

OFFICERS NAMED FOR NEW YEAR IN CIVIC MUSIC ASSN

Wm. F. Isaac was re-elected president of the Southern Branch of the Civic Music Association by unanimous vote at the enthusiastic meeting held last night at the chamber of commerce building. Other officers chosen for the coming year, which is expected to surpass the last season in bringing even better entertainment to southern Oregon music lovers, were: Miss Louise Woodruff, supervisor of music in the Southern Oregon Normal school, first vice-president; Miss Imogene Wallace of Central Point, second vice-president; Mrs. Effie Herbert Yeoman, this city, secretary, and Mrs. Roberta Ward Bebb, also of Medford, treasurer.

The week, beginning October 10 was chosen for the annual membership campaign of the association. Mr. Isaac, nominated for the presidency of the coming year by Mrs. Gordon Voorhes, gave an excellent talk, expressing his appreciation of the co-operation the Southern Oregon branch of the Civic Music Association has received from the local membership. He also reviewed for the audience the convention in Chicago, at which it was emphasized that the national association is constantly working toward better programs for all branches of the association, studying the work of all artists and eliminating those from the list whose art will not survive the stringent requirements of an America, becoming each day more music minded.

The ever increasing possibilities for each branch of the association to obtain the foremost artists were emphasized in the review of the discussions held in Chicago during which all artists of the modern world of opera were considered. An expression of appreciation of Mr. Isaac's unselfish interest in the association and untiring work for promotion of Medford's musical welfare, was voiced by Dr. E. W. Shockley, representing the membership of the association. A rising vote of thanks was also given Mrs. Yeoman, re-elected secretary, in appreciation of her work, which contributed greatly to the success of the past year. The amount of time given by each officer to the advancement of the musical organization and to keeping other members informed of all happenings was stressed by Dr. Shockley and others.

Communications

Exception is Taken To the Editor, I wish to take exception to what is implied in Jenkin's column of yesterday in regard to wages and salaries being cut. The salary and wage earners are having a regular hysteria and think that the bottom has dropped out of everything, and they are going to the bow-wows because their monthly pay check is a few dollars smaller than it was about five years ago; and everyone else is having the same hysteria with them and for them. But let all of us look at the problem from the angle as to what those same salaries will buy today compared to what they would buy them; we all know the answer. Those who are drawing salaries and wages today are far better off than they have been for a quarter of a century. If we will only stop to think reasonably we will find that we are not in such terrible shape, and then all knuckle down to doing the very best we can in an optimistic way we would soon snap out of it and find it was all a dream. What this country needs is a good boogie. GEO. IVERSON, Medford, June 2.

Markets

stock market was pulled up sharply in the afternoon trading today, along with bonds and principal commodities, after a further sinking spell in the morning. Shares closed with numerous advances of 1 to 3 points. Sales approximated 1,600,000 shares. The turn came with marked improvement in bonds, coincident with rumors that the projected bond pool had already started operations, although this was denied in usually well-informed quarters. The market had been oversold, and the sort of persistent liquidation that has been flowing in of late, presumably from bank loan envelopes and institutions, suddenly lifted.

Today's closing prices for 16 selected stocks follow: American Can 38½, American T. & T. 80½, Anaconda 33, Curtiss Wright 7½, General Motors 8½, Int. DISPLAY OF FUR IN C-C WINDOW

An interesting display, showing the progress of a southern Oregon industry which is little known to many local people, fills the windows of the Chamber of Commerce building this week. It is a display of furs and includes pieces and articles of apparel made in this city from furs now grown by breeders in this section. Arranged by Grace Meyers of the Medford Fur Shop, the display contains furs of the California Oregon Fur association, of which the Medford shop is a member. The made-up pieces are also from the Medford Fur Shop. The mink pieces are from furs produced by Larkin Grubb of Ashland, the foxes from the Siskiyou Fox farms, and the rabbit furs from the numerous local rabbitries.

The display will be at the Chamber of Commerce for the remainder of the week. Pierce's Hothouse Tomatoes can now be had at four grocers. Remember they are vine ripened.

DETROIT, Mich., June 2.—(AP)—A program calling for federal aid of three types today bore the endorsement of some thirty mayors of major cities and preparations were going forward to present the demands to congress and to President Hoover.

The program grew out of a conference of mayors held here yesterday on invitation of Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit. Another result of the gathering was a decision to form a permanent organization of municipal chief executives for the purpose of discussing common problems and presenting a united front.

The 32 mayors in the conference were unanimous in favoring a permanent organization and in asking the reconstruction finance corporation act be amended to permit the corporation to extend aid to municipalities.
