Raymond Reter, president of the Rogue River Traffic association, who recently returned from a trip to Seattle, made in the interests of plans to finance the local pear crop through organization of an agricultural finance corporation, spoke to members of the Kiwanis club today at luncheon at the Hotel Medford.

Difficulties encountered by apple growers of the northwest in obtaining funds through the reconstruction finance corporation were reviewed by Mr. Reter with a resume of the progress made by the local committee, headed by J. C. Thompson.

The positive necessity for cooperation of big interests in receiving funds was emphasized by Mr. Reter. The local committee, he explained, is awaiting an answer from request made to the Southern Pacific for $25,000, upon which progress of the local plan now depends.

Weather conditions, bloom, and all natural conditions point to a fine pear crop, he informed the club.

The young fellow, who tried hard to keep back the tears when reporting the affair, was all smiles when he again had a dollar.

The counterfeit dollar was composed of lightweight metal and a hole in it was plugged with tinfoil.
