LINDBERGH BILL LIST SENT HERE

Banks of the city and county, and police officials, today received a 57-page booklet from the treasury department, listing serial numbers of the $50,000 in bills paid by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh for return of his son, only to be bilked by the kidnapers.

Bankers were requested to keep a sharp eye for the bills and to report to proper authorities at once, using every effort to detain the bill-passer, pending arrival of the law.

A pamphlet was placed in the hands of all tellers and cashiers, and brings the hunt for the stolen babe into every community of the land. The pamphlets were rushed from Washington, D. C., by air-mail, and will be widely distributed on the theory that the possessors may attempt to dispose of them in distant and obscure points.

VIC MEYERS BRINGS ORCHESTRA HERE FOR DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

A Seattle man who can attend a banquet garbed in a sheet, leading a goat, and munching carrots noisily—and do so as nonchalantly as if lighting a certain brand of cigarettes, will arrive in Medford tomorrow. And Vic Meyers, the "personality man" of Washington, will possess the same jaunty air which attracted national attention a few weeks ago.

His purpose, however, will not be for the mayoralty vote of Seattle, but to direct his 12-piece Columbia recording orchestra which will play for a dance at the Oriental Gardens Friday evening under the sponsorship of Dom Provost. Reports indicate that his ability to direct the musicians even surpasses that of impersonating the Mahatma M. K. Gandhi.

Although Vic, a native Oregonian, lost the race for mayor, his clowning throughout the campaign kept the other nine candidates wondering how far the buffoonery would influence Seattle's voting public.

The orchestra leader was busy day and night, and his well-known dance band could scarcely keep up with the demands for appearances.

Dance fans throughout southern Oregon are planning to attend the premiere event here tomorrow evening, scheduled on Meyer tour.

His fame spread throughout the nation following his nomination as mayor early this year. He went on record as favoring cracked ice for prowl cars, bands to meet all trains, and 4 per cent beer. To emphasize the 4 per cent idea, Meyers rode through Seatle streets atop a brewery wagon drawn y four shaggy horses. The demonstration came to a dramatic close when one wheel fell off the car, causing beer kegs to roll in every direction.

Vic Meyers and his men will also appear on the Holly stage tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.
