Y. W. C. A. Banquet Draws Large Crowd to Church
 Tables, gay with spring blossoms, developing a color scheme in keeping with the Easter season, greeted the 70 guests who gathered at the Presbyterian church last night for the nation-wide banquet for business girls, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. Purple lamb-tongues and yellow daffodils with candles in the same colors were used in the festive scheme.

Miss Alice Hanley, the main speaker of the evening, brought the guests a thrilling review of pioneer days in Jacksonville, mingling romance and glamour with the hardships, experienced by the little group of people who made possible the settlement of the great empire north of the Saskatchewan.

"Pioneering in the Rogue Valley" was the subject of her address, which followed through the series of events growing out of the first discovery of gold by Clingage, to the prevailing conditions in the little historic town, of which she is one of the oldest native residents.

Weddings, hangings, gambling houses, charity dinners, all were brought into the vivid picture, drawn by Miss Hanley with enthusiasm and understanding, which enraptured her audience.

Humor and tragedy held equal places in the interesting recollections. Her description of the old negro Sam, who rang the town bell to announce all events, predicting their content to his townspeople through the tones of his "ding, d-d-n-g," long before his voice could be heard reporting the news, proved especially entertaining.

Musical numbers, readings and a playlet, "A Big Depression," were also much enjoyed by the audience. Miss Dorothy Mitchell, general chairman of the event, presided as toastmistress, and group singing was led by Mrs. Effie Herbert Yeaman.

The program opened with the invocation song, "Lord of Life," followed by the invocation prayer. Messages from presidents of groups in many other countries were read by Miss Emily Brown, who gave reasons for holding the nation-wide banquet.

Miss Ellow Mae Wilson, popular local soprano, entertained with a solo and "Opportunities for Present Day Pioneering" were discussed by Mrs. Mabel Church.

The program closed with the presentation of the clever skit, which left the guests in a jovial mood.

Lady Elks to Meet At Temple Thursday
 Lady Elks are anticipating their first attendance of the annual spelling contest, to be led by Attorney Gus Newbury and Court Hall at the Elks' temple Thursday evening, according to social chatter about the city today.

For the first time in the history of the lodge the presence of the ladies has been requested for this event and their response is going to be unanimous, all predictions indicate. Pool and cards will be enjoyed by the guests during the business session of the lodge, after which they will join the Elks in the lodge rooms for the spelling bee and refreshments to follow.

The ladies' attendance committee for the evening, which is expected to get all wives and sweethearts to the big event, is composed of Mesdames C. C. Lemmon, Joe Wiegand and Don Newbury.

Guests of Roberts' Feted at Dinner
 Misses Mildred Ahmann and Virginia VanDyke of Sioux City, Iowa, house guests of the Misses Mary Lee and Dorothy Roberts, were honored last evening at a dinner party at the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberts on Crown Hill. Covers were arranged for 12 guests.

The Misses Ahmann and VanDyke, with the Misses Roberts, will return to Mills college, where all are students, at the end of the week. The four girls enjoyed a holiday at Carmel before coming to Medford.

Nominating Committee Reports to P.-T. A.
 The Lincoln Parent-Teachers association will meet Friday to hear the report of the nominating committee, which is composed of Mrs. Laura West, Mrs. Merriam and Miss Ora Cox. The Japanese members of the association will present the program and will also be hostesses for the social hour. Miss Babeon, 4-H club leader, will speak.

Academy to Be Scene Of Spring Card Party
 Plans for a benefit card party to be held at St. Mary's academy the afternoon of April 14 are interesting the women of Sacred Heart parish this week. They are sponsoring the event, proceeds of which will be turned over to the academy. The public is invited and playing will begin at 2 o'clock.

Presbyterian Men's Club Meets Thursday
 The men's club of the Presbyterian church will meet for dinner at the church at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, according to invitations out today. Speaker for the program to follow dinner, will be Rev. A. B.

