

SENATOR NORRIS WILL BOLT G. O. P. FOR ROOSEVELT

Isiana delegation of 20 to Roosevelt. It was Norris who about a year ago started talk by asserting at a "progressive" conference here that the times called for another Roosevelt. But he explained then that he was thinking of a re-nomination of the noted president, and not so much, if at all, of his namesake and distant relative.

His Smith support in 1928 came close to costing him dearly, but he escaped unpunished by the party to which he owes nominal allegiance. A threat to take away his Republican committee assignments, including chairmanship of the very important judiciary committee, petered out. Placing another George W. Norris in his 1930 race for re-nomination was attempted to destroy him, but the other Norris was ruled off the ticket, and the attempt wound up ingloriously.

Norris and the President were receiving a joint endorsement by the Nebraska state Republican committee just as the senator was making his announcement.

OREGON PIONEERS WILL CELEBRATE

CHAMPOEG, Ore., May 6.—(AP)—Organization of the first American civil government west of the Rock Mountains will be celebrated at Champeog Memorial park here Saturday by the Oregon Pioneer association and others interested in Oregon's history.

The usual steamboat excursion from Portland to the historical Willamette river point has been cancelled this year, but hundreds of persons are expected to make the trip in automobiles from many points.

The Founders' day program has been celebrated for more than 15 years on the first Saturday following May 2. The Oregon local government was established on May 2, 1843.

NURSE STRANGLER BY MANIAC AFTER TERRIFIC BATTLE

of his father's home, only a short distance from the hospital. Carr observed the young woman's form when the headlights of his automobile shone upon it as he drove into the driveway, returning home from Detroit.

Mrs. William Greer, mother of the slain girl, said her daughter and other nurses had been annoyed numerous times in the same vicinity by a man who gave evidence of weak-mindedness. The police searched for the molester on each previous occasion, but were unable to find him.

Miss Wanda Miller, the slain girl's roommate told police a young man had stopped Miss Hafferty near the hospital two weeks ago and had made improper advances. The same young man had insulted the girl on former occasions and had stopped and asked the girls at another time and asked them to accompany him, she said. The girls did not know his name.

The hospital is in an exclusive residential district. No one in the neighborhood heard any outcry, as far as police could learn.

Death was attributed to strangulation by Coroner F. G. Kreft.
