

WILLIAM COLEMAN LATEST CANDIDATE JUSTICE OF PEACE

William H. Coleman of Medford this morning filed his candidacy for justice of the peace for the Medford district on the Republican ticket, giving as his slogan "Justice for All."

James Stewart, "the bee-man," who served two terms as justice of the peace when 21 years old, is another prospective candidate for the place and is expected to file between now and Tuesday—the final day for filing.

Other candidates for the local justiceship are: Fred Colvig, Everett Breyton and Glenn O. Taylor, incumbent on the Republican ticket, and W. H. Canon on the Democratic ticket.

A candidate's dance will be held Saturday night in the Applegate district and from indications there will be a great outpouring of aspirants to the social-political event. There will be a large crowd, even if none but the candidates attend.

Tuesday is the final day for registering for office, and it is predicted there will be something of a rush in the final hours, as several are being urged "by friends to get off the fence and run."

Most of the candidates are now busy making speeches and shaking hands and it looks like the campaign would acquire heat a month before the primary date, instead of the traditional 10 days.

The county clerk's office, as soon as the filing date is passed, will start preparation of the ballot which will be quite lengthy.

Oregonians at Hotels — Among guests from state points at Medford hotels are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Krueger of Salem, P. S. Jones and A. W. Marquie of Roseburg, H. F. Earle, John Carothers and H. B. Eason of Eugene, and the following from Portland: L. R. Pershull, Robt. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kalesi, W. J. Reed, S. S. Zoggs, D. Vance, C. B. Martin, John Leel, Wm. Wheeler, Harry A. Weir, L. F. Weisler, Mrs. G. W. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hamilton.

FEHL LIBEL SUIT ARGUMENT WAITS SETTING OF DATE

No date has been set as yet for hearing of arguments on the motion for a new trial in the libel suit of Roy Parr, game warden, Ashland, against the Pacific Record-Herald and Earl H. Fehl, its editor. Parr was awarded a $15,000 verdict by a jury. The motion will not be called by the court before next week as it is occupied today with the hearing of civil cases and will hold court in Grants Pass tomorrow.

More than a score of affidavits have been filed by both sides, in seeking and resisting the motion for a new trial. A number of fine points of the law are involved in the proceedings.

Attorney Herbert K. Hanna, of counsel for Fehl, said today regarding Anderson Mee, one of the libel trial jurors, whose legal right to sit as a juror is under fire, that the defense would show that Mee was a resident of Josephine county, and that his place of residence was "30 feet over the Jackson-Josephine county line. Attorney Hanna further stated that there was a sign on the road that Mee traveled regularly, denoting the line.

Mee, as juror, filed an affidavit holding that his residence there was "temporary." The residence of Mee will be one of the main arguments of the defense in their new trial plea.

Affidavits presented by both sides to date are contradictory. All the jurors in the case filed affidavits, denying charges of prejudice and misconduct, in reply to defense affidavits.

FIRST METHODIST SUNDAY SERVICES IN SAME EDIFICE

Alexander G. Bennett, pastor of the First Methodist church, announces that the Sunday services will be held in the church edifice on West Main and Laurel streets next Sunday as usual. Arrangements have been made through Attorney Porter J. Neff, representative of the bonding company, of St. Louis.

The evening service will be a half hour later than during the fall and winter, at 8:00 o'clock, instead of 7:30 o'clock, when the pastor will speak. Morning worship will be conducted at 11 o'clock.

E. J. Neumann, superintendent of the large Sunday school, announces the general assembly and rally of the school at 9:45 a. m. in the auditorium.

An official board meeting is called by the pastor, to be held in the church parlor Monday evening at 7 o'clock, to be followed by a congregational meeting at 8:00 o'clock. The problems which have brought the temporary embargo on the church will be discussed and arrangements for carrying on in the future considered.

The Medford Methodist church has been at work here for more than 45 years, and has faced many hard situations, and Dr. Bennett has been laying plans for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary in 1935, feeling confident that the will to carry on is still characteristic of the Methodists in Medford.

Some of the other churches of Medford have extended cordial and sympathetic hospitality to the Methodist congregation, thus witnessing their fine fraternal spirit, and their prayers are appreciated, as Dr. Bennett gladly and gratefully acknowledges.

Miller of Salem, former valley rancher, for $20,000 for alleged injuries received last summer while employed by Miller, will go to the jury late this afternoon. WATCH AND COIN TAKEN BY THIEF

Loss of an Eight watch, more than a dollar in silver, an old 50 cent coin, and a Cordova leather coin purse, containing the three, was reported today by Mrs. Juanita Franklin of the city school superintendent's office.

The coin purse was obviously taken from her large leather handbag while it was in the room across the hall from the main school office. It's absence was first noted yesterday noon when she went to lunch. Mrs. Franklin stated this morning. It will be easy to trace, for the watch has her name, "Juanita," carved on the back. It is a highly prized gift and she expressed a hope this morning that it will be returned before it is necessary to make further investigation.
