Berry of Oakland, Calif., and A. J. Miller of Arcadia.

FRUIT SHIPPERS SEEKING SAVING ON ICING COSTS

Proposal of the Rogue River Traffic association and the Northwest Traffic association for changes in the refrigeration service of railroads meaning substantial savings to growers and shippers, is now before the National Perishable Freight association, with headquarters in Chicago. The plan calls for the initial icing and one re-icing en route of fruit shipments, applicable to late fall and winter varieties, but not the Bartlett. The present rate is $110 per car to New York City and $98 to Chicago. The new rate as proposed is $62 to New York and $50 to Chicago. The old rate includes a half dozen icings, which the Traffic associations claim can be eliminated at a saving of from $25,000 to $50,000. It is estimated that this saving would affect a saving on from 1000 to 1200 winter variety pear shipments that could travel under certain weather conditions with but one re-icing.

The matter has been under discussion by the traffic association for a year. Efforts of the traffic association and the Fruitgrowers League to have Prof. Henry Hartman, pear expert, assigned to exclusive work in this state, have been denied by the bureau of plant industry, according to a letter received by Senator McNary from the director-in-chief. The reason given for the refusal is lack of funds, and that Prof. Hartman has a skilled staff and fully equipped laboratory at Wenatchee, Wash., where he is now stationed. Prof. Hartman is now in New York City, where he is conducting storage tests of valley pears.

Senior Forester Here—Jesse G. C. Elgan, senior ranger in charge of the Klamath division of the Crater National forest with headquarters at Klamath Falls, stopped off here last week for a day or so's visit at the forest's offices here, while enroute home from the marine hospital at San Francisco where he had been receiving treatment. Mr. Elgan suffered injury in an accident some years ago from which he has never entirely recovered, hence his visit to the hospital.

Ashland Elks Install—The newly elected officers of the Ashland lodge of Elks were installed into office last night. The new Exalted Ruler is George E. Dunch, and the others installed included: Ben H. Gibson, Esteemed leading knight; Fred A. Taylor, esteemed loyal knight; E. C. Gardner, esteemed lecturing knight; J. Edw. Thornton, secretary; P. Provost, treasurer; E. C. Payne, tiler; D. Peruzzi, trustee for three year term; Ike R. Friderger, representative to national convention and Fred C. Homes, alternate.

ALEXANDER GIVEN $400 FOR INJURY

A jury in the circuit court late Friday returned a verdict for Willis Alexander, Eagle Point, in his damage suit against P. E. Miller, Salem apartment house owner, in the sum of $400. Alexander asked for $20,000 general damages. The suit was based upon an accident which occurred last summer near Eagle Point where Alexander was engaged with others in moving an engine on an auto trailer.

The trailer, it was claimed, loosened, causing the engine to fall on Alexander's foot, crushing it. Miller formerly operated a farm in the Eagle Point district. An appeal will probably be filed by Miller.

DRIVING TESTS TO CONTINUE MONDAY

Ward McReynolds, state examiner for chauffeurs' and drivers' licenses, was in Medford yesterday conducting tests at the city hall and will continue to do so on Monday, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Friday, Mr. McReynolds made a special trip to Grants Pass to conduct tests which could not be taken by applicants on the regular Monday hours there. Thursday he gave examinations in Marshfield.

Most of the large utilities throughout the state are requiring their employees to take the state tests, Mr. McReynolds stated.

TAXES PAID DESPITE PHYSICAL HANDICAP

John Winders, a long-time resident of the Evans Creek district, where he owns and operates a small farm, called at the court house Saturday and paid his taxes. Winders is a disabled man and further handicapped by poor health. "By saving, scraped up enough to pay my taxes."

Tax payments continue fairly brisk and indicate a more optimistic note among the people than street corner calamity speeches would indicate. The tax payments are mostly for the half year, which are subject to a delinquent interest penalty in May.

DEUEL BUILDING FINANCE PLANS CARRY PROMISE

Progress is being made in the financing and construction plans for the new business block at Main and Bartlett streets on the site of the Deuel building, according to Halbert S. Deuel, manager of the Deuel estate, who recently returned from a trip to San Francisco where he conferred upon the subject. Preliminary details were approved by San Francisco agencies and forwarded east for further approval and any changes that may be decided upon.

It is the plan as first announced, to start construction next fall and to have it completed and ready for occupancy by January 1, 1933. It is understood the building will be occupied under a long time lease. It will necessarily take considerable time to arrange the preliminary details and no contracts will be considered or let until they are completed.

The site is one of the best in the business section of Medford. It was gutted by a night fire two years ago. Plans for reconstruction were well underway when the Wall Street crash caused an abandonment of the plans. National conditions have recently returned to a point it is said, where they could be resumed.

Famous Barrymores At The Craterian

LIONEL BARRYMORE, KAREN MORLEY and JOHN BARRYMORE in "ARSENE LUPIN"

An auspicious event of the 1932 season is the opening today at the Fox Craterian theater of "Arsene Lupin," marking the first joint appearance of John Barrymore and Lionel Barrymore in any motion picture.

The well known mystery stories of Maurice LeBlanc which idealize the debonair French thief, Arsene Lupin, supplied the motivation for the first appearance together of America's most distinguished brother stars, the Barrymores.

The screen version, which is said to be concerned as much with sophisticated humor as with the unwinning of the clever mysteries perpetuated by the master thief of Paris, also emphasizes the romantic love affair between John Barrymore as the thief and Miss Morley as the police spy who poses as a countess in order to track down the elusive drawing room criminal, but subsequently endangers her reputation.

REALTY INQUIRIES CREATE OPTIMISM AT BOARD SESSION

The Realty Board at their Friday luncheon found a decided feeling of optimism among the members, who reported several homes sold during the past 10 day as well as two or three farm sales. Most of the offices reported many inquiries both from resident and non-resident people.

Mr. Huber, head of the Huber Packing company, who has just completed an up-to-date packing plant with a capacity for butchering, curing and packing 50 cattle and 100 hogs per week, gave a highly interesting talk along the line of his many years' experience with Armour and other packing plants, as well as his recent experience at the head of his own plant in Los Angeles, which was recently sold to Swift & Co.

The Medford Realty Board is busy with a revision of its constitution and by-laws in order to introduce some new features into the activities among which is the property owners' division, a feature which will be of great help to everyone interested in real properties.

The realtors noticed with great interest that, according to Brisbane column in the Mail Tribune, several prominent business men of Miami Beach, Fla., were advocating a home tax exemption for their state, and they prophesy such a measure would bring more good, dependable people into their state than anything attempted heretofore. This is along the line of the home tax exemption movement sponsored by the local Realty Board and which they are all sold on 100 per cent.
