Music-Minded Folk Make Plans at Sunday Tea

Fragrant spring blossoms decked the rooms of Mrs. E. E. Gore's home yesterday afternoon, where 20 members of the Jackson County Music Teachers' association and other interested folk gathered during the tea hour to discuss plans for the local observance of International Music week.

Mrs. Una B. Inch presided at the tea table and Misses Rosa and Dorothy Gore assisted in serving.

Plans for the community program, theater numbers and service club observance were discussed and outlined, as well as musical festivals to be held in the schools of the county.

Mrs. Effie Herbert Yeoman was chosen chairman of the community program to be held Tuesday, May 5; Miss Harriet Baldwin, chairman of work in the schools; Mrs. Rawles Moore ,theater chairman; Mrs. J. A. McCorkle, chairman of the American Legion and Auxiliary observance. Programs in the Jacksonville, Phoenix, Central Point, Rogue River and rural schools will be directed by Mrs. Una B. Inch, rural music supervisor, assisted by Mrs. Fletcher Fish, Mrs. Minnie Guy, Mrs. Lois Young, Mrs. George Andrews and Miss Katherine Blood.

Committees were also named to direct observance of the music week at meetings of all local service clubs. The Jackson County Music Teachers' association will sponsor a radio program during the week and each teacher is planning a recital in which to present her pupils.

The music festival presented each year by the schools will be included in the celebration, being scheduled for Friday, May 6.

Festive Party Enjoyed By Past Matrons Today

Yellow daffodils nodded their heads in jaunty fashion beneath the soft green lights arranged at the Hotel Holland luncheon table this afternoon for the meeting of the Past Matrons of O. E. S. The green and yellow color scheme was developed throughout the table decorations, forming a refreshing spring atmosphere. Covers were placed for 24 guests and luncheon was followed by bridge.

Graduate Nurses Meet at Sweeney Home

The home of Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Sweeney on the Central Point road will be the meeting place Thursday evening of the Graduate Nurses association. The business meeting will be followed by entertainment with Miss Henrietta Janssen, Miss Thelma Kent and Mrs. Hemphill, hostesses.

Bible Class Meets Tuesday Evening at "Y"

The regular meeting of the Men's and Women's Bible class will be held Tuesday, April 5th, at 7:30, at the Y. W. C. A. For this weeks the Plagues and Pharaoh Compromises will be studied as given in the seventh and eighth chapters of Exodus. This class is under the leadership of Mrs. E. N. Warner. All interested are cordially invited.

Church and Lodge Groups Meet Tuesday

Tuesday is again the chosen meeting day of numerous organizations of the city. The Lady Elks will hold their regular social gathering Tuesday afternoon at the temple, with bridge and pool as diversions. Playing will begin at 2 o'clock.

St. Ann's Altar society will meet Tesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the parish hall for regular business. The same afternoon the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Olin Arnspiger, 711 West Palm street. Miss May Phipps will lead the study and the hostess will be assisted by Miss Cora Carder, Mrs. A. S. Bilton and Mrs. Riley D. Henson.

Tuesday evening the Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church will meet in the church parlors with members of the H-Triangle club as guests. The program will be presented by Mrs. Everett Eads' group.

Roberts Entertain at Dinner for Mr. Marshall

Edison Marshall, noted author and big game hunter, who has been the guest here for several days of his mother, Mrs. G. E. Marshall of South Oakdale, was honor guest Saturday night at a dinner party, given by Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberts at their attractive home on Crown hill. Covers were laid for 12 guests.

Mr. Marshall leaves this evening for the north to continue soon to his home in Augusta, Ga., having received a wire from his friend, Allistair Erskine of England, announcing that he is en route to Georgia for a visit with the Marshalls. Mr. Erskine formerly lived in southern Oregon and is well remembered here. Mr. Marshall visited him in England a few years ago on return from his big game expedition into Africa.

Junior High P.-T. A. Study Club Meets

The Parent-Teacher Study club og the Junior high school held an enthusiastic and well attended meeting Friday. Parent Education by Sarah W. Prentice and Mary Crumly was again the topic of study with special emphasis placed upon guidance of the developing child.

Unit seven was studied and questionnaires dealing with rewards filled out by the members. Mrs. Trowbridge, the leader, brought out some very good points concerning the right type of rewards, stating that it is exceedingly difficult to punish without inspiring the wrong attitude as a result.

Mrs. Sleeter to Be Hostess to Lady Lions

Mrs. R. W. Sleeter will be hostess Wednesday afternoon at her home on Siskiyou Heights to members of the Lady Lions club. Covered dish luncheon will be served and bridge enjoyed during the afternoon, with Mrs. Fred Scheffel and Mrs. Allen Smith assisting the hostess.

