

Scatter-Gunners to Vie Today in Mail Tribune's Annual Trapshoot

LOCAL MARKSMEN HAVE HIGH HOPES REGAINING TROPHY

Firing Starts at 10:30 Over Medford Gun Club Traps at Airport—Lunch Available—Public Welcome

Guns will start popping at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the Third Annual Mail Tribune Trapshooting tournament on the grounds of the Medford Gun club north of the airport on the Middle road. The event which will be registered under the Pacific International Trophopshooting association, will require the major portion of the day to complete and lunch will be served on the grounds.

As in former years, scattergunners from throughout southern Oregon and northern California are expected to participate and several professionals will also be on hand to show their wares. Local marksmen have been practicing nearly every evening on the blue-sky and have high hopes of carrying off the major honors.

The Mail Tribune trophy, now held by a member of the Klamath Falls Gun club, will be returned here today to be shot for by all amateurs entering the tourney.

The public is invited to watch the gunning and will find the commodious grounds at the club in fine shape.

The program will be as follows: Mail Tribune Hundred

The Medford Mail Tribune trophy will be shot for in events 1, 2, 3, and 4. This trophy was placed in competition in 1930 and is to be shot for each year over the Medford Gun club traps at 100 1/2-yd targets. Any amateur trapshooter is eligible to compete for this trophy, and anyone winning it three times becomes permanent owner. The holder must agree to return it to the Medford Mail Tribune or to the Medford Gun club 30 days prior to the date of its being placed in competition.

No additional entrance fee. Entrance (Target and fees) $4.50

Event 1—25 targets, jackrbt. optional 2.50

Event 2—25 targets, jackrbt. optional 2.50

Event 3—25 targets, jackrbt. optional 2.50

Event 4—25 targets, jackrbt. optional 2.50

Pot divided Rose system 5-3-2-1. $30 in cash to class winners. (Low is class system).

$10.00 to high gun in Class A on the 100 targets.

$10.00 to high gun in Class B on the 100 targets.

MEDFORD TENNIS CLUB TO INVADE 'CLIMATE' COURT

Medford's Tennis club will travel to Grants Pass today where they will play a return match with the Climate City club on the park courts at 9:30. The first match, played two weeks ago, was won by the local team by a score of 7 to 3.

Joe Samma, Grants Pass number one man, who has never been beaten in the past five years in matches between Medford and Grants Pass, will be opposed by Edmiston, number one for the locals.

Joe Patton, who has advanced in the ladder tournament to number two position, will meet De Genault, Harry Butler and "Buddy" Garfield are scheduled for the third and fourth matches, while H. G. Wilson and Carter Boggs will match their skill against the Grants Pass fifth and sixth players.

John Reddy and Roger Early will finish out the local team.

Patton and Edmiston will oppose the Grants Pass number one doubles combination of Samma and DeGenault, in a match which will probably be the feature of the day. The two doubles teams have each won one match and today's encounter will settle the dispute.

The Medford lineup is considerably weakened by the absence of Dr. Harold Gillis and Kramer Deuel and the outcome of the match will probably depend upon the local club players' ability in singles.

Harry Butler and Harry Garfield are the number two doubles combination and Carter Boggs will probably be paired with Reddy for the final match.

MRS. WOOD GAINS GOLF TROPHY BY THIRD TRIUMPH

In one of the closest championship matches ever staged at the Medford Golf club, Mrs. Dave Wood on Friday defeated Mrs. Jack Thompson, 2 and 1, and received permanent possession of the Southern Oregon championship trophy. This was Mrs. Wood's third consecutive win of the title.

Some idea of the brand of golf played by these two women may be found in the medal score for the first 18 holes. Mrs. Thompson shooting 92 and Mrs. Wood a 93. Such a score would defeat 75 per cent of the male clubs in the club. The neck and neck character of the contest can be shown by the fact that the first seven holes were tied, the eighth was won by Mrs. Wood and the ninth tied, Mrs. Wood one up. At the end of the 18, Mrs. Thompson, by winning the last four holes, was two up. At the end of 27 holes, Mrs. Wood was two up and retained that lead up to the 35th and final hole. It was anyone's game up to the final putt. Over 20 people braved the heat and followed the match.

