

AWARDS MADE IN FINAL ASSEMBLY AT HIGH SCHOOL

The final assembly of the year was held this morning at the senior high school for the purpose of making awards to students for various achievements.

Bill Cummings, as president of the Latin club, presented awards to Dorothy Willets and to Elizabeth and Frances Ferry. A gold pin was also presented to Miss Fern Hartsock, club advisor, as a token of that organization's appreciation of her work this year.

The Girls' Athletic association awards were made by Miss Carin Degermark instructor, and she gave an explanation of the association's system to members of the state girls' athletic association, the local chapter has the distinction of having given more awards this year than any other high school in Oregon. The point system is followed and four classes of awards given; to those girls have made 50 points, those having 150, 200 and finally the few students who have gathered 100 points in one year.

Between 35 and 40 girls were in the first class, 11 in the second group, four received awards for 200 points, and five for the fourth class. Those making 100 points this year are the first girls in the history of the local high school to receive athletic "M's".

The debate awards were made by Ralph Bally, public speaking instructor, to members of his debate teams. For the first team, inter-scholastic debate, Helen Wilson, Bob Nelson, Max Carter, and George Bennett, received recognition. The members of the second team, who received awards were Irene Stubbsfield, Norman Friley, Frances and Elizabeth Ferry. Students who took part in inter-scholastic debates, were: Lois Snider, Winifred Roseborough, Mildred Reynolds, Ruby Hill, Maxine Bohmert, Francis Gilbert Moty, Lella Van Dermark, Irene Stubbsfield, Winston Hotell.

The last awards were made by Principal C. G. Smith to the winners of George Washington essay contest, which was held some time ago. The winners, Jess Merrill, Neida Crews, and Ross Gore.

FREAKS FEATURE SHRINE CARNIVAL SIDE SHOW TENT

Many of the freaks that are appearing in Metz's European side show at the Hillah Temple Patrol carnival this week appeared in the motion picture "Freaks" that recently played here in a local theater.

Schiltzie, the last of the Aztec race of ancient Mexico, the half man half woman, and a number of other freaks starred in the motion picture play can be seen and interviewed in person this week at the big side show at the carnival.

All told there are about a dozen different attractions inside of the big tent including Serpentina the serpent girl, who is alive. This lady has a head of a human being and the body of a serpent. She is able to move about, is a very intelligent person and speaks several languages.

The fat lady, midgets, Vestian glass blowers, funny and Judy, tattoo man, Ray the pony boy, and other human oddities make up the program in the big show.

A loud speaking system is being installed inside of the tent, making it possible this week for everyone in the audience to hear every word spoken by the lecturer.

This big attraction will be open every afternoon and evening during the engagement of the carnival here this week.

RABBIT FUR EXHIBIT ATTRACTS INTEREST

Much interest is being shown in the exhibit of the California-Oregon Rabbit and Fur Breeders' association at the Chamber of Commerce. The exhibit was placed in the windows last Tuesday and will remain until early next week.

Home products in the line of tanned fox, mink and rabbit furs and made-up fur pieces are displayed. All of this work has been done by southern Oregon fur breeders and shows remarkable proficiency.

Fur novelties, such as dogs, cats and toys made of rabbit skins, are attracting considerable attention, especially from the children who view the display.

The committee in charge of the exhibit is composed of Mrs. Grace Myers of the Medford Fur Shop, Mrs. George Taylor, 417 King street, Medford, and Mrs. J. L. Grubb, Ashland.

REV. LANGBERG GOING TO NEBRASKA CHARGE

Seniors at St. Mary's Received by Alumnae

On Friday evening the Alumnae Association of St. Mary's academy met in the auditorium to receive the members of the senior high school class into its ranks.

The class was presented by the Socially Perfect, Miss Louise Humphreys, Miss Konop, president of the Alumnae association, in her usual graceful style, received the class. After the response by Miss Humphreys, the seniors presented their class play, in the course of which George Smith read in no unmistakable terms the class Will and Testament. The class poem, by Dee Logan was a poem of praise and gratitude in honor of Alma Mater. Agatha Reddy gave the class prophecy and notwithstanding the depression, assured every member of the class a noted and successful career, amid the cheers of invited guests.

Marie Brown in her winsome and pleasant way, steered the good ship "School Life" around the world of Knowledge and safely landed each passenger at the port of Triumph. Louise Humphreys, the Magician Hands, led the class through the caves and labyrinthine paths of wondrous mystery and expectation, until the bright sky appeared and clothed all in the most glorious of sunsets.

After the fine rendition of the class song and the annual meeting of the Alumnae association, refreshments were served in the academy dining hall by the juniors.

On Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, the graduation exercises of St. Mary's academy will take place at Sacred Heart church.

A cordial invitation to parents and friends is extended by the faculty and members of the graduation class. The pastor, Reverend F. W. Black will address the class and confer the graduation honors, after which solemn benediction will close the service.

The Mothers' club of Sacred Heart church will then entertain the graduates in the parish hall.