Miss Brannan to Speak Here Saturday, April 9

Miss Eleanor Doddgridge Brannan, associate secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, will speak in Medford Saturday afternoon, not Friday, as announced in yesterday's paper. She will give her address at the First Christian church at 2:30 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to the event.

Miss Brannan is described as a brilliant speaker and has a wealth of knowledge regarding European as well as domestic affairs. She has spoken in 15 states of the country. Her address here is being sponsored by the Rogue River Valley College Women's club.

Misses Roberts and Guests Return South

Misses Mary Lee and Dorothy Roberts, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberts, and Misses Mildred Ahmann and Virginia VanDyke of Sioux City, Iowa, who were their house guests last week, left Sunday evening for Oakland, Cal., to resume their studies at Mills college.

The Misses Roberts were hostesses Friday at a luncheon honoring their house guests, to which other students home from Mills college were invited, composing a guest list of eight.

Mrs. Knapp Hostess To Club Wednesday

Women of Rotary will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp at her home, 38 Geneva. Covered dish luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock and will be followed by bridge and sewing. Asisting Mrs. Knapp will be Mrs. Fred Heath, Sr., and Mrs. Clinton Spencer.

Auxiliary Sewing Club Meets Tonight

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary sewing club will meet this evening in the club rooms of the Medford National Bank building for regular session, and will devote the evening to placing stickers on poppies for Memorial day.

DEMOCRATS RUSH TO PROTECT VOTE

Registration continues brisk at the county clerk's office, and to date, there has been an increase in the number of Democrats, chiefly from the country districts. There has been some renouncing of the Republican faith in this city, but the sentiment against the administration lies in the Eagle Point, Evans Creek and Ashland precincts. Many of the new registrants have not voted at the last two elections, and some were formerly listed as Independents, Socialists, prohibitionists or miscellaneous.

Registration books close April 19, and no figures on the number of voters will be available until then. It is estimated that the lists will total those of 1922 and 1928, when especially heavy registration was made.

FIRST METHODIST PASTOR EXPLAINS BOND DIFFICULTY

Before a large congregation in the First M. E. church Sunday morning, Rev. A. G. Bennett made a pastoral statement concerning the financial difficulties with the bonding company in St. Louis, which culminated in the court proceedings for foreclosure and the sale of the property by the sheriff last week.

Dr. Bennett expressed deep concern as to the impressions the people of Medford generally are getting in these matters, and his desire that all might understand the situation and how it has developed.

"The story," said Dr. Bennett, "begins about seven years ago, not long after the beautiful new edifice was built and dedicated.

"In 1925 the church obtained a loan of $35,000 from the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., of St. Louis. The loan to run for 10 years at 6 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, in June and December. Also $1500 was to be paid on principal annually in June.

"For 5 years, up to June, 1930, all interest and principal payments were made in full and the principal indebtedness was reduced to $29,000.

"However, in June, 1930, there was a delinquency of $1000 in principal payment, though the interest payment of $870 was made, and $500 paid on principal.

"Immediately the Loan Co. began threatening to foreclose unless the $1000 was paid at once. The church began correspondence and appeal for help to the Methodist Board of Home Missions in Philadelphia. An official of the board, at the pastor's urgent request, visited Medford, counselled with the church officials and made recommendations which the church carried through.

"Later the chief official of the Home Mission Board visited Medford and proposed and agreed that if the Medford Methodists would raise $3000 cash by May 15, the Mission Board would advance $7000 at certain low rates of interest; and a further condition was that this $7000 was to be applied solely on the principal indebtedness, and also that the $3000 raised locally was to be applied solely on principal; also that any delinquency in interest was to be paid to date of receiving the $7000.

"During the period of this correspondence and these negotiations an interest payment of about $850 fell due December, 1930, and was not paid.

"In May, 1931, the local church had raised among the people the $3000 and was ready to qualify for the $7000 from the Home Mission Board. The raising of the $3000 was marked by sacrificial giving on the part of the people, some of whom went into debt personally to do so. This $3000 marked the extreme limit of the people's ability to give in these distressful times.

"Then in June, the Medford church officials wrote the loan company, advising them that the $3000 was raised, and the $7000 from the Board of Home Missions was expected, but that these two amounts, totaling $10,000, could be applied only on the principal indebtedness.

"There was also the delinquent half year's interest payment of December, and another half year's interest coming due immediately on June 15, but with only sufficient funds on hand for one of these payments. This meant that if the December delinquent interest were paid with this money, but not the June interest, the June delinquency would place the church again at once in danger of foreclosure after the December payment and the $10,000 on principal were sent to St. Louis. The church would not be saved from foreclosure proceedings, though the loan company would be the richer by nearly $11,000.

