Farm Wages Stay Higher Than Price Of Most Products

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Although farm wages are the lowest they have been in Illinois since 1911, hired labor costs are still relatively higher than prices on most farm products, says R. C. Ross, University of Illinois agricultural economics specialist. As a consequence, he says, farmers are hiring as little labor as possible and adjusting the cash expenses thru this means.

The demand for farm labor in Illinois on April 1 was only two-thirds normal, Ross says.

effect upon the lumber industry of the bridge craze, says Max Myers, of Cleveland, president of the National American Wholesale Lumber association. Myers has been keeping a record of the new uses to which lumber has been put since home construction declined.

EGG YIELD ON COAST SHOWS RECENT DROP

CORVALLIS, May 12.—(AP)—Declining Pacific coast egg production with a strengthening market undertone was reported in a review of last week's egg markets issued by the state college extension service today. Although the better grade of eggs went into storage in rather large volume, the report said, the rate of

450 Weed Seeds Are Common In Pound of Oats

AMES, Iowa (AP)—It is not uncommon, says an Iowa State college plant pathologist, to find 450 weed seeds in each pound of seed oats. This means 43,200 seeds an acre, if conditions are favorable, or one noxious plant to nearly one square foot. Five live weed seeds per gram of alfalfa seed, or 2,250 per pound, may result in 33,750 weeds to an acre. So R. H. Porter, the pathologist, concludes that farmers should test seed for purity and viability and that, since it costs no more to plant good seed than poor, farmers should avoid this possibility of low production.
