What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

By Helene Willson.

We had a grand picnic yesterday down at the playgrounds with Girl Scouts from all troops in Medford attending. Campfolders were given out at this time, and the troop pictures displayed.

Court of Awards was then held, at which the following girls came up for awards: Mona Hedges, Ruth Clark, Ruth Tucker, Lois Williams, Jean Platt, Kathryn Mead, Ruth Hedges, Nancy Clark, Maxine Young, Frances Beck, Elizabeth Gillings, Jean Gillings, Virginia Hammond, Jean Cully, Edith Hodgkins, Josephine Mead, Julie Schow, Earlene Young, Josephine Bullis, Betty McCorkle, June Nugent, Emily Tyree, Mary Elizabeth Clark, Betty Vilm, Jean Cully, Ruth Clark and Lucile Estes.

Following the court of awards all the Scouts rushed to the recreation hall to get out of the showers, and lunches were eaten there, followed by two strawberry ice cream cones apiece! We were glad to have such a nice get-together with all the Scouts of town and it just may be possible that we can have another such one some time before the summer is over.

Many of you who did not get to the picnic will want the new camp folders containing all information and applications for camp, so come up to the office next Saturday afternoon if you wish to get them immediately. Miss Loeffler will be camp director, and a capable staff will assist her in a most interesting program, so I know you'll enjoy every minute of camp. The fees for camp are reduced, being $6 for one week, $11 for two and $15 for the three.

Are you saving your pennies?

Activities of Legion Auxiliary

What is Fidac? This question is asked more frequently than almost any other question dealing with auxiliary work.

Fidac is the organization of veterans' societies of the allied countries of the world war. Ten allied nations belong in the Fidac societies—the United States, Belgium, British Isles, Czechoslovakia, France, Italy, Poland, Roumania, Portugal and Yugoslavia. Every member of the American Legion is automatically a member of Fidac.

The principal object of the Fidac organization is to maintain, foster and develop that spirit of comradeship which manifested itself on the battlefields of the world war, and to use that comradeship in the cause of peace.

The Fidac organization has consistently striven to remove friction between allied countries.

Each year a Fidac conference is held in one of the allied countries. The 1932 congress will be held in Lisbon.

On the local auxiliary calendar June is Fidac month. Mrs. Wm. Lee Bricker, Fidac chairman for the unit, has arranged a most entertaining program for the social evening June 13. Those who fail to attend these inspiring social meetings are really missing something very worth while. It is urged that all members who possibly can be present Monday evening.

All the material for the Fidac doll has been secured, even to the tiny overall, and the committee is busy completing small details.

TRI-CITY TOURIST CAMPAIGN GIVEN KLAMATH'S OKEH

The plan for an inter-community advertising campaign, participated in by Medford, Ashland and Klamath Falls, which was presented to the Klamath county chamber of commerce last Wednesday by the publicity committee of the local chamber, met with the unqualified approval of the Klamath chamber, and details of the campaign are now being worked out, according to information released last night by C. L. MacDonald, chairman of the publicity committee of the Medford chamber.

The idea involves a closer co-operation between the three communities for the purpose of promoting tourist travel through the region and encouraging our visitors to remain longer in the southern Oregon region. According to the plan outlined at Klamath Falls, tourists will be urged to visit the many recreational attractions in southern Oregon, and to visit all three cities on a loop drive, including Crater Lake national park.

Heretofore there has been marked rivalry between Medford and Klamath Falls, directed toward publicizing Crater Lake, and the fact that the visitor should make both Medford and Klamath Falls was brought out at the meeting, to the mutual benefit of both cities. Statistics show that for each day a visiting automobile remains within a given territory approximately $10 is left in that region, and it is hoped, through the co-operative advertising idea, to induce many to remain in southern Oregon for a longer period than at present.

The first definite program outlined includes a highway billboard campaign in 20 cities in California, located on the main travel arteries leading into the southern Oregon region.

Mrs. S. C. Godlove entertained the W. C. T. U. and their guests Thursday afternoon at her home, 345 North Bartlett street. The vice-president, Mrs. Belle Litzell presided, opening the meeting with a hymn. She also conducted the devotional service, taking as her topic "Readiness." Mrs. Oldenburg closed with prayer. Readings were given by several members, followed by discussion of arguments advanced by anti-prohibition leaders.

Mrs. Ned Benschoter gave a very interesting talk on her visit to the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City during her trip east. She described the beauties of the various buildings and told many old legends in connection with the building of the temple and the founding of the Mormon church there.

A nominating committee was appointed to secure officers for the coming year. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the program.

gion, with displays advertising the recreational advantages of southern Oregon. It is expected that the campaign will be carried on for only one month this summer, as an experiment which will demonstrate the effectiveness of this kind of advertising. Copy for the billboard campaign will be worked out and approved by the publicity committees of the Medford, Klamath Falls and Ashland chambers of commerce.

It was thought that the issuing of publicity literature for this region, on a co-operative plan, will not be possible this season, but a plan was presented for the placing of painted billboards in the various hotels, resorts, tourist agencies, etc., of southern Oregon, advocating the loop trip to include the three cities.

It is expected that definite arrangements will be prepared within the next 10 days for carrying out at least a portion of this program, with the information received at the local Chamber of Commerce last night.
