Blacks Expected At Summer Home Here, Early Date

Society is eagerly awaiting the return to Medford of Capt. and Mrs. C. N. Black, who arrived in San Francisco last week on the Matopos, following an extensive cruise of the Pacific.

They are expected to spend the major portion of the season at their summer home on the Rogue.

Mrs. McCaskey Is Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. H. D. McCaskey was among the charming hostesses of the past week, entertaining at luncheon and bridge 12 members of the Colony club Wednesday at her home on the Old Stage road.

Dinner Dance Given By Zuleima Patrol

Monday evening was a festive one for members of the Zuleima patrol and their husbands, who gathered for dinner and dancing in the Masonic hall. The patrol members were hostesses for the occasion and the dinner table, where covers were placed for 44 was decked with tulips and lilacs in artistic bouquets. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baker of Grants Pass. Mrs. Baker is queen of the temple.

Colony Club Holds Luncheon on Friday

The last regular luncheon to grace the Colony club at the club house on East Main street Friday afternoon. Covers were placed for 22 guests. Summer affairs will soon be interesting to the members and it is hoped the usual group of participants from eastern and southern points will make Medford their playground again this coming season.

Edgels Entertain at Dinner Monday

Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Edgels were hosts at dinner Monday evening at their home on Berkeley way for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. H. Chandler Smith, who recently returned from their winter home at Fable Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carpenter.

Women's Greater Oregon Association Holds Talk

The Medford branch of the Women's Greater Oregon association met at the Medford hotel Tuesday afternoon April 27. Mrs. Glen Patrick presiding. Articles concerning certain Oregon products were read and discussed.

Mr. Fabrick Introduced and gave a very informative and interesting talk on the raising of flax and its manufacture in Oregon.

Mr. Fabrick had recently visited the Salem linen mill owned and operated by Mr. Calbreath and had brought down samples of flax and linen showing the different stages of development from the plant to the finished piece of linen.

Oregon flax is second only to that from a certain section of Belgium and much of our Oregon product is shipped to eastern and European markets to be manufactured into fine linens.

Towels and lunch-cloths of Oregon flax are on the market and there should be an increasing demand for them among Oregon citizens and tourists.

Past Matrons and Patrons Feted at Brilliant Affair

Outstanding for its loveliness and large attendance was the banquet given by Reames chapter, O. E. S., Wednesday evening, marking the thirty-second birthday of the chapter and complimenting the past matrons and past patrons. The dining room of the Masonic hall was the scene of the 6:30 dinner and the long table, banked with ferns and flowers, resembled a miniature garden.

Dainty courses of lilies of the valley, buttercups, daisies and blue forget-me-nots, made by worthy matrons. Mrs. Cornelia Barnes, marked each past matron's place. Boutonniere of lilies of the valley graced the past patrons' places. At one end of the table the immense birthday cake, baked by Mrs. C. D. Thompson, was the center of attraction.

The past matrons in attendance, in order of their years in office were: Beanie Lumden, Mattie Hutchinson, Nellie McGowan, Ella Yawter, Mattie Pickett, Gertrude Weeks, Lillian Woodford, Stella Merrick, Kate Young, Agnes Merrill, Kate O'Brien, Ethel Boggs, Maude Newbury, Irene Purdin, Ella Perry, Anna Brayton, Mary Sweney, Edna Elfert, Angie Ray, Helen Minkler, Grace Boyl, Della Scheffel and Greenwood Woodcock.

Past patrons, listed in the same order, were: William McGowan, John Lawrence, Dr. Jud Rickett, J. A. Perry, E. M. Wilson, George Codding, Bob Hammond, Len Bishop, A. H. Whitlock, Paul Rynning, Frank Corlies, Ned Guy, W. D. Barnes and Orin Cohen.

The beautiful birthday cake in the dining room was cut by Mrs. Barnes and served by the following citizens: Meta Gilbert, Rose Houston, Verda Sanders and Myrna Funk.

Mrs. Irene Purdin, during whose year in office the greatest number of candidates became members of Reames chapter, read her list of 22 people.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Barriger arrived in Medford last week from Devil's Lake to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, at their ranch home north of Medford. Mr. Barriger is continuing south to Los Angeles and will join Mrs. Barriger again at the Jones ranch some time the last of this week.

Mrs. Reames Tells Dates for Medford Garden Club Show

Dates for Medford's annual Garden club flower show were announced yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. E. Reames, president of the club, before her departure for Portland, where she is attending the show of the Garden club of the Rose City at Laurelhurst park today.

The Medford show will be held May 25 and 26, the place to be announced later. Extensive plans for the event, one of the most interesting in local society's whole year, are in formation, and Mrs. Reames is expected to return the first of the week with many additional clever suggestions for the show.

Miss Carlton To Speak at Health Meeting in Salem

Miss Mildred Carlton, president of the Jackson County Public Health association, left yesterday for Salem, where she will attend the State Child Welfare conference, called as a preliminary to the White House conference. She will speak at the conference on the benefits to be contributed by a county public health association to a program of child health protection.

