

COPCO FRANCHISE SAFEGUARD ADDED AT 2ND READING

Amendments by City Council Provide for Contract Termination Upon Repurchase of Plant by City

Amended to provide for termination of franchise and rate contract upon repurchase by the city of the power distribution system, ordinances granting a franchise to the California Oregon Power company and providing a rate contract were passed by the city council at the first and second readings last night. Both ordinances received the unanimous vote of the councilmen and will be presented for third and last readings at the next regular meeting one week from next Tuesday.

The amendments were added to the ordinances since the last meeting to clarify all elements and prevent any complications which might arise should the city at any time decide to distribute power. While it was understood that franchise and contract would expire upon repurchase of the system by the city, aspirations were not demanded in the ordinances.

A small group of interested citizens attended last night's meeting and no debate was carried on from the floor.

Part Pay for Watchman

Raymond Peter, president of the Rogue River Traffic association, appeared before the council for the second time, concerning a request for a night watchman to patrol the fruit packing row during the summer season. The committee's report, with a recommendation, was made by P. M. Kershaw. The council then voted to authorize an allowance of $30 a month during June, July and until the middle of August to finance maintenance of a watchman in this section, declaring that an emergency exists in that region, where the conflagration of last April destroyed four plants. A watchman is already on duty at half pay. Mr. Peter informed the council, stressing the need for police assistance until the time when night forces will be employed in the packing houses.

Several small matters regarding the installation and removal of lights were considered by the city dade, who voted to install a street light at East Main and Portland avenue and to discontinue the stringer lights, upon recommendation of the building and light committee, between Twelfth and East street.

Petition for a light between Tripp and Cottage streets on East Ninth was referred to the committee.

EAGLE POINT GRANGE INVITES ELIGIBLES TO SATURDAY'S MEETING

By MRS. GERTRUDE HAAK
Eagle Point Grange announces that the social meeting scheduled for Saturday night, June 11, is not a public meeting, but is a meeting sponsored by the master and the membership committee, to which many members of the community eligible to membership in the Grange are being invited in with the hope of inspiring them with a desire to become members.

A splendid program of entertainment has been prepared and speakers will tell of the purposes, aims and accomplishments of the Grange. It is particularly hoped that all receiving an invitation will attend and get acquainted with the many Grangers and the organization.

The Home Economics club had a very interesting time at its last meeting.

A committee was appointed to see about having a cupboard built for the kitchen. Many general plans for activities that usually fall to this club were discussed and plans made for work.

William Giorgi, G. Scianlana and Amerigo Besconi, all of San Francisco, are held in county jail here and will be charged with transportation of liquor and possession of loaded firearms with liquor.

They were stopped on the highway Tuesday afternoon by state police. In their Ford coupe they had two and a half gallons of wine and three guns: Scianlana a double-barrel shotgun, unloaded; Giorgi, a German heger, loaded, and Besconi, a 32 Colts revolver, loaded. There were nine bullets in one and seven in the other. The men claimed they were employees of the Market street railway on a vacation.

ROTARY TO PLACE SCENIC PANELS ON PACIFIC HIGHWAY

A report on the Rotary scenic advertising project made at yesterday's Rotary meeting by Barney Steward, chairman of the committee in charge of this advertising project for Medford and southern Oregon. Mr. Steward advised that part of the scenic panels were already completed and ready for installation along the Pacific highway. Presidents Snockley called for volunteers to assist in securing suitable locations for the attractive markers and over a dozen Rotarians promised their services.

Leland Knox, certified public accountant was the speaker at yesterday's meeting and gave a comprehensive talk upon taxes, stressing the income tax. He reviewed the history of taxes since their inception in the days of Egypt and told of various types of taxes levied in foreign countries as well as in America. The first federal income tax was instituted in America in 1866 following the Civil War according to the speaker who traced the development of the income tax down to date. The present tax burden can be relieved only by the American people taking an active interest in political affairs and eliminating taxes instead of voting additional burdens against the speaker in concluding his talk.

President Snockley announced a special program for next Tuesday with Dr. John Mez of the University of Oregon as principal speaker. All Rotarians are urged to be present and to bring a guest.

H. C. Cox of El Dorado, Kansas and O. P. McWhorter of McMinnville, Ore. were visiting Rotarians at the meeting and Jas. Lively of San Jose was a guest.

At the Carnival

By the Stroller
"Aint dat Sumpin", said a colored gentleman as he stepped down from the ladder after a breezy loop the loop ride in the aeroplane, an aeroplane device one can operate himself like a large plane. This device a carnival attaché opined is more of a free act than a money making ride.

Freaks, freaks, freaks, a cow with six legs, a horse with eight feet, sheep with two heads, five legs, two sets of horns, part goat, part sheep, a mule with a camel's hump on his back, a steer with two tails, a registered Hereford bull, extra leg growing out his shoulder, a cow with no hair, freak chickens, pigs, ducks, geese and the only midget cattle family in the world, father, mother and calf all standing less than three feet in height. "Ladies and Gentlemen, a solid car load of 'em, no two alike," drawled the spieler in front of the big freak animal show. Unusualists like John Hix and Robert Ripley, a find plenty material here.

There's Micky, now Mamma, cooie, lookey koo, such was the topic of conversation in the Micky Mouse circus where live mice trained to perform. Bring out kiddie, laughter and screams.

"Tickets please." Hiliak Temple patrol members were at the doors of all attractions acting as ticket collectors. They receive a liberal percentage of all amusements and are interested in looking after their end of the bargain.

Latf Zeppelin, the crazy fun house, is properly named from the disorienting antics performed by those coming out of the giant balloon-shaped device.

Those who don't want to have their hair styled on end better use plenty oil to paste it down should you venture into the billboards where are devil motor maniacs perform on a straight board while riding a mile a minute on motorcycles and racing cars.

Professor Dick Kantha, the flying Dutchman at the Athletic show last night had the crowd roaring when he belloyed out a challenge to meet, all comers and throw any man in fifteen minutes or forfeit a nice sum of money.

"And this, Ladies and Gentlemen, represents the Allies, and this section, the Central Powers." This started the lecture of J. M. Miller in the Mechanical Battlefield, considered one of the greatest pieces of mechanism ever constructed for portable purposes. Thousands of miniature soldiers, motor trucks, field pieces, cavalry, barbed-wire entanglements, bombing planes, tanks, observation balloons, numerous other essentials needed to carry on modern warfare is portrayed in this attraction which bears the endorsement of many veteran organizations.

The merry go round, time honored and called by carnival men the "wing," was crowded early and late. Conspicuous was a ranch hand with cow boy hat who probably rode a ranch horse herding cattle all day seeking recreation on a wooden horse.

More shows, more rides than any two carnivals combined, read the advertisements in the paper and on the billboards, the veracity of this needs no questioning for with a ticket to everything one can see all the attractions in one night, so numerous are the tents and devices.

Hamburgers, hamburgers, pickles in the middle, onion on top, makes your lips go fliggy flop," yelled the stand vendors to the home-bent crowds as they extolled their wares all the while busy as cranberry merchants hauling out eats and drinks - Whotta night, whotta time, whotta carnival.

Pierce's Hothouse tomatoes can now be had at fair prices. Remember they are fine ripened.

Good grades of lumber at cut prices. Medford Lumber Co.