McLeod, who will talk on "George Washington." There will also be special music and all members are urged to attend with wives and friends, as Thursday is special ladies' night in the club.

Kenly's Have Guests For Spring Holiday
 Miss Ellen Hill of Ross, Cal., arrived yesterday to be the guest for a week of her aunt, Mrs. F. Corning Kenly. Another guest at the Kenly home this week is Horace Bailey of Boston, Mass., who accompanied Corning, Jr., on his return from Thatcher school at Ojai, where both are students.

Chirgwin's Entertain Guests from Klamath
 Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Chirgwin entertained at dinner Easter Sunday Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Mordoff of Klamath Falls, Miss Aileen Mordoff, recently of Ann Arbor, Mich. and Mrs. Jimmie Hall and baby daughter, also of Klamath Falls.

Lodge Plans Festive Dance for April Fool Day
 April Fool day is the next holiday on the calendar and one which will be celebrated with appropriate hilarity by the Pochontas lodge with a costume party for members and friends. A prize awaits the wearer of the most humorous creation.

POLICE WILL ASK RETURN HERE OF ALLEGED FORGER
 Ernest Kinnard, who is said to have passed three worthless checks on Medford firms the early part of December, 1931, using the alias Charles H. Greenwood, has been arrested in Santa Rosa, Cal. for passing a series of checks throughout southern California, local officials were notified yesterday afternoon.

Chief of Police Clatus McGredie stated that a retailer will be issued for Kinnard, who also uses the alias Frank Martin. The photograph was identified by managers of the Medford firms, as being the person who passed the checks.

The checks presented at the Western Union, Littell Parts and Campbell Clothing company, were written on the Bank of Hollywood, which was closed February 29, 1931. At each of the places the man presented a card bearing the name Charles H.

Greenwood of the Industrial Accident Commission of California.
 The blanks used by Kinnard were special forms, and bore the printed signature of P. C. DeVinney, cashier. It is thought by officers that Kinnard and his associates had their own printing apparatus.

A large amount of money was obtained by Kinnard, using railroad claim checks, it was disclosed by Southern Pacific officials here yesterday.

SMITH, AUTHOR-ARTIST, VISITS LOCAL FRIENDS AFTER TRIP TO BEACH

Wallace Smith, Hollywood scenarist, author and artist, recently described in the Oregonian as the man "who trails along with Dr. Johnson in declaring that anyone who writes for anything but money is a fool," was a visitor in this city, with Mrs. Smith, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Bowman, 103 Mistletoe street, over the week-end. It was learned today.

En route south from Cannon Beach, where Mr. Smith has been writing on his latest novel for the past two weeks, they stopped to visit their old friends. The Smiths and Bowman met at the latter's Cannon Beach refuge about six years ago.

As "Wallace and Echo," Hollywood knows the two, famed for their Gypsy blood, which keeps them trekking hither and yon, from Europe to South America. They spent six months of the past year in the last named place, arriving in Portland, March 15, they announced they would stay at Cannon Beach a month. Today they are headed south again.

Mrs. Smith, a former newspaper woman, is now her husband's "Echo." She has quit writing. Mr. Smith writes short stories, scenarios and novels. He supplied dialogue, plot and punctuation for the picture, "The Lost Squadron," recently shown here. His "Little Tigris" series of Mexican life and "Are You Decent?" stories are also being brought to the screen.

"I'm proud of my Age!" says Nazimova

"I'm over 40"

"A woman's age is not the measure of her charm," this famous star says. "It is easy to be lovely at sixteen, but to be still lovelier at forty... well, that is easy, too, if a woman is wise. I take care of my complexion with Lux Toilet Soap!"

Nazimova is only one of countless, perpetually youthful stage and screen stars who have learned this secret of complexion beauty.

In Hollywood, of the 694 important screen actresses, including all the stars, actually 680 use this fragrant white soap regularly. Surely your skin should have this gentle, luxurious care! Buy several cakes—at only 10¢—and begin today!
