IVY MARKET FIGHT CASE HURRIED ON BY JUDGE NORTON

Attorneys in the damage suit of George M. Becker against Alex Anderson and Bill Gibson, of the Ivy Street market, were cautioned by the court this morning not to be so minute in their questioning of witnesses about trivial matters and to eliminate detail questioning, in order to complete the trial by evening. Becker is suing for $15,000 as the result of a fight with the defendants last November. The defendants counter with a suit for $6000 each.

The cautioning of the court came when Attorney Don Newbury started to query Herbert Hunsaker, a witness, about what became of the balance of a gallon of liquor. Hunsaker said he "confiscated" it after the fracas and the next day gave Becker a drink from the pint bottle. Disparity between the weight of Becker and the two defendants, and the allegation that Anderson held a cleaver and Gibson a butcher knife, when the fight ended, as stressed by the plaintiff in cross examination of Hunsaker, who testified he was a friend of all concerned. He testified that he had tried to take the cleaver from Anderson. The cleaver was an exhibit at the trial.

The defense opened late yesterday after Medford policemen and Dr. L. D. Inskip and the plaintiff had testified. Gibson was called to the stand in his own behalf this morning, and told the story of the battle, which centered largely around a gallon of moonshine.

The court indicated a special effort would be made to complete the case today for deliberation by a jury with five women members.

CANDIDATES INVITED TO CENTRAL POINT GRANGE

Candidates for county offices will be introduced to the Central Point Grange and guests Friday night, April 8, according to announcement today.

The public is invited to the special meeting to be held at the Grange hall and an auction sale will be a feature of the evening. Each woman is asked to bring a pie.

Mikschke to Talk On Crop Finance

William Haines Comes Friday

The "inside" of a great broadcasting station in operation—strange details of the peculiar occupations of artists heard over the air—their joys and sorrows, are woven into a powerful drama in "Are You Listening?"

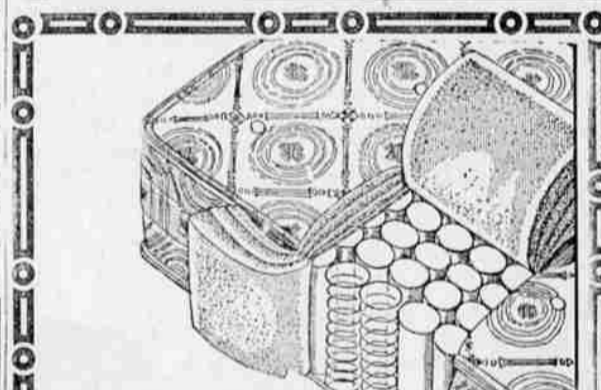

William Haines is seen in his first straight dramatic characterization in this picture, playing the role of a radio continuity writer whose existence is made miserable by a neurotic, hen-pecking wife, who refuses to give him a divorce so that he can really marry the girl he loves. This domestic impasse eventually results in a bitter quarrel in which the wife is accidentally killed. Haines is forced to flee the police and he is subsequently caught through the very channels of the radio by which he had hoped to achieve a successful career.

Loretta Young Has Part in Holly Hit

"Play Girl" with Winnie Lightner and Loretta Young in the featured roles, is now the attraction at the Holly theater. These two ladies need no introduction to Holy audiences, having appeared in many fine feature pictures. Again, Loretta Young is youthful, zestful and appealing.

Base Ball, the home-run king of baseball, is featured in an act entitled "Perfect Control." Then of equal interest is the April Horoscope, in which a Hindu psychic tells the destiny of those born in April, according to the stars. Graham McNamee announces another interesting news reel, and Thelma White and Fanny Watson are seen in a clever comedy "Shake a Leg."

The entire program is very well balanced, with important news events, novelties, comedy drama and romance. This program will show at the Holly for the balance of the week, closing with the last performance Saturday night.

JACKSON COUNTY'S CANDIDATES ALIKE IN SLOGAN CHOICE

"Efficiency," "Economy" and "Impartiality" are the leading terms used by candidates for public office in this county and a high percentage of the slogans that will be printed on the ballot after the names contain these vote luring words.

The county clerk's records show that in 1928, when the last presidential election was held, there was a dearth of slogans but in the eight years preceding "Law enforcement and upholding the Volstead act" were favored.

Attorney W. E. Phipps, Democratic candidate for county judge, submitted the longest slogan and affirmed allegiance to the Jeffersonian principles. C. A. Thomas, Ashland, Republican candidate for county judge, refrains from economy as a battle cry and favors "a middle course between extravagance and penny pinching." Thomas quotes President Hoover in his slogan.

"Tax reduction" is employed only by one candidate, as a slogan foundation, and another favors "just assessments for every inch of Jackson county."

Ben Miller, Republican candidate for sheriff, guarantees "economy and service with a smile." J. E. (Mose) Barkdull, a Democratic warhorse and candidate for precinct committeeman, solemnly pledges "to work for the Democratic party."

Five of the candidates offer "best efforts," one "economy and courtesy," and one "simon-pure justice." Three guarantee to "fill the post to the best of my ability," and one has an eye out "for the future generation." One candidate is running "on the Meier policies," but there is no mention of "free power."

All the slogans are noble and lofty. The efficient, economical and progressive.

Denison Receives New Refrigerator

Four Crosley electric refrigerators were distributed to dealers in Oregon this week by the factory at Cincinnati, Ohio, and one of these new models was received at the Denison Radio shop at 402 East Main street, Wednesday afternoon. The public has anticipated the first display of Crosley refrigerators because of their remarkably low price and advertised high quality.

Extra heavy cabinet insulation—three-inch thickness of Dry Zero—silent operation, concealed refrigeration unit, beautiful white lacquered cabinet and interior of white porcelain are some of the features which combine to make the new Crosley a real sensation, John Denison stated today. It's nine square feet of shelf and three ice-trays holding 63 cubes, make it a satisfactory size for the average family.
