SALAD ANSWERS MANY PROBLEMS IN FAMILY MENU

By Estella Dorgan.

"What shall we have for lunch?" or "What shall we have for supper?" Nine times out of ten in this season the answer is "salad." And about the most delightful lunches and suppers may be developed with salad ideas. But to accomplish this pleasure for all the family the ingredients must be changed often and suitable and tasty dressings used with each salad. Who doesn't get tired of the same dressing with every salad, just as they do of the same anything else day after day? There is no occasion for this nowadays with good refrigeration available, especially the dry, even cold of electric refrigeration. Make a foundation dressing and keep it on hand always to be changed by the addition of this or that flavor or color to suit the salad. It will prove to be one of your best friends this summer in preparing interesting salads.

Filled Dressing.
4 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup water

Mix these carefully and cook until clear, then add to the following group of ingredients, which are all put into a bowl and beaten with a Dover egg beater until they are well blended with the filler. Cool and thin with cream or evaporated if desired, when serving:

1 egg
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup oil
2 teaspoons mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Boiled Dressing No. 1
1/2 cup mild vinegar
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon mustard
4 tablespoons butter
1 cup milk

Heat the vinegar. Blend the dry ingredients with milk and add slightly beaten eggs. Combine carefully with vinegar, stir and cook until thick and smooth. Remove from range, add butter and cool. Thin as desired.

Boiled Dressing No. 2.
5 egg yolks
1 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup salad oil
1/4 teaspoon flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup vinegar or lemon juice.
Beat eggs. Gradually add dry ingredients, oil and vinegar. Cook until thick in double boiler, stirring constantly. Cool and add evaporated milk to desired thickness.

Peanut Butter Dressing.
1 tablespoon butter
1-3 cup vinegar, salt and pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
1-3 cup cream.

Cream peanut butter and sugar together, add vinegar slowly then, gradually, the cream, stirring all the time.

Semi-permanent French Dressing
1 cup salad oil
1/4 cup vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon catsup
1 teaspoon mustard
3 teaspoons paprika
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon gelatin

Mix dry seasonings, add oil and stir until all are well mixed. Add vinegar, or lemon juice, and beat five minutes. Soak gelatin in 1 tablespoon of cold water and dissolve in 2 tablespoons of hot water. Allow to cool and add to the dressing. Beat just enough to mix it in then allow the dressing to stand about 15 minutes and beat again. In less than a minute an emulsion is formed and the dressing will not separate.

Barbara Stanwyck Stars in Picture Now on Holly Bill

Barbara Stanwyck and Frank Capra have again combined their talents and turned out a picture that is unforgettable. This is "Forbidden," at the Holly theatre. Adolphe Menjou, Ralph Bellamy, Dorothy Peterson, Charlotte V. Henry and other excellent artists contributing fine performances.

The setting of Miss Stanwyck is superb, without a flaw, and she is equal to any dramatic claims made upon her. A startling surprise climax makes "Forbidden" a love story of great tenacity, and a romance of great beauty. Showing with the unusual feature is a special reel entitled "Crater Lake in the Winter." This reel takes one up the snowbound highway and finally to the lake, with some gorgeous views of Oregon's scenic wonder. The program is completed by an interesting news reel, with Graham McNamee announcing.

There will be no matinee showings of this picture program with the exception of Saturday afternoon, owing to the Medford Mail Tribune Cooking School now being conducted at the Holly.

How to Get Liner Flats.
OSLO—(AP)—A local syndicate is dickering for the 20,000-ton liner Carmanla, scheduled to be dismantled, with the idea of mooring her to a quay and renting cabins to small families and bachelors. There would be room for 2000 people.

FLOWER EFFECTS AN ADDED CHARM FOR DECORATIONS

There is a happy arrangement to be achieved by the use of patterned and plain surfaces in a room, that gives a pleasant balance, and a most restful effect. So many times the wallpaper is chosen first, and the other colors for the room are chosen from it.

As an example one decorator started with clusters of strawberries combined with spring flowers, on a pale gray wall. From the soft-violet blue of the flowers, she took a hint for the plain chintz of the curtain and the dressing table. Plum colored chintz with a tiny leaf design, she used to cover the cushioned chair and to make the bedspread. As can readily be seen, this bedroom had a pleasing variety of surfaces, the plain materials used in proper proportion to the patterned surfaces.

In addition to the violet-blue suggested above, there is also a beautiful powder blue that combines very effectively with peach and yellow. When a chintz of vivid blue, yellow and black is chosen for curtain material, it was found that the wall must be subdued in tone and pattern, and wisely it was papered with a faint sepia lattice on an ivory ground.

Delicate orchids and greens have been very popular in bedrooms. When one room was repapered, a wisteria rug belonging to it had to be considered. With this in mind a paper with a stiff little design of bowls of rose and blue flowers, on a warm cream ground, was chosen. Curtains of dotted net, ruffled and tied back were orchid in color, while the bedspread was a quilt of orchid and green.

All the daintier colors seem to belong to bedrooms. But with the vogue for antiques and the reproductions of these, it is sometimes necessary to use some brown tints. These are not prominent but are used in smaller areas, and combined with rose landscape papers are used in many Colonial rooms, and seem very satisfactory with the usual ivory trim of the woodwork.

ROXY ANN GROUP WILL PRESENT PLAY FRIDAY

Several young people of Roxy Ann Grange will present a program, and play tomorrow evening at the Lone Pine schoolhouse, to raise money in order that they might join the Grange.

The program Friday has been announced for 8 o'clock, and all Grangers, as well as the public, are cordially invited to attend.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to thank our many friends for their kind efforts, and for the many nice flowers during our recent bereavement.

THEY HAD TO HAVE SALT...

Western Explorers

Western explorers drew their salt from the Pacific, too. The Lewis and Clark expedition has left but one visible mark of their trek to the Pacific—the cairn at Seaside where they boiled sea water to get SALT, so necessary for their long homeward journey. . . . Good salt is just as necessary today as ever. To be sure of the best, demand Leslie Salt. It comes in the convenient, full-weight (2-lb.) package.
