Name the Gang!

SO that's it! Last Sunday we declared that IF (please note the if) as has been charged there is a gang in Medford guilty of depredations, threatening the lives and property of law-abiding citizens, the leaders and members of that gang should be named, the charges against them itemized, the entire matter brought before a grand jury in the regular way, and those indicted, should only be given the opportunity afforded every accused American citizen—the opportunity to prove their guilt or innocence.

If guilty then they should be sent to prison where they belong, and with this iniquitous gang of criminals removed, we opined that Medford MIGHT go through a few political campaigns in the future without this time-honored cry of "down with the gang!" which is so disruptive of community harmony, and of which all sensible people are so thoroughly sick and tired.

If there is such a gang. All right, DOWN WITH IT! And in that work this paper will join with every resource at its command.

But if there ISN'T—if this is just molasses to catch flies—just some more of the moth eaten cry of "wolf!" upon which a few disgruntled politicians hope to get at the public trough, then for the Love of Pete, let's drop it—and let's go on about our business, like grown-up men and women.

BUT the answer to that demand for names, we are surprised to note is to question our sanity. The demand for a grand jury investigation, we are even MORE surprised to note, is termed a demand for a hearing "of the gang, for the gang and by the gang!"

What does that mean? It means (if it means anything!) to BRAND EVERY RESIDENT OF JACKSON COUNTY WITH THE BRAND OF THAT GANG—the gang that has been guilty of dishonesty, graft and corruption, of every crime in the calendar, these many years.

For our grand juries are selected by lot from the ENTIRE POPULATION. That selection is surrounded by every safeguard, that this government of ours has been able to devise. When our faith in the jury system falls, when the integrity of our jury system is destroyed, then, ladies and gentlemen, this government of ours, and the government of our forefathers, FALLS.

DOES any resident of Jackson County BELIEVE that we have come to that sorry pass, that because of this gang control, a grand jury of honest, fair dealing, right thinking men and women CAN'T BE SELECTED, by the only method that our civilization has devised for selecting them.

SOME PEOPLE DO. Those people who have raised this cry of "down with the gang!" do, and have so stated. They have not only charged this gang with crimes, with depredations, with vice and corruption, they have publicly maintained, the people of Jackson county through their law enforcement officers—through their administrative offices, through their courts, and last but not least through their jury system, are powerless to control it.

IN view of such charges, in view of such a situation, IN ALL FAIRNESS, is it a mark of insanity, a proof of ignobility, for those citizens who do NOT believe it, to DEMAND SOME PROOF FROM THOSE WHO DO!

How can any progress toward overthrowing this gang be made, until the leaders and members of the gang are known, until the crime each has committed is known, until this indiscriminate mud-slinging is stopped, until all our cards are put on the table—and a spade is called a spade.

SUBJECT, of course, to correction by any board of alienists desired, we can see no other way. We don't believe the people of Medford and Jackson county have fallen so low, that crime can't be punished, wrongs can't be corrected, crooks can't be run to cover, in the regular way, through our police—our courts and our jury system. We CERTAINLY don't believe that such lawlessness and disorder reigns, that we must leave such criminal matters—and these charges ARE criminal charges!—to the noise and fury of political elections, or to juries named by rival newspapers.

Not believing that we are therefore going to repeat our request that this gang which has not only been robbing the people these many years, but has utterly destroyed all forces of law and order, be brought out in the open, where all may see them, that the charges be presented against each one, and a special grand jury be called at once, to consider the evidence against them.

ISN'T THAT FAIR! Let's clear up this mess once and for all and clear it up now. And then with these criminals named and placed in prison where they belong perhaps we can for a few years at least, hear no more about this boodle snatching, grafting, murderous Medford and Jackson county gang! And that we again repeat, would to us, and we believe to an overwhelming majority of the people of Medford and Jackson county, be "a consummation devoutly to be wished."

 Owen D. Young Says No.
 Japan's Proud Army.
 Forty at a Cock Fight.
 Who Has a Bright Smile?

Copyright King Features Synd., Inc.

The political news of the day is that Owen D. Young has removed himself from the possibility of a democratic nomination for the presidency, emphatically and sincerely. In a letter to John Crowley, publisher of the Little Falls Times, Mr. Young's home paper, Mr. Young concludes with these words: "May I say definitely and finally that I cannot, for reasons which are so controlling as not to be open to argument, accept the nomination for the presidency, if made."

