Warner Baxter at Fox Craterian

(By Jack Reilax.) A tingling story fraught with scenes of romance, tenderness, and oodles of snappy action and thrills is destined for the Fox Craterian theater screen today and tomorrow when Warner Baxter, beloved "Daddy of 'Daddy Long Legs,'" again portrays a similar role in that splendid feature film, "Amateur Daddy."

Fox films has surrounded Baxter with an exceptional cast, including Marion Nixon, Frankie Darro, Rita LeRoy, William Pawley, David Langdon, Jean Breslaw and many others of note.

This is the story of a construction engineer who adopts the young children of his deceased friend, killed on the bridge-building job which Baxter is superintending. The locale moves to Scotch Valley where a villainous neighbor is trying to steal the children's land.

On the stage, Royal and Carl, widely traveled "hill-billy" type radio stars, with their musical saw and harmonica, and not forgetting their ancient tandem bicycle, offer an excellent act. These boys offer their outstanding radio hits.

A Bargain?—And How!

Tomorrow we will offer as our regular Week End Special the new type Raisin Bran Bread which we introduced at the Mail Tribune Cooking School the last of March.

This very unusual bread made with a liberal portion of raisins, walnuts and honey has become one of our "best sellers" in the few weeks since its introduction.

In order to persuade those who have not yet tried this tasty health loaf to do so this week end we will conduct a special Saturday sale on this

Raisin Bran Bread
11c the loaf

at your favorite grocer or our retail store. The regular price on this loaf is 15c the loaf and we know you will become a repeat customer once we get you to try this wonderful bread.

Remember this is not an ordinary bread. It is a combination of bread and cake which you can eat and enjoy immensely without butter.
