

FEHL TO APPEAL TO HIGHER COURT IN DAMAGE SUIT

Notice of appeal to the state supreme court was filed late yesterday in circuit court by attorneys for Earl H. Fehl and the Pacific Record-Herald, from the verdict of the jury awarding Roy Parr, game warden, Ashland, $15,000 general and punitive damages in a libel action growing out of an editorial on the death of Everett Dahack, during the course of a raid on a Reese creek still in 1930.

The appellant will furnish cost bonds only, and not bonds to twice the amount of the $15,000 judgment, as claimed and reported. It will be a nominal bond, not in excess of $500—the usual amount in appeal cases.

The above action is separate from the action of Niedermeyer, Inc., against Fehl and his weekly, for foreclosure of a $14,000 mortgage. A demurrer was filed this week in this case.

The court, the end of the week, will probably take necessary legal steps in connection with both the Fehl and Albert W. Reed appeals from the ruling of the court, denying them new trials. They will be allowed time for preparation of briefs which will be based largely, it is said, upon contentions set forth in the pleas for new trials.

In the ordinary course of procedure in the high court it requires from nine months to a year for action upon an appeal from the lower court.

BARDWELL HOME WILL OPEN ROAD TO CRATER PARK FOR SUNDAY USE BURGLARIZED ON NIGHT OF BLAZE

The police reported today that the night of the fire that swept the packing plant district the home of Ralph G. Bardwell on Oakdale avenue was entered by burglars, who ransacked the basement obtaining nothing of value. The authorities have traced the crime to the boy burglar gangs of this city and established beyond doubt that it had no connection with the conflagration.

State and insurance investigators working on the packing plant blaze have definitely established that the incendiary fire originated in the Growers' Exchange plant on South Fir street, and the Swift & Co. warehouse on Railroad avenue. It was first reported that the latter blaze was set on the loading platform of the Bardwell Fruit company.

Future plans of the concern suffering losses in the fire await the final adjustment by the insurance companies which are expected to be made within the next ten days.

Three Cars Spray For Monarch Seed

Raymond Miksche announced this morning that the Monarch Seed and Feed company has just unloaded three cars of Sherwin-Williams spray and dusting materials, which will enable them to take care of every orchard spray requirement. Mr. Miksche says this is the third season they have handled Sherwin-Williams products and the demand is increasing every year.

Fewer sprays are necessary with S-W arsenate of lead, according to Mr. Miksche.

With only a short snow barrier remaining and government and state plows busily engaged, the opening of the west entrance to Crater Lake national park is assured for week-end traffic, park officials announced today. The state snow plow has been working up from Union creek over a week cutting through several feet of frozen white, in conjunction with park plows which have been operating within the park boundaries.

The park plow reached the entrance Wednesday, and the state snow plow still has about one-half mile to be cleared in order that the park might be open to traffic this week-end.

Depth at Union creek is negligible and remains slight until four miles farther up the highway, where motorists will find banks along the sides of the road. Snow is approximately six feet deep at the west entrance, gradually growing deeper until 17 feet is reached at the rim area, where adequate parking space has been provided for autos.

In making the trip, motorists are cautioned to drive carefully when in the deep snow region due to blind corners caused by high banks. They are also cautioned to have sufficient gasoline in their machines, inasmuch as no gasoline is available within the park.

PORTLAND BUTTER BUYER ADDS CENT TO COUNTRY PRICE

PORTLAND, May 5.—(AP)—Further advance of 1c in the buying price of butterfat at country stations to 17c lb. is announced by a local plant while reports in the trade indicate that as high as 18c is being paid in some places. This is higher than the delivered price generally quoted.

In the butter market generally there was no price change for the day. Production continues to gain, both in the city and in the country, but surpluses are taken care of by the demand to go into coolers.

There continues a generally steady tone in the market for eggs here. Local co-ops and private firms are generally selling at list values. The one drawback for price betterment is the direct selling to retailers by unattached producers.

Extreme slowness of the demand for live chickens along the wholesale way does not reflect the slightest diminishment of demand. In fact, the latter shows a very liberal increase, according to a late survey by the Journal.

Sugar Price Cut By Coast Plants

PORTLAND, Ore., May 5.—(AP)—Further cut of 5c per hundred pounds in the price of refined sugar at Pacific coast plants, following the similar trend in the east, caused Portland to receive a like price. The lower prices are effective at once. The new price to retailers here is $4.05 for best cane granulated and $3.80 for best.

NEW YORK, May 5.—(AP)—The stock market tried to rally for a time today, but wearied of the effort in the last hour. It closed with a somewhat heavy tone, and numerous losses of from fractions to 2 points. The turnover was roughly a million shares.

The market was helped for a time by a buzz of rumors over impending constructive developments in Washington, but when substantiation failed to appear, the list began to sag again.