Mrs. Scott Hamilton of Grants Pass won the consolation tournament from Mrs. Delroy Getobell, and Mrs. Grant Fogle of Klamath Falls was given the prize as first flight winner by defeating Mrs. Aetha Vester, Mrs. Grover Tyler had to bow to Mrs. E. C. Jerome after a hard struggle in the second flight.

LOMSKI, SAWYER BOUT ATTRACTS BOX FIGHT FANS

Frank Sawyer, pride of Vancouver, B. C., who meets Leo Lomski here Wednesday night in the top spot on Mack Lillard's boxing card, will arrive Monday and start tapering off in training for the match which has southern Oregon boxing fans on tip-toe. Sawyer will enter the ring with about 20 pounds advantage over the "Aberdeen Assassin" and is confident that he will be able to give Lomski a lesson. He is anxious for a win over the Grays Harbor boy as it will give him prestige with southern California promoters on his proposed trip down the coast after his appearance here.

Circus Red Howe, Marshfield's fast-coming heavyweight, and Al Anderson, the latter a stablemate of Lomski, are both working hard for condition on the night of their match, and both exceed confidence.

For the special six-round event, Terry Kleen and Lonnie Dixon have been working out with sparring partners. Kleen has won a number of followers by his showing in training bouts at the Smoke House here. This pair of gladiators have never met before and a hectic battle is expected when they answer the gong Wednesday night.

A pair of local heavyweight leather pushers will open the show and this match promises to prove a surprise to fans who witness the card.

The headliners, Lomski and Sawyer, are to fight on a 60-40 basis and there will be no draw decisions, according to Promoter Lillard, who cites the contract as an added incentive for the boys to throw leather throughout their 10 rounds—if the match lasts that long.

Lomski is a "short puncher," while his adversary likes to bring them up from the shoestrings. The bout is "doped" as a natural by ring followers and should provide plenty of action.

Advance sale of tickets is reported good by Promoter Lillard, who says the number of women buying tickets surpasses anything in his previous experience. The rush for pasteboards is partially attributed to the appearance of Lomski, veteran fighter, on a local card at bargain prices.

Singh Defeats Joe Gardner

PENDLETON, Ore., June 11. — (AP) — Basania Singh, Hindu wrestler, defeated Joe Gardner two falls out of three in a feature bout here last night. Each weighed 85 pounds.

Father Vance lost to Oren Lamont on a foul after each had secured a fall. They are light heavyweights.

GRUDGE GAMES IN TODAY'S SCHEDULE VALLEY BASEBALL

A pair of grudge games loom on today's Rogue River Baseball league schedule with the Medford Eagles invading Grants Pass and Talent meeting Jacksonville on the latter's home grounds.

A dispute over umpires has featured negotiations for the Jacksonville set-to for several days and a hectic time is anticipated when the two teams get together. Talent has objected to the pioneer town's choice of arbiter and the Jville boys, not to be outdone, have declared themselves none to well pleased with Talent's choice for umpire holder. Both teams have been holding batting practice during the week and are out to "murder" the offerings of rival pitchers.

Hard feelings are reported in Grants Pass owing to the Medford Eagles' plan to pitch Jimmy Riceland, recent comer to the valley from the Montana State league. Riceland, according to the Grants Pass scouts, hurried the Butte team to a victory over the House of David aggregation last season, a feat which the Cavenem view as indicating considerable ability. The Eagles lineup will be practically unchanged aside from the mound assignment. Force will be on the receiving end, Randolph at first, Lawa, second, Ferrit, third, Land, short, Schumacher, Hoxie and Runtz in the outer gardens and Coffman in the relief hurling spot.

VALLEY ORCHARDS DAMAGED BY HAIL AND WIND STORM

Water ran down between the trees, over unditched land, in torrents. Hail further states that the hail-stones were about the size of moh-balls and that orchardists told him many trees had been stripped of leaves by the hail.

In the Central Point district, gardens, small fruits and some grain were damaged.

Fruitmen estimated that the loss was less than 10 per cent of the total crop of the valley.

