

Pound of Pansy Seed Worth $565 Produced In Rogue River Garden

By MAUDE POOL

To the ordinary person $565 for a pound of flower seed seems preposterous, but southern Oregon yields such rare seeds. They are produced at Harold's pany gardens about two miles down the Rogue river from Grants Pass. These particular novelty pansy seeds have not been released for distribution, and sell only in packets of 500 seeds each. Part of last year's seed crop is stored in a vault in a Grants Pass bank, and is valued from $35 per pound upward.

The gardens, owned and operated by Marvin Harold, business manager, and his father, grower, are one of six commercial pansy gardens in the United States, and one of two in Oregon, the other being located in the northern part of the state. The floral fields, where 80 or 90 cars, containing 200 people, visited on one Sunday, are one of the popular points of interest in the southern section of the state. Harold's have a worldwide demand for seed, and sell plants throughout the nation and foreign countries, $60,000 having been sold in southern California last year.

Climatic conditions in their present location, Mr. Harold said, are as near ideal as anywhere, it being the climate more than the soil which is to be considered. In the entire Grants Pass country only this narrow strip of land, along the Rogue

TRIBUNE NEWSIES GUESTS TONIGHT AT BIG CARNIVAL

Tonight will be a big night for Mail Tribune newsies, who will be guests of Hillah Temple Patrol at the big carnival, the Wortham show. Invitation was extended the previous morning. All carrier boys are asked to meet at the newspaper office no later than 7 o'clock, where they will be assembled and taken to the carnival grounds in a body by an official of the circulation department.

At the exhibition grounds they will be met by the carnival manager and escorted around the midway. The boys will be admitted to all shows and given the privilege of riding all the thrilling devices included in the big show.

The animal herd of freaks will be among the outstanding attractions open to the newspaper party. Billy Arntee and his colored troupe of 20 jazz artists will entertain the delegation.

The "Law and the Outlaw," Battlefields of France, monkey circus, wild girl from Abyssinia, the Jazzer, the certified boy, Ada Mae and her giant reptiles, the African pygmy are just a few of the other attractions available.

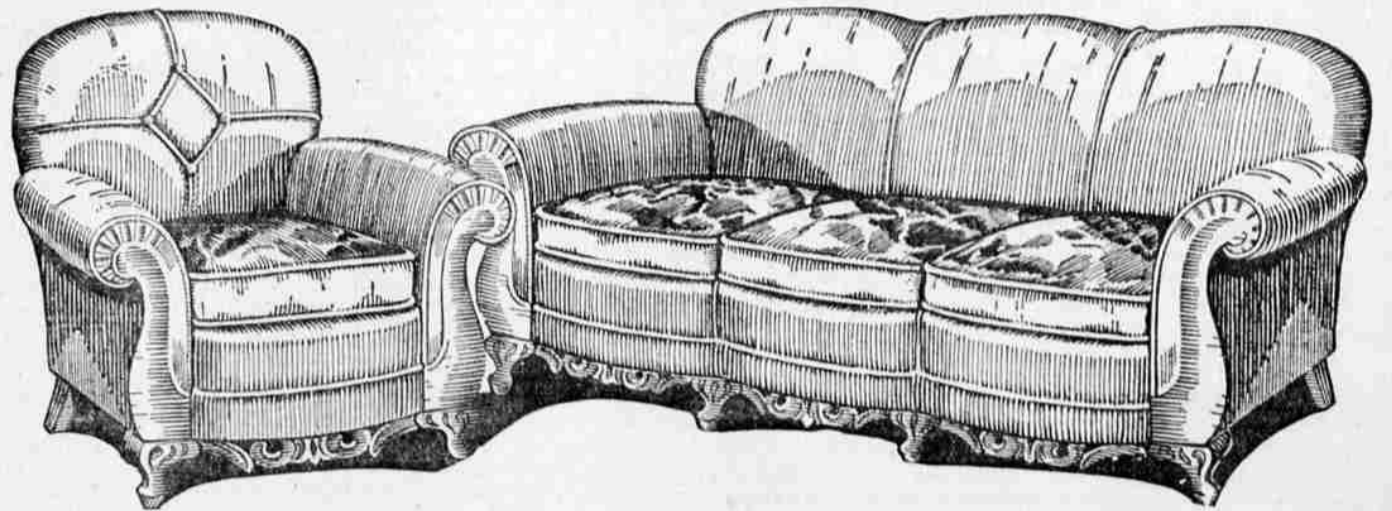

Leaping Lena, the caterpillar, the breakaway whoopee, and the Zeppelin are a few of the devices upon which the newsies will ride to bigger and better thrills.

