Copco Stockholders Get Usual Dividend, Over 6,500 shareholders of The California Oregon Power company, most of whom are residents of southern Oregon and northern California, have just received their regular quarterly dividend on Copco preferred stock, which means that a substantial sum of money has been released for circulation in this territory. Accompany the Copco dividend checks was the usual quarterly letter from C. M. BOURBONS BATTLE FOR SHERIFF HIGH SPOT IN CAMPAIGN

With the primary election a few days more than a month away, the political pot of Jackson county, often reported as "steaming," is doing nothing of the kind. Candidates and their co-workers are talking, but the rank and file of the voters are uncommunicative, almost to the point of silence. There have been picnics and dances, at which the aspirants made short speeches, but even seeing them all in one bunch, has failed to create a furor. The only flash of interest to date has been in the sheriff's race on the Democratic ticket, between Ralph Jannings, incumbent, and Gordon Schermerhorn. This promises to be a hot fight, with many Republicans switching their political flag to the Bourbons, for the primary. Some of the Democratic wakers resent the opposition taking part in a family row, but nothing can be done about it. On the other hand, heavy registration for the primary, indicates more interest than shows on the surface. The Democracy of these parts has close to 1000 more votes than normal and the major portion of the gain is attributed by the G. O. P. leaders, to dissatisfaction with the Hoover administration because of the depression, but they do not view it as a menace. Bourbon chieftans however look upon the switch as the acquiring of more political sense by the voters, and appreciation of the superior qualifications of their candidates. The campaign is expected to warm up within the next ten days when county officials and others set out to refute wild charges. County Assessor J. B. Coleman predicts a 50 per cent vote at the primary, and a record crop of 11th hour caudars.

NEW TRIAL PLEAS BY FEHL AND REED TO BE AIRED SOON

Argument on motions for a new trial in behalf of the Pacific Record Herald, and Earl H. Fehl, its editor, against whom a $15,000 libel suit verdict was returned by a jury, and Albert W. Reed, Denver youth, in state prison at Salem, under sentence of life imprisonment for complicity in the slaying of Victor Knott, Ashland policeman last November are scheduled to be heard in circuit court within the next two days. Early action is also expected on legal steps initiated by Niedermeyer, Inc., against the publication on foreclosure of a mortgage. The state will file eight or ten counter-affidavits, opposing those filed by the defense in the Reed case. The defense affidavits claim misconduct on the part of a woman juror, discovery of new evidence and attack the credibility of Policeman Roy Laymon, chief identifying witness for the state in the trial. The counter-affidavits will charge that the makers of affidavits against Laymon were actuated by malice. In Fehl's new trial plea, both sides filed numerous affidavits, both sides alleging misconduct of a woman juror, non-residence of one of