Girl Scouts Anticipate Opening of Summer Camp

Members of local Girl Scoutdom are welcoming the news that Camp Willpen-Pines, official summer camp for local Scouts, will open August 7 for a three weeks' session under the direction of Miss Alice Loeffler. Announcement was made by Mrs. D. J. Willson, local Girl Scout director.

Camp Willpen-Pines, which is located on the Big Applegate river, near Ruch, is a permanent site belonging to the Girl Scout organization of this city, and this summer's session marks the fourth to be held there.

Miss Loeffler, remembered by most scouts here as "Corvus," was the director during the first camp at Willpen-Pines in 1929, and her return will be welcomed by her many friends in this city.

Camp folders and announcements will be given out at the Girl Scout picnic next Saturday afternoon at the playground.

SHRINE CARNIVAL OPENING TONIGHT P. & E. GROUNDS

Everything is in readiness for the opening tonight of the Hillah Temple Shrine Carnival and Fiesta. The Wortham shows, one of the largest carnival organizations in the country, arrived this morning on their own special train of 30 double-length circus cars. Soon after arrival the long flat cars were shunted to the Southern Pacific teaming tracks, where one by one the big red wagons were lowered down the steel runways onto the streets where by aid of trucks and tractors they were whisked away to the exhibition grounds.

There are upwards of 30-odd attractions carried by the big carnival—a tented city by itself. Over 500 people are employed and to look after such a large family is no small matter in itself, said Tom McFarland, advance man, who has been in the city the past few days contracting for hay, feed, grain, meats, bakery products, groceries and numerous other supplies. The big carnival carries its own electrical equipment but purchases its energy from the local power plant. A first aid station is also maintained, blacksmith department, commissary department, in fact nearly every essential carried by a big circus is carried by the Wortham shows. Following are a few of the stellar attractions to be seen here with them this week: Mechanical battleship, wax museum, Dixie minstrel, trained animals, athletic stadium, European freak side show, monkey circus, motorcarn, Hawaiian serenaders and a score of others including the house of glass, jazzier, and laff Zeppelin. A miniature carnival for the kiddies with specially built devices such as aeroplane, pony track, miniature train, merry-go-round and Mickey Mouse circus, will also be on the grounds.

Among the big riding devices are the hey-day, caterpillar, Leaping Lena, whip, Lindy loop, frolic, giant Ferris wheel and carousel.

AMELIA PLACES ROSES ON TOMB

PARIS, June 6.—(AP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam laid a blanket of red roses on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier today and later placed a sheaf of roses at the foot of the monument to members of the Lafayette escadrille who died in the World war.

William F. Loomis, one of the Americans who flew with the escadrille, pinned the insignia of the flying corps on her jacket and designated her an honorary member.

Afterwards she visited the MacJannet American school at St. Cloud and described her trans-Atlantic flight for the students.

Starving Father Falls in Street Rather Than Beg

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6.—(AP)—George Grover, 30, of Roseburg, collapsed on the street here late Friday from lack of food, police reported today. He was taken to the Emergency hospital and was said to be recovering.

Grover told police, they said, that his family was destitute in Roseburg and that he had come to Portland in an effort to find work. Finding none, he chose to go without food rather than ask help.

NEGRO CONFESSES ROBBING STEWARD

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 6.—(AP)—Deputy District Attorney Van Vactor said last night that Theodore Jordan, negro ex-convict, had confessed that he attacked F. T. Sullivan, white Southern Pacific dining car steward, Saturday.

Sullivan was found with a fractured skull in his sleeping car bunk on a siding here. Van Vactor said Jordan told him he struck Sullivan with a gasp and that robbery was the motive. Jordan was released only last month from the state penitentiary at Salem.

BALANCE IN DIET NEEDED TO KEEP HUSBANDS HAPPY

The surest way to lose a husband is to let him eat the things he dislikes and the divorce courts will have one less case to settle.

So speaks Miss Margaret Lenore Coates, young western home economist who has taught high school and conducted cooking schools since receiving her degree in home economics from Oregon State college. She is a member of the Safeway Stores' Homemakers' Bureau, and now assists Mrs. Julia Lee Wright, the bureau's national director.

Miss Coates, who will conduct the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau three day cooking school at Fox Rialto theatre beginning Wednesday, June 15, and continuing Thursday and Friday, June 16 and 17, believes that if the young bride starts out letting her husband eat steaks, French fried potatoes and other rich heavy foods all the time he is simply storing up material of which grouches are made. On the many mornings after the night before which sprinkle his life, he is as mean as the proverbial bear and the result is a good healthy quarrel.

This husband, according to Miss Coates, has a perfect right to put the blame on his wife, for it is her fault, if she doesn't insist on serving a well-balanced menu which, easily digested, helps maintain good physical health and eliminates mental conflicts or complexes.

Miss Coates plans to devote a portion of her cooking school programs to the well-balanced menu. Other phases of homemaking which she will take up include table set-