Cascade Gorge Center

A rain of cloudburst proportions fell near Cascade Gorge on the Crater Lake highway, causing rock and mud slides to flow over the highway in three places. The road was cleared for travel early Saturday morning, with practically no delay to traffic. Eight inches of water was reported on the Crater Lake highway near Agate.

Electrical storms prevailed most of Friday night to the northeast. Owing to the wet condition of the forest, no fires were reported started by lightning.

The peering of hailstones also proved fatal to many members of the owl population in several sections. At the Brophy ranch, north of the city, geese and turkeys were reported killed by the stones and drowning. Chickens were killed at other farms, and gardens and corn fields were damaged beyond redemption. Flowers in the Central Point district were knocked down, and blossoms by the thousands, torn from the stems.

Animals, terrified by the storm, were heard bawling across the desert pastures, and those within corrals sought shelter and continued their loud remonstrance, while lightning, rain, wind and hail prevailed.

At one farm, on the upper Rogue river the planting of corn was washed with the top soil from mine land.

McCredie Relates Incidents Similar to 'Radio Patrols'

A feature showing the practicality and success of the Radio Patrol title of the film now showing at the Holly Theater, was the hook-up at the Southern Oregon Officers association meeting last night in Ashland.

The radio engineering department of the Portland police brought their short-wave set to the meeting, and the delegates heard a talk by L. V. Jenkins, Portland chief of police.

In speaking of the effectiveness of the radio patrol, Cletous McCredie, local chief of police, yesterday related numerous instances in both Portland and Los Angeles where the radio broadcast from the central station made it possible for the cruise cars to reach the scene before the crime was completed.

Chief McCredie explained that receiving sets have been installed in the autos, and calls are sent the patrol cars in that particular district when reports are received at the central police station.

TYPICAL CASE OF 'INJUSTICE' CITED BY G. HILL NEWS

Two cases in which Bates figured were heard in justice court in Gold Hill last March and it will be remembered that the matter was finally brought into court only after repeated attempts of the county officers to make a satisfactory settlement of the disturbances by just warning Mr. Bates that his threats against his neighbors should stand and that if he were to treat the men to whom he leased mining rights at all fairly he would have very little trouble.

POACHER, BREWER HEAR SENTENCES

A justice of the peace case in which venison out of season, and home brew figured, following arrests by the state police, were adjudicated Saturday with suspended sentences for the alleged offenders—John Drake of Ashland, possessor of the deer meat, and Ines Cook, admitted owner of the beer.

Drake was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and given a suspended sentence.

Mrs. Cook, a woman of 40 years, before Justice L. A. Roberts in Ashland Saturday morning admitted proprietorship of 148 bottles of beer and a large quantity of beer-mash, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and the same suspended pending good behavior. She must report to the county court often, it was decreed.

Drake claimed to be only a boarder at the dwelling, 28 Helman street, Ashland with no knowledge of the deer. The woman took all the blame. The arrests were made Friday afternoon on search warrants. They report that beer bottles were hidden all over the place.

TOLLEFSON'S HOPE LIES IN GOVERNOR

Executive clemency is the last hope of Alvin Tollefson, 25, former cashier of the Central Point State bank, sentenced Friday by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton to an indefinite term of not to exceed two years, for perpetration of a bank robbery hoax May 10, to cover alleged defalcations. It is expected that friends will take the necessary steps to lay the case before Governor Meier and seek a pardon or parole for the youth. In passing sentence the court granted Tollefson 10 days, under $2000 bonds, before issuance of the formal commitment papers.

Tollefson, following the shock of the courtroom ordeal, started to place his affairs in order. The blow fell with stunning severity upon his parents.

Attorneys of the city who heard the presentation of facts and statements by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton before passing sentence, declared it to be one of the most lucid and sound declarations ever rendered from a Jackson county bench.

DR. HECKMAN HOST TO SCHOOLMATE

John Dunn of Juneau, Alaska, a schoolmate 45 years ago of Dr. W. H. Heckman of this city, stopped in Medford Friday evening and spent a few hours as the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Heckman, both of whom he had known in Fredonia, Penn. Mr. Dunn was accompanied by his wife and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and son continued their journey north by motor Friday evening from San Francisco, where they had been visiting. They will sail from Seattle for Juneau, where Mr. Dunn is in the government service.
