Douglas. Guests for the hunt will be Bobby and Lois Ann Hubbard, Jean Phythian, Billy Darby, Edward Gove, Steve and Patricia Dippel.

Rileys Welcome Guests of Week

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Riley were among popular guests in Medford over the week end, Mrs. Riley being joined here on her return from Los Angeles by Mr. Riley with whom she left last evening for their home in Marshfield. While in this city they were guests of Mrs. Riley's father, Harry von der Hellen. Both were welcomed by members of the younger set. Mrs. Riley is remembered as the former Theodosia von der Hellen and Mr. Riley was located in Medford with Pacific Fruit and Produce before going to Roseburg, from which city he was recently transferred to Marshfield.

Their wedding in Corinto, Nicaragua was an interesting event of the Pacific Fruit and Produce cruise to Central America.