The Shrine committee extending the invitation is composed of Bert Peasley, Paul B. Rynning, Herb Grey, Rex Barnett, Jack Porter and Jerry Jerome.

JOHN BROADWOOD DIES AT RIPE AGE

John Broadwood, long time resident of Medford, passed away Tuesday at the age of 78 years. Death came after an illness of six months. He was born in London, Ontario, Canada and for many years in Medford, he made his home with William Kennedy who died in 1914. After the death of Mr. Kennedy, he resided with Mr. and Mrs. M. C. (Doc) Wright. Mrs. Wright being a grand niece, who with Mrs. C. D. Wineland of Ashland, are the only known relatives in this state and no near relatives are living.

For the last seven years Mr. Broadwood will be remembered as the elevator operator at the Sacred Heart hospital. He was ambitious and preferred to be employed, although he had lost his limb in early life.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. W. R. Baird at the Conger chapel at 2:30 Thursday. Interment will be in Medford cemetery.

RESORT NOW OPEN AT DIAMOND LAKE

George L. Howard and his crew have been busy since June 2nd getting the resort at Diamond Lake open for the season. In spite of prevailing weather conditions there have been several fishermen in to the lake, all of whom reported good catches. Wardens in charge of the fish hatchery report the trout running larger this spring than for a number of years. The boat dock has been replaced and plenty of boats are available at any time. Also all cottages are ready for occupancy. And the dining room and lunch counter open.

Parties from Medford may reach the lake via Anas Springs, Port Klamath, and The Dalles-California highway. Those entering should drive past the old Diamond Lake junction at Sand creek, continuing ten miles to the new road which is straight, wide, and in excellent condition.

JOBLESS IN CITY NAME COMMITTEE

At a meeting of Medford's unemployed yesterday afternoon in the Labor hall, a ways and means committee was selected to head activities for the group, in order that a constructive program might be worked out whereby the group of 150 would be able to live this winter, in case they were unable to find work.

Those appointed as the committee, which was scheduled to meet this afternoon were G. L. Ray, chairman; W. H. Germain, Frank L. Applegate, H. G. Wilson and K. J. Knudson. J. C. Barnes, local pastor, was the speaker for the gathering and the men endorsed the sales tax plan which includes exemption of homes. The tax plan was perfected by Barnes.

AUTO REGISTRY BREAKS RECORD

Automobile registrations in Medford during the past month have broken the records for 1931, and the reports compiled at the local bureau by Lee C. Gerlock, registrar of out-of-state cars, show that Medford's increase for 1932 exceeds that of last year by 800 cars. This is the largest increase in any office of the state, figures from state headquarters indicate.

In May, 1931, 1601 cars were registered here and 2101 during May, 1932. Sales showed an increase of 250 registrations last month over the preceding year, while Klamath Falls decreased 93, Ashland 66 and Grants Pass 64.

Totals for the state this year show 21,235 cars registered, while last year up until May there were 20,570 registrations.

CLEMENS FINED ON RUM CHARGE

George Clemens of Central Point, arrested late yesterday afternoon at his home near that town, by state police officers, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail, and fined $100 on a charge of possession of liquor. Sentence was imposed this morning when Clemens appeared before Justice Glenn O. Taylor.

D. Roberts, arrested near Talent Saturday afternoon by state officers, was fined $50 and sentenced to thirty days in jail when he appeared before Judge Taylor today. Wm. Crooby, arrested with Roberts, was fined $50.