Nothing could be more "final" than that. The statement will shock many influential politicians who have been working in Mr. Young's interest, although apparently without his knowledge or approval, and have felt sure that Mr. Young would be nominated.

The Japanese army is high spirited, its officers feel that they should rule, not any namby-pamby civil government. To express their views, a group of 18 officers murdered the prime minister of Japan, Inukai, 77 years old, wounding six while forcing their way into the old man's house. In connection with this achievement banks were bombed.

When the work was done the 18 that had carried out the ideas of the Japanese military forces surrendered.

Members of the Japanese cabinet, and other high officials, know of "societies vowed to murder" that would kill them off like rats, should they offend Japanese ideas.

The old man murdered on Sunday probably knew, after the Shanghai truce which offended the army, that his life would not last long. He showed courage, as do other officials of Japan.

What the Japanese do with their prime ministers, their army and navy is their business, as long as they did not do it to us.

It is not for us to criticize, but to observe events and learn what we can.

We have little right or inclination to criticize other nations in view of our own crime wave, which is not exactly based "on patriotism."

Its foundations are bootlegging created by prohibition, and it makes Japanese "murders of patriotism" seem mild.

In northern New York forty men were arrested at a cock fight. The police got fifteen game cocks, seven dead ones, killed in battle for the amusement of "primates" standing around the cockpit. Fighting cocks have their natural spurs cut off and sharp steel needles are attached to the stumps. The thrust of a needle through the brain ends the fight.

The birds will endure unlimited suffering from other wounds and fight on. It is hard for us to realize that that was once a favorite sport of English kings, or that serious Englishmen not long ago objected to a ban on bull baiting, saying that Englishmen if they did not see blood might lose courage.

It was necessary for them to see savage bulldogs tear the muzzles of miserable tethered bulls.

An intelligent advertiser offers substantial prizes for "the brightest smile in America." Send a snapshot or bright enough, you get a prize. Joseph P. Day, New York's real estate king, should enter that contest. Anybody who can smile, with real estate at its present levels, as Mr. Day was smiling recently, deserves a prize.

To be cheerful while conditions are pleasant is easy. It takes real character to smile through 1932.

An admirable old American ship builder, Captain Dollar, is dead, in his 88th year. Dead also is William H. Todd. One built ships on the Pacific coast, the other on the Atlantic. Captain Dollar was an immigrant from Scotland. William H. Todd was the son of an Irish immigrant. The two men paid hundreds of millions to American labor, each worked until the day of his death, BUT BOTH WOULD BE EXCLUDED FROM THIS COUNTRY UNDER OUR PRESENT IMMIGRATION LAWS that would keep out such men as have built this country.

Historians of the future, who investigate original documents now prepared by the accountants, Klein, Hinds and Finke, investigating deals of Kreuger, Swedish rich man, with American financiers, will find interesting facts. Kreuger was able to

Personal Health Service

By William Brady, M. D.
 Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady in care of The Mail Tribune.

THE RESISTANCE FALLACY IS PURE PESSIMISM

In our chat May 29, 1930, we said: "When a doctor talks about immunity he is generally trying to tell you how to get it. When he talks about resistance he is offering nothing but discouragement or a helpless regret. Resistance is merely a vague theory or fancy without specific or definite application to any known disease."

Immunity is a well recognized and at least fairly well defined state with specific application to some disease, and when the term is used without specific reference to some disease such as diphtheria or typhoid fever the person who uses it doesn't know what he is talking about. There is no scientific ground for the notion that any one can inherit or acquire general immunity. So that leaves the old timers who dwell so fondly on the importance of keeping the general "resistance" up without a leg to stand on. They're just talking thru their hats, no matter whether they are eminent physicians or big health commissioners.

To tell people these days to get plenty of good nourishing food, fresh air and pure cold water to drink, and maybe to keep their feet dry and avoid drafts, in order to prevent any "lowering of resistance" in time of epidemic, is an insult to their intelligence. I repeat, there is not one iota of scientific evidence that these factors have anything to do with immunity against any known disease.

