

EAGLE PT. GRANGE CLUB WILL FORM HOUSEWIFE UNIT

Eagle Point Grange Home Economics club met Wednesday with the following ladies present: Mesdames Julia Davies, chairman; Grace Cowden, Ruby Bitterling, Violet Spencer, Gertrude Haak, Madeline Barrett, Ousterhout, Jesse Mitchell, Rosa Smith, Cora Smith, Cliff Hickson, Dinmore Hixon, Mable Hamish, Lillian Force, John Hankins, Ethel Coy, G. Dinmore.

During the business session the chairman explained the county extension service for homemakers, the manner in which community units are formed and district leadership. Mrs. Rosa Smith spoke of the course in nutrition and economy in meals as handled through the Homemakers' clubs, and Mrs. Gertrude Haak spoke on the work planned in the departments on clothing and textiles, also in the department of recreation and dramatics.

The club voted to sponsor a homemakers' club in this community and an endeavor will be made to organize May 11 at 2 o'clock in the Grange hall. All women in the community are invited to attend and take advantage of this opportunity to get instruction in items of interest to homemakers.

The homemakers' club will not be restricted to Grange members, but all women in the community and surrounding communities will be included in membership. The club voted to build a very much-needed cupboard for the Grange hall kitchen. Several quilts will be started for later sale. Mrs. Ruby Bitterling has charge of this.

Mrs. Haak offered to sell some perennial flowering plants very cheaply, part of the proceeds to go to the club. Mrs. Madeline Barrett gave an interesting talk on the arrangement of furniture and flowers in the home. Next regular meeting the last Wednesday in June.

lands, in many instances delinquent taxes being remitted. This was augmented by the sale of a number of choice bits of land for delinquent taxes, and the launching of the "back to the land" movement. Unpaid taxes, beginning today, are subject to the eight per cent delinquent tax. The last half taxes are due on or before November 5, next, after which they become delinquent.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE CHARGES AGAINST MEANS

I am going through with it." On her behalf, Harrison added: "She knew, undoubtedly, Means' record all the time, but she certainly believed he would come through in this case." Means has served time in the Atlanta penitentiary. Leo A. Rover, United States attorney, asked the grand jury to indict Means for larceny after trust. J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the justice department's bureau of investigation, and John M. Heth, an employe, conferred with Rover before the grand jury meeting.

Saw Money Paid. The Rev. Francis H. Hurney, pastor of a Catholic church, and George W. White, president of the Metropolitan National bank of Washington, were among those expected to testify. Mrs. McLean said yesterday she conferred with Father Harney during the negotiations and he has said he saw Mrs. McLean give the money to Means.

Standing in the runway before his cell in the District of Columbia jail, Means told newspapermen he had been engaged by Mrs. McLean at a retainer of $100 a day and expenses to bring about the child's return and he had been given $100,000 to turn over to the kidnapers. Ransom Paid, Is Claim. He added this sum was given to a mysterious "Number 11," whom he described as a supposed agent of Mrs. McLean, after she had become convinced his efforts to return the baby were fruitless and had demanded return of the money.

Means declined to answer all questions concerning the whereabouts of the child with the statement, "Now, that's confidential." Before the Lindbergh case, Means said he made investigations for Mrs. McLean in "Palm Beach and other places." He praised her as a "very fine woman and very motherly."

"I didn't solicit employment in this case," he added. "She came for me."

Had Lindbergh Sanction. He said that when Mrs. McLean approached him he explained he would do nothing until permission had been obtained from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Means emphasized there was no "larceny" involved, adding that "not at any time was any money given to me by Mrs. McLean disturbed in any way."

He said his arrest was no surprise since he had been told April 22 that if he "didn't do this and that" he was to be indicted. He apparently referred to demands by attorneys for Mrs. McLean for return of the money. He said if he had known the warrant had been issued for him he would have surrendered. He has been charged with larceny after trust.

NEW UNCERTAINTY STIRS DEMOCRATS' HUNT FOR LEADER

turnst rolled up the margin of Speaker John N. Garner's victory over Roosevelt, many of the New York governor's opponents said in their haste and exuberance that this was the end of the Roosevelt boom. The tendency has been to amend that judgment after more careful consideration, but the search for a compromise candidate is going forward with great diligence as the Roosevelt men prepare to fill up the gaps and carry on with more determination than ever.

Among the favorite sons, the present speculation of the anti-Roosevelt leaders centers around Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, and former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. There is even more talk, however, of bringing definitely into the field someone with no delegates pledged to him, and trying out party opinion. There is a revival of discussion about Newton D. Baker, Owen D. Young and Melvin A. Traylor.

One of the greatest evidences of the dominant position still occupied by Roosevelt, however, lies in the fact that nothing like an agreement is in sight on any one candidate to oppose him. Garner's friends seem to have little hope of nominating him, despite California. Few respon-
