PORTLAND, April 1 - (P)-Greatly increased production of butter con- crop of last season, dry onions have tinues to make itself felt, not only steadily risen in price for some time in the markets of the Pacific north- past, until reaching a climax in price west but along the Pacific slope gen- last week, to exceed anything ever prove as heavy as the supply. This was more especially true of the extrashing astonished some time ago by the rapidly mounting prices, onlons reaching a retail price some days ago of 10 than standards and the lower scores. Market for eggs continues its more or less recent weakness with continued direct peddling to retail shops by unattached producers. No change is announced by the Pacific co-ops or private distributors, although some of the latter are reported shading.

At a late hour buyers found they were in wrong with their low quotations on chickens. They advanced medium hen buying price to 12c and lights to 10c lb. but heavy broilers were cut to 12c lb.
