BOARD TO TEST LAW REQUIRING PAY FOR INSANE

SALEM, Ore., April 23.—(AP)—The state board of control today instructed Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle to represent the state in the test case brought by Multnomah county on the constitutionality of the 1931 legislative act relative to payment by relatives and counties for insane and feeble minded inmates at state institutions.

The case will be tried in Portland May 5, Charles S. Cohn, deputy district attorney of Multnomah county, informed the board members. The act requires relatives to pay $20 per month for their keep in state institutions, and where relatives are unable to pay it falls upon the county to make the payments.

The attorney stated it had not been definitely decided upon what points the constitutionality of the law would be attacked, other than general validity of the statute and the matter of failure to pay without jury trial.

The board today accepted the new hospital building at the tuberculosis institution, recently completed at a cost of approximately $60,000 by L. H. Hoffman, Portland. The structure is known as the main hospital building on the site.

There's no escape—costly oils do form HARD CARBON!

HARD—EXPENSIVE TO REMOVE
You think your valves need grinding, you blame your gasoline—often sluggish engines are caused by carbon from the "fancy" oil you bought to protect your engine!

SOFT—BLOWS AWAY
It is easy to avoid hard carbon troubles. Shell Motor Oil forms no hard carbon—just a little fluffy soot carried harmlessly away by the exhaust gases.

THEY try hard to "refine it out"—these "luxury" oils that cost you so much. They aren't proud of their carbon. It is a hard, flinty kind—the sort that clogs engines, causes damage.

But SHELL MOTOR OIL, reasonably priced, forms no hard carbon! It is a different kind of oil—guaranteed by Shell Oil Company to do the finest lubrication job you can get from an oil—an oil naturally free from hard carbon.

Which will you choose? Safe, economical SHELL MOTOR OIL or a high priced carbon-former which can (and does) cause warped valves, engine knocks, rapid wear.