"The Medford officials stated to the loan company that they would promptly qualify for the $7000 toward payment of $10,000 on principal, provided the loan company would write off the delinquent half year's interest, and thus make the church safe from foreclosure.

"Also the local officials asked the loan company to waive a 2 per cent premium required on whatever amounts the church offered on principal payments in advance of dates due. Payment of the $10,000 on principal would pay in advance all principal payments due before the year 1936. This 2 per cent amounted to nearly $200.

"The church received no direct reply from the loan company, but did receive a copy of a letter from the company to Bishop Lowe, in which they rejected the offer and took the church to task for making it.

"Some three weeks after the proposition was sent from Medford to St. Louis, the Medford officials, after canvassing the whole situation, concluded to withdraw it.

"The local board has been at a loss to understand the action of the loan company. At no time has the company asked what the local church could do, or apparently even tried to find out; and this in spite of the depressing conditions prevailing everywhere. They have simply told the Medford church officials what was owed and insisted on prompt payment, or foreclosure would follow.

"The church is yet hopeful that some arrangement can be made with the loan company whereby the property can be transferred back, even though a considerable cash payment be required. With the $3000 raised last May and the $7000 help from the Home Missions Board for final settlement, surely some way out can be found.

"We Methodists," said Dr. Bennett, "are eager to save the property and to carry on the work which was begun in Medford more than 45 years ago. The church has not been 'laying down on the job,' nor desirous to let things go by default, nor to repudiate its just financial obligations. In order to maintain the church as a 'going concern' and meet its running expenses promptly, very sharp cuts have been made in its budget and in pastoral support. A spirit of unity has prevailed in its official board, and all organizations have been faithfully carrying on their work, in spite of the embarrassment and handicap, due to the financial difficulty with the St. Louis loan company, and the facing of the foreclosure proceedings which culminated March 31.

"The pastor is deeply gratified with the sympathy and hospitality extended by other Medford churches, and feels confident of the fraternal, prayerful and co-operative interest of all the congregations of Christian people while the Methodists are wrestling with their problem."

2 WILLYS KNIGHT CARS TAKEN HERE

Willys-Knight cars belonging to Mrs. Luther Deuel of Central Point and John Heuners of Jacksonville were stolen last evening from the streets of Medford, according to reports at the city police station.

Mrs. Deuel's car was parked near the Holly theater, and the theft was reported to police at 9:15 o'clock. The Heuner auto was parked on Portland avenue and the loss was discovered at 8:45 o'clock last evening.

Heuner's car was located at Jackson street bridge last night, but until noon today no trace was found of the Deuel auto.

STREAMS OF COUNTY CARRYING FULL HEAD

The watermaster's office reported today that all the streams of the county are carrying a good head of water and that the flow in Bear creek is the heaviest of the year. Rain and snow were reported falling in the Fish lake, Crater lake, Dead Indian and Siskiyou areas, with irrigation reservoirs there filling from thawing. The Emigrant dam is full to overflowing and the other irrigation sources rising steadily.

Dollars Make Dollars

When Put to Useful Work

THE idle dollar does no one any good. Hoarded, it lies in the strong box, gathering dust. It is worthless. It does not even earn its keep. Instead of bringing its owner an income, it actually costs money to keep it safe . . . and the man who hides it away in a secret place lives always in fear that someone else will get there first.

It was not hoarded money that built industrial and agricultural America. Dollars that were earned by honest toil built the great plants that make steel, flour, shoes, clothing—the things people need and use. Honestly earned dollars, honestly invested, grow wheat, live stock, horticultural and dairy products.

The invested dollars of more than 6,500 preferred shareholders of The California Oregon Power Company helped to build the plants that supply necessities to 60 cities and towns of the Pacific Northwest. They built hundreds of miles of transmission and distribution lines. They are doing useful work, all day—every day—throughout the year . . . and will continue to do useful work, and earn their keep, while hoarded money loafs.

The opportunity to earn a return on investment is better today than for years. Banks pay interest on deposits regularly. Sound securities earn, and pay, a regular, safe income.

The preferred shares of The California Oregon Power Company have paid dividends regularly since April 15, 1921. The 42nd consecutive quarterly dividend on these shares was paid January 15, 1932.

Present Price $86 Per Share, to yield approximately 7% on the investment. We will be glad to supply you with easy-to-understand facts about our 6 per cent preferred shares. Telephone or visit our nearest office.