The very idea of "resistance" is a pessimistic one. Did you ever hear of a physician assuring any one in advance that his "resistance" is good and therefore he has nothing to fear from the prevailing epidemic? You did not. But any good physician can tell anybody at any time whether he has enough immunity to make him reasonably safe from diphtheria, and any good physician can immunize anyone against typhoid fever.

The old fogey health authorities and physicians who still utter banalities about "resistance" are merely offering condolences over something outward that has happened. They are giving a hackneyed and absurd explanation for an illness they have failed to prevent.

Chiefly from animal experimentation, but in limited degree from tests on groups of children, we have obtained some evidence that an adequate supply of vitamins, particularly Vitamin A, in the food, favors the development of immunity against respiratory infections. This is by no means an established fact. It is merely a scientific assumption. It will require some years of the slow experimentation with human subjects to get fifty million dollars here from financiers who hadn't the slightest chance of making a cent.

Stocks that sold for a hundred dollars a share are worth perhaps a tenth of a cent. Quillible American high finance got for its money an American match company, so arranged that it could not make any money.

This country was certainly drunk with money and was taking dreams for reality in 1929. It is probably just as well that the nation woke up.

The usual news comes from India that thinks it wants to be free, but can't quite give up the excitement and the delight of battle. Hindus and Moslems, fighting for three days past, have killed 42 and injured 600. Fighting still going on. The British, whose rule is made easy by India's religious hatred, find it necessary to open fire on both Hindus and Mohammedans.

Stelwer Endorsed

To the Editor:
 As the time draws nearer for the Republican voters to make their choice for United States senator, we believe attention should be called to the outstanding service which Senator Stelwer has rendered the state of Oregon during his five years at Washington.

Senator Stelwer is a diligent and faithful worker, has made many friends in congress and enjoys an enviable reputation at the national capital. In recognition of his ability and services he has been placed on the most important senate committees as follows: Appropriations, banking and currency, expenditures in executive departments of which he is chairman, Indian affairs, public lands and claims. Through these committees he has secured for Oregon greatly increased federal appropriations, important legislation and numerous other benefits. Senator Stelwer took a leading part in obtaining appropriation for Oregon by years:

1929	$22,833,672
1930	$24,516,588
1931	$30,570,487
1932	$32,293,973

The above figures show the results of Senator Stelwer's work on the appropriations committee since his appointment to that committee in 1930. Treasury department figures show that for the fiscal year 1932 Oregon will receive approximately $7,500,000 in federal expenditures in the state for every dollar paid in federal taxes and other revenues.

Senator Stelwer is leading the efforts to bring about economy in government by attacking the huge bureaucracy in the national capital. During his five years of service the senator has struggled against the arbitrary rules of some of these bureaucrats.

The president recognized Senator

FEHL IS AGAIN CHALLENGED TO EXPLAIN VIEWS

Below we give the public some excerpts from articles written and published in the Pacific Record Herald, and again call upon Mr. Fehl to explain them.

In his issue of April 2nd, 1931, dealing with the Kingsley murder case, he makes the following statements:

"If you will take a look at the prohibition records you will just wonder if it was not a good saving for the tax payers for officer Prescott to be put out of the way."

"Kingsley on the spur of the moment killed the one who was trying to deprive him of his liberty."

Here was a criminal who was armed to the teeth dashing through the country in a stolen car. He was stopped by an officer of the law in the discharge of his sworn duty. The officer (Prescott) was shot down in cold blood, and this is what Mr. Fehl calls depriving him (Kingsley) of his liberty, and a good saving to the tax payers of Jackson county.

Mr. Fehl, does that sound like the type of man we want as judge of Jackson county?

Another quotation from Mr. Fehl's article is as follows:

"We glory in the many principles of the local attorneys who have joined forces in an able defense of this man (referring to Kingsley), regardless of his guilt or innocence."

In another paragraph in the same article Mr. Fehl states that he offered to put up part of the money for Kingsley's defense. Notwithstanding the fact that counsel had been appointed by the court and payment for their services provided by law.

Another matter which the voter might like to have Mr. Fehl explain since he claims to be such a friend to the taxpayer, is why he put a price of $500.00 on the new Washington school site and finally sold the site to the school board for $250.00, which was purchased by the Fehl family on tax title for $66.75.

