HIGHWAY EFFICIENCY

YOU MAY have noticed that you were able to travel this winter with less dangers from snow or ice on the Highways than ever before. It is quite likely that if you gave any thought to this at all you have attributed it to the fact that we have had a more open winter. The truth of the matter is that this condition of safety, which has existed throughout the season, is entirely due to the efficiency of the State Highway Maintenance men.

For had they not prepared for any condition which might have existed and out of a very limited budget purchased the equipment and tools necessary to rapidly and economically remove the snow which fell on the highways, together with the ice that formed in cold weather, there would have been many days when travel through-out the country would have been not only highly dangerous, but in some instances, impossible.

The Engineers in charge of Maintenance work have one of the hardest jobs in the Department. They are not only responsible for the up-keep and safety of thousands of miles of roads the year round, regardless of weather, but are invariably restricted to a limited amount of money that they can have to do this work.

As you travel along the road on pleasant days you will notice groups cleaning out the ditches along the side of the road; repairing culverts; digging out pot-holes and breaks in the surface then placing new material and bringing the surface up to a smooth grade.

In the winter as you ride along in your closed, heated car you will find these same men exposed to wind and cold as they drive their snow plough up and down the highways so that you may travel with the least possible inconvenience.

So when you come to a sign reading "Slow Down—Men Working" remember that this sign is not placed alongside of the road to bother you nor especially for the safety of the workmen—IT IS PUT THERE IN ORDER THAT THE ROAD MAY BE MADE SAFE FOR YOU!

" 'Do you know who I am?' I asked.

Denied Kicking Woman

"I asked him who kicked the woman," Massie testified with rising voice, "and he said nobody kicked the woman.

"I said 'now I know you are lying.'

"He said he didn't know 'nothing.'

"Mrs. Fortescue got up and said 'he won't talk; let us carry out our other laws.'

"I told him if he wouldn't talk we knew what to do. I told Lord to go out and get the boys. As Lord went out I told Kahahawai 'if you don't talk you'll get what Ida (another defendant who was kidnaped and beaten) got. These men will beat you to ribbons. Now you talk.'

Native Confesses

"Suddenly he said 'yes we done it.' That's all I remember. All I could see was my wife and hear what she told me—that when Kahahawai attacked her and she prayed for mercy he answered by breaking her jaw."

Massie said the next thing he remembered was being taken to the police station. This was some two hours after the killing, and after Kahahawai's body had been found in an automobile near Koko head. In the car were Massie, Mrs. Fortescue and Lord.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—Stocks were unable to continue their recovery through a third session today, although the bond market still felt the stimulating effect of the federal reserve's credit expansion program.

Trading quarters were inclined to look upon the upturn in the stock market of the last two sessions as largely a technical rebound, to await something in the way of favorable news before trying to press the rally further. Enough week-end profit taking and selling came into the market to cause numerous recessions of fractions to more than two points from yesterday's close.

stores. He had noticed the Ford sedan with the New York license plates and asked the woman which route they had followed coming west.

A younger woman and two children were sitting in the car, he said.

In the store, the other woman, who Mr. Barton said was slender, and about 46 years old, said they had just made the trip from the east, and had come through Utah and Nevada.

The slender woman became very nervous Mr. Barton told Chief McCredie, and when Mr. Evanson said they could not change the bill, she said that was the smallest amount of money they had, and could not take the purchases. They left hurriedly, he reported.

A check made by police of registrations at the Oregon State Motor Association's bureau here, showed two New York cars registered during the past week, one on Tuesday to Albert H. Kitching, which was a Ford, and the other to Homer F. Westcock, on Thursday.
