VALLEY SCHOOL PUPILS PRESENT VARIED PROGRAM

Pupils of Mrs. Frank Dittler's class opened a delightful program at the Valley school assembly this morning with a Chinese dance in which five little girls, attired as Orientals from puppet to toes, participated.

The group, winning the hearty approval of the appreciative audience of parents and friends, were: Nanette Robinson, Jean Schuler, Alicia Ruhl, Patricia Farrell and Julie Carpenter.

The dance was followed by a clever skit by the primary class, entitled "The Little Rabbit, Who Wanted Red Wings." Miss Tuttle appeared as the ambitious bunny and the other characters introduced by Charles Bradley were Peggy Scherer, Ruth Stuart, Susan Vilas, Paty Gebauer and Billy Patton.

"An Afternoon Tea" was the name given the French skit presented by Emily Tyree, Charity Hart, Alicia Ruhl, Nancy Clark, Deborah Tummy, Polly Dean and Barbara Sheldon.

The program was concluded by several patriotic numbers, honoring Memorial day. David Sheldon opened the observance of the holiday with an oration, explaining the meaning and origin of Memorial day.

The primary orchestra, led by Chas. Haysley, played several patriotic airs, their jaunty red caps catching much of the military numbers. Members of the primary and pre-primary classes entertained with songs, and Nancy Day read the inspiring poem of the world war, "In Flanders Field."

Emily Tyree told the history of the southern anthem, "Dixie" and Barbara Sheldon read the Gettysburg Address. David Sheldon then recited a patriotic poem, which marked the close of the assembly.
