Marion Nixon Stars In Craterian Drama
The romantic and clever story of two young lovers who seek happiness but are always forced to, through one circumstance or another, put off their eventual bliss until later, is the theme of that excellent screen feature, "After Tomorrow," starring handsome Charles Farrell and demure Marian Nixon, which is now showing at the Fox Craterian theatre.

One of the distinctive features of this picture is the fact that it is the first time that Farrell and Miss Nixon have co-starred together in the same picture.

Of course, Farrell will be immediately remembered as the "other half" of that famous Farrell-Janez Gaynor team which provided so many magnificent successes of the past, including "Street Angel," "Seventh Heaven," "Delicious" and many others of note.

Miss Nixon is herself a star of renown. She has appeared in stellar roles in almost all of Hollywood's outstanding studies.

"After Tomorrow" is a delightful type of entertainment. Just sentimental enough to be highly likeable, and yet with a strong thread of action all the way. Other players in this dandy picture include William Collier Sr., Minna Gombell, Nora Lane and many others of note.

A Charles Chase comedy hit is included as a special attraction on the program.

INVESTIGATION OF DOG CASE OPENED BY CO. OFFICIALS

Opening an intensive campaign to end cruelties to dogs, perpetrated during the past two years in the Spring street districts and adjoining sections, Sheriff Ralph Jennings, County Judge C. B. Lankin, Mrs. H. D. McCaskey and Mrs. Sidney Richardson, officers of the Jackson County Humane society, made a tour of the vicinity yesterday questioning all neighbors of Charles Rose, whose little wire-haired terrier, Rough, is receiving treatment for sulphuric acid burns inflicted last Saturday.

An investigation of homes visited was made in an effort to apprehend the criminal. Sulphuric acid in diluted form was found at one place. The owner, however, assured the group of officers that injuring a dog was the last thing he would consider doing.

Neighbors visited were: L. T. Blah, D. M. Bates, Mrs. A. M. Roberts and Mrs. W. T. Bolger. Each promised to lend county officers and officials of the humane society full co-operation in the campaign to discover the perpetrator of the fiendish crime.

During the past two years, Mrs. Richardson stated, 14 dogs have been killed by poisoning in the locally neighboring Spring street, where the Rose family resides. Last summer a large pointer owned by Mrs. Rose was poisoned. All deaths have resulted from very cruel forms of poisoning but the inhuman treatment of "Little Dog Rough," the Rose terrier, is classed as the worst form of torture brought to the attention of the humane society since its organization here.

The tour yesterday afternoon began at the Humane society shelter, where officers examined the injured dog, and ended at the Rose home, where Mr. and Mrs. Rose and their four children were found eagerly hoping for the recovery of Rough.

Dr. James F. Horr, veterinarian at the humane society shelter, has assured them he will see that the little dog is in no more pain. He feels that he can save his life but will be unable to prevent serious scars. The later, however, Mr. Rose said yesterday, he will not object to. He has many himself and the little dog is sufficiently intelligent to get along with them. Sheriff Jennings and the humane society officials intend to carry the investigation further and a large reward, bearing $1000, is offered for apprehension of the criminal.