I have quite an extensive file of Mr. Fehl's newspapers and if he will proceed to explain the above utterances and activities I shall be glad to give further questions of the public which will greatly interest the public.

A. W. PIPES.

A Great Bridge
 All over Oregon folks are planning to be at the dedication of the Rogue river bridge and the celebration of the opening of the Oregon Coast highway to traffic on Saturday, May 29th.

There will be no depression along the great oceanic highway on that day. There will be sunbeams and smiles and good cheer, with all the trials and troubles of the upset world all forgotten. From end to end of the 397 miles, highway delegations of citizens are planning the trip to Gold Beach to see the great bridge dedicated to the memory of the late Governor Patterson and to witness the formalities incident to the opening of the great coast route.

Nature will be in tune for the occasion. Rhododendrons and azaleas will be in full bloom through miles and miles of ocean side and will be a picture worth traveling across a state to see.

Ye Smudge Pot

By Arthur Perry
 The election comes Friday. It is comforting to realize, that the county and community, passed through 40 in bygone days, just as bad, if not worse, and the current spasm will appear just as silly, when sanity returns. There are men in this world who never heard of Jackson county, or any of its candidates—and so tell—don't give a whoop, or care a darn, about it or them. Let there be no murders for the Right.

Poverty and new automobiles are still conspicuous in our midst.

CANARDS

A lie is a lie, 103 weeks out of every two (2) years, but the week before any kind of an election, the lie is called a canard, for some reason. The canard has no father, and just ferretudes like a mouse on a bit of moonshine. The canard is always very vicious, and is generally incubated too late for successful contradiction. Canarding is in the same category with kidnapping. The canard is generally liberated about 11 o'clock, and travels faster than the truth, light, or the V-8-4d. There should be a bounty on canards, the same as coyotes. Nobody believes a canard. However, with the political air all heavy, it is just as well not to pay any attention to the truth, as it is liable to be a canard. Always take a canard with a sack of salt.

Germs are no respecters of friendship. The warm, moist palm of the hand is the handkerchief is the ideal resting place for virulent bacteria.—(State Health Board Bulletin)—Add campaign horrors.

PAINFUL TRUTH AGAIN

Some day I'm going to make a different answer when a lawyer or social worker says to me: "You know, I could write a novel if I'd just get down to it. I've had such wonderful experiences. If only I didn't have a family to support." Sometime instead of saying: "I'm sure you could," I'm going to say, "You're a liar. If you had a novel in you which was worth anything, you'd write it in spite of hell and high water. You'd neglect your profession, you'd starve your grandchildren and desert your children in order to write it. Because there is nothing on earth more ruthless and unparal and unscrupulous than the creative determination.—Concordia (Kan.) Blade.

Talks To Parents

By Alice Judson Peale
 One of the most frequent rudenesses which adults thoughtlessly perpetrate toward children is that of carrying on a conversation over their heads in which certain words are spelled out with the purpose of keeping the child in the dark.

Usually the child understands anyway, and the result is merely to antagonize him and sharpen his curiosity about grown-up secrets generally.

It does not help his manners. He answers rudeness with rudeness, perhaps not at that particular moment, but when a good opportunity presents itself.

This from him is recognized at once as impertinence and is usually checked sharply by adults, who apparently are quite unaware that the child simply is getting even for past offenses.

When a child is present the conversation should be such that he may listen and to a certain degree enter into it. This necessarily limits the freedom of talk. The proper alterna-

143 Voters Endorse Thomas

To the Editor:
 Among the candidates for county judge is a man who has thus far attracted little publicity in the campaign. A newcomer to politics, he has made no fiery speeches and no impossible promises. He has accused no one in office of corruption and dishonesty, nor has he warned the people that only by his election can the county be saved from robbery, murder and bankruptcy. He has been busy seeking the endorsement of those who know him as an honest, fair-minded and capable citizen and loyal and trustworthy friend. This man is C. A. Thomas of Ashland.

Mr. Thomas has been a lumberman of the Rogue River valley for the last 15 years, having held positions of responsibility with the largest operators, as well as managing enterprises of his own. He is a hustler with an established reputation for personal integrity. His support comes from those who have worked with and under him, his business associates and those who know him best.