Other local folk who will attend the conference are Miss Dorothy Mitchell, Y. W. C. A. secretary, and Oscar E. Hooper, Boy Scout executive.

Dr. C. Drummond, county physician will attend the state health officers meeting. Miss Blanche Rinnels, county health nurse, and Misses Swearingen and Coffeen are leaving tomorrow for the state nurses meeting, where they will represent Jackson county.

Annual Poppy Sale Scheduled in May

Poppies to you perhaps are just crumpled nestles of crimson crepe paper to wear once a year for memory to the man whose hands were thick, stiff, slow-moving fingers have fashioned them they are little, bright red doors to the land of opportunity. Their scarlet petals are not mere slips of tissue at all, but gay flags signal pennies into their pockets.

For the poppies which the Medford American Legion Auxiliary will sell on Poppy day, May 20th and 21st, are made by disabled veterans at the Veterans hospital, Portland, Ore.

For each poppy made the veteran receives a penny—a meager sum, to be sure, but they are proud to be of some use and even the pennies as they pile up seem a small fortune to the shun-ins.

Plans for the sale are well under way Mrs. C. Holmes, chairman, announced yesterday, and the response to the Auxiliary's call for volunteers to transform dragging, bleak hours into hurrying, sunshiny minutes.

Officers Installed By Presbyterians
One of the most interesting meetings of the year was held Tuesday afternoon by the members of the Presbyterian Bible class of the Presbyterian church when Mrs. E. Irwin installed the new officers with a most impressive ceremony.

The new leaders of the class are: President, Mrs. L. N. McCollum; vice-president, Mrs. Dolph Phillips; secretary, Mrs. George Oliver; assistant secretary, Mrs. O. B. Morrow; and treasurer, Mrs. Arnie Detweiler.

Mrs. Nettie Howard opened the meeting with devotions on temptation, using various passages of the New Testament to illustrate the many temptations that confronted Christ. At the close of her talk Mrs. Howard was presented with a dainty corsage by little Carmen Ella Wright as a token of farewell from the class because she is leaving soon for a visit in the east.

Mrs. Kate Walters, a former member who is now making her home in Santa Ana, Cal., spoke of Dr. McFadden's work in the Presbyterian church there.

Mrs. L. D. Hodgson gave a vocal number, "I Am a Pilgrim."

The outgoing president, Mrs. Geary Cassett then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Irwin, who, in conducting the installation, told of the many opportunities that are open to leaders in Christian work. Carmen Ella Wright brought corsages of lilies of the valley and primroses to Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. McCollum.

Mrs. E. N. Warner expressed the appreciation of the class of Mrs. Garret's loyal and devoted work the past two years.

During the social hour that followed delicious cakes and tea were served by Mrs. George Oliver and the following committee: Mesdames Lane, Jacques, Eliza, Brown, Tunny, Knochel and Younger.

Guided Luncheon Scheduled Friday
St. Mark's Guild will have the regular cafeteria luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Friday, May 6, to which all members are urged to attend. A social afternoon will follow the luncheon.

Mrs. Kunz Adds to Week's Festivities A Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. C. E. Kunz was a charming hostess at 1 o'clock luncheon and bridge at her home on West Eleventh street Tuesday afternoon. Iris, anapdragons and lilacs were placed in profusion about the rooms for the occasion and place cards and napkins further expressed the pastel color scheme at the luncheon tables.

Following luncheon bridge was played at three tables with prizes going to Mrs. Paul Taylor and Mrs. R. O. Sifton.

Another enjoyable feature of the afternoon was the musical program presented by Mrs. James Milne, pianist.

Those present were Mesdames Eunice Hillis, W. O. Cool, James Milne, R. O. Sifton, Laura Pierce, W. D. Whittle, F. F. Whittle, E. M. Wallin, C. A. Haines, Edward Dunn, Paul K. Taylor, F. M. Kuns, Beale Cook, Wilton and Guy Applewhite.

April Clubwoman Arrives Here In Attractive Cover

The April 32-page issue of the Oregon Clubwoman, official publication of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, has reached Medford subscribers, and bears a most attractive picture of Crater Lake on its cover page.

This special convention number is designed to call attention to the natural beauties, recreational possibilities, and the industries and products of Oregon.

Medford and vicinity are not advertised, as the executive board had hoped. Portland, Pendleton, Salem, Canby, Silverton, the Mt. Hood area, Coos county and other Oregon places are represented in page advertisements. Nearly 100 Oregon industries and products are advertised in this special issue.

The general federation, with its nearly 2,000,000 members, holding a bi-annual convention in Seattle, June 2-18, will bring thousands of people to the west. Medford women are urged to acquaint these delegates with the beauties of Medford, Crater Lake, Rogue River valley and other adjacent places by personal letters and are urged to send copies of the April Clubwoman.

Anyone desiring copies sent anywhere in the United States may send address and 10 cents for each copy and the April Clubwoman will be mailed by the business manager, Mrs. Evelyn Wilson Young, 267 Multnomah hotel, Portland, Oregon.
