BOY SCOUT CAMP AT LAKE CLEARED FOR SUMMER USE

The Boy Scout summer camp is being put in order for the summer camp period. The cabins which were damaged by the heavy snow fall of the past winter are being repaired. A carpenter has been engaged to do this work so that it will be complete by July first. The level of Lake of the Woods is some eight or nine feet higher than it was last year, thus assuring good swimming and boating. Dry creek, the creek emptying into the lake near camp, has been running full all spring and will make entrance to camp almost impossible over the old road. It will be necessary to take all lumber and supplies around the south end of the lake as soon as this road is cleared of fallen trees.

The mountain near camp will undoubtedly be covered with large fields of snow by camp time, thus adding to the pleasure of the hikers who have not seen snow on the trail for several years. The Paul Bunyan, or advance crew of Scouts, which goes to camp a week before the first session has already been selected. This group puts out the docks, sets up beds, stores supplies, and makes camp generally tidy for the opening on July 6.

A number of parents of 12-year-old boys not yet enlisted as Boy Scouts, have asked if it is possible for these boys to attend camp. Executive Hoover states that any boy of Scout age who registers as a Scout at the time he goes to camp, will be given his tenderfoot work in camp, thus entitling him to wear the official badge. Camp information can be obtained by visiting headquarters.

Craterian Star

A program of screen and stage entertainment seldom equalled here is scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday when the hilariously funny film feature "Society Girl" starring James Dunn, Peggy Shannon and Spencer Tracy together with the personal appearance here of Alaska Jack, famous ex-government guide, explorer and authority on the great frozen Arctic, make their local debut.

In "Society Girl" Dunn enacts the role of a prize fighter who "gets tangled" with a "society dame out lookin' for thrills," while Tracy is his manager. Of course, Peggy is the "society dame." It is replete with romantic love interest, gobs of ring-side excitement and loaded to the gills with side-splitting comedy. The added attraction of Alaska Jack is unique. This hardy explorer spent a score of years traversing the fastnesses of the great Arctic circle as a government official. He presents a wonderful and interesting motion picture of Eskimo life, entitled "Primitive Love." Alaska Jack also appears upon the stage in full Eskimo regalia and offers a very interesting appearance. His lobby display, consisting of an original Klondike dog sled, dozens of costly Nordland furs and costumes is well worth seeing, aside from his clever entertainment. Alaska Jack will appear at all afternoon and evening performances.

Thrilling Picture On Holly's Screen
Those who have attended the Holly during the opening day of "The Crowd Roars" all agree that plenty of thrills and spills are in the picture. From the opening to the closing shots the picture is crammed full of thrilling shots and sequences that hold one in suspense. Through it all runs an appealing love story and Frank McLaughlin's comedy. The story concerns a young race driver who gets his brother started in the business. The young brother becomes a big success. Numerous events cause the brothers to split, but they are finally united in the finish in a manner that is most thrilling and satisfying.

CARNIVAL OFFERS 5-CENT MATINEE FOR YOUNG FOLK

"All for a nickel, five cents, a twentieth part of a dollar. Step right up this way. Kiddies get your tickets here." The Hillah Temple patrol officials announce they will stage a big five-cent matinee Saturday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 6 o'clock at the carnival grounds. Any school boy or girl will be admitted to any of the shows or on a riding device for a nickel.

This is a great deduction in the price of tickets usually charged and will afford all of the Medford "kiddies" an opportunity to see the big carnival and its various attractions. Many special juvenile features will be open early during the matinee, including the Mickey Mouse Circus with Mickey himself and a group of trained live mice that perform: the miniature railroad train, pony track, monkey circus, aeroplane, ferris wheel, leaping Lena, and merry-go-round.
