GROCERY BILLS PAID FREE FOR WOMEN!

Food Concern Is Paying Month's Grocery Bills for Housewives Every Day but Sat. and Sun.

How would YOU like to have your next month's grocery bill paid free up to $50?

That's exactly what a Pacific Coast Food products concern is doing every day except Saturday and Sunday for housewives.

And all the housewife has to do to become eligible to have her month's bill paid, is to write 50 words, and follow several simple rules.

Full details of the event have been made public here by officials of Durkee Famous Foods, Inc., of Berkeley, California.

In order to participate, all you have to do is to write 50 words or less on "Why I Like Durkee's Mayonnaise." The answer should be sent to Durkee Famous Foods, Berkeley, California, and must be accompanied by the cap from a jar of Durkee's Mayonnaise, or a reasonably good hand-drawn facsimile of such a jar cap.

A new winner is selected every day, except Saturday and Sunday. If your paragraph is selected, a $50 grocery credit is placed for you with the grocer from whom you purchased your jar of Durkee's Mayonnaise. The credit is good on anything the grocer has in stock—from candy to canned goods.

NOTE—Durkee's Mayonnaise has met with instant success all over the Pacific Coast because it is declared to actually taste better. Durkee Famous Foods has been known for its salad dressings for more than 18 years. Durkee also makes Durkee's Salad-Aid (companion product to Durkee's Mayonnaise), Tropic, Durkee's Salad Dressing and Meat Sauce and Durkee's Salsas.

ASKS CORRECTION OF SENSATIONAL CHARGES IN PAPER

title, "A Voluntary Witness." In the Daily News last Saturday Fehi intimated that the grand jury was "hounded," "intimidated" and "coerced," and their sessions "whitewashed" and their sessions "whitewashed."

The statement of Foreman Hibbard, in full, is as follows:

Medford, Ore., June 13, 1932. L. A. Banks, Editor, Medford Daily News, Medford, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

Your recent attacks on the grand jury and district attorney of Jackson county have come to my attention, wherein you accuse the jury of not investigating matters which you put before them. In other words you accuse them of violating their solemn oaths of office.

If that the people of Jackson county may know the truth, I wish to state that the grand jury investigated all matters brought to their attention by you and all other parties, and took appropriate action where the facts warranted it.

Furthermore, the grand jury was not influenced in its deliberations by any person, but conducted its session over a period of ten (10) days with the object in view of ascertaining the facts in all cases before it.

The district attorney at all times during the grand jury session was willing and ready to assist the jury in bringing out facts, and repeatedly stated to us that he would call any and all witnesses on all matters which we desired to investigate.

You have allowed another person through the editorial column of your paper to intimate that the grand jury adjourned through fear and that the grand jury was hounded, intimidated and coerced, and that their sessions all were whitewashed. I assure your readers and you that the members of the present grand jury are average citizens of Jackson county, capable of conducting their own affairs, and that no intimidation, coercion, threats or fear influenced them in any degree whatsoever.

The grand jury, under the solemn oath which its members took, honestly tried to sift all your charges of "miscarriages of justice," and all other matters and act on that evidence. You have stated that "not one witness was called" to testify on matters you brought before the jury.

Your informer has misled you as to the facts, for a large number of witnesses were called for this purpose, and you should, through the columns of your paper, correct this misstatement.

JOSIAH G. HIBBARD, Foreman of Jackson County Grand Jury, May, 1932 term.

BLIND BUYING

Merchants would be amazed if their patrons attempted to shop BLIND. FOLDED . . . Such a thought would be out of the question. Business men spend a lot of money to properly DISPLAY merchandise so that buyers may examine what they purchase . . . may be sure that FULL MEASURE is given . . . so they may KNOW that they are getting value received.
