

JOBLESS MEETING PLACE SWITCHED TO LOCAL CHURCH

Meeting place of the public gathering, called for Monday night by Mayor E. M. Wilson for consideration of the relief plan, outlined by the Medford Association of Unemployed, has been changed to the Presbyterian church, it was announced today, to provide adequate space for the anticipated crowd.

The time for the meeting will be the same, 8 o'clock. All interested persons in the city, which the committee workers state should be all persons of the city, are urged to be present. The court house rooms were decided too small to accommodate the gathering after numerous civic organizations were interviewed regarding the relief plans. Representatives from all are expected to attend along with city council, chamber of commerce board of directors, bankers, business and professional men of Medford and members of the Jackson county court.

M. M. STORE HAS SPECIAL DISPLAY

With a large black sailing vessel alighted against a vividly illuminated background, gold and blue drapes to either side, the windows at the M. M. Department Store displaying Enna Jettick shoes has been attracting much attention during the past few days.

Black velvet hangings at each end of the show space accent the richness of the colorings.

Prizes to be awarded in the word-building contest being conducted by the M. M. store in conjunction with the Enna Jettick shoe campaign are also displayed, with posters telling the rules and purpose of the feature. Completing the showing is an attractive arrangement of many models of the Enna Jettick shoes for women.

GOLDEN BEARS TOUCH OFF HOOVER FIREWORKS

The first big noise of the republican national convention resulted when Gov. James Rolph, Jr., carrying the old Bear flag, and his California delegation staged an impromptu demonstration for Candidate Hoover, which lasted 20 minutes. Standards of the majority of the states were raised in the parade through the Chicago stadium. Associated Press telephoto.

PLATFORM WOULD PERMIT STATES RULE OVER RUM

Hoover Regime Endorsed
Whole hearted endorsement of the Hoover leadership and a stinging demand for party regularity in congress were accepted in the new republican platform to the accompaniment of hundreds of ringing planks. It was the prohibition plank, declaring against flat repeal of the eighteenth amendment but calling upon congress for a substitute providing federal control of the liquor traffic, which made everything else unimportant to most of the delegates for the time being.

Wary from almost 36 hours of constant work on the party's policies for 1932, the unexpected James F. Garfield, son of the late president, read the planks to the restless convention.

Bingham Opens Wet Attack
As Garfield concluded, the tall, silver haired Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, opened the wet attack with a demand for submission of prohibition to the states for repeal. The majority in the galleries and many on the floor were with him and showed it.

Two hours of debate were granted the president's leaders—Garfield, Secretary Mills and John L. McNab, of California—rallied the convention against the repealers headed by Bingham and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of New York. If the verdict had been on cheering alone the latter would have won.

The administration prohibition plank declares for law enforcement; condemns referenda; deprecates partisan consideration of the issue; urges attention on "many pressing national problems; opposed submission confined to retention or repeal and concluded:

Favors States Rule
"We, therefore, believe that the people should have an opportunity to pass upon a proposed amendment the provision of which, while retaining in the federal government power to preserve the gains already made in dealing with the evils inherent in the liquor traffic, shall allow states to deal with the problem as their citizens may determine, but subject always to the power of the federal government to protect those states where prohibition may exist and safeguard our citizens everywhere from the return of the saloon and attendant abuses."

"Such an amendment should be promptly submitted to the states by congress, to be acted upon by state

REED NEEDS $285 FOR TRANSCRIPT

An application asking that the county court provide in the neighborhood of $285 for the expense of securing a transcript of the testimony in the trial of Albert W. Reed, now serving a life sentence in state prison for conviction of the murder of Victor Knott, Ashland policeman, will be made by his attorneys, Newbury and Newbury, on July 2 next—the expiration of the 60 days allowed by the court for securing funds for filing of the appeal.

expenses incidental to the appeal would be borne by himself. Discovery of vital new evidence tending to support Reed's contention that he was not at the scene of the murder is the corner stone of the appeal, his attorneys say.

Attorney Newbury says that friends and relatives of Reed in Colorado are unable to raise the necessary sum and for that reason will ask that the county bear a portion of the expense.

Helping some poor soul while she was here.
How good she was till she's passed and gone.
Leaving husband and children to wander on.
Her friends will miss her shining face
For no one on earth can take mother's place.

DO YOU INHALE?

"Everybody's doing it!"

7 out of 10 smokers inhale knowingly—the other 3 inhale unknowingly

Do you inhale? 7 out of 10 smokers know they inhale. The other 3 inhale without realizing it. Every smoker inhales—for every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

conventions called for that sole purpose in accordance with the provisions of article V of the constitution, and adequately safeguarded so as to be truly representative."

Bingham for Resubmission

The rejected Bingham substitute called for immediate resubmission of prohibition to state conventions for retention or repeal, advocating state liquor control in event of repeal.

The new republican platform, quickly adopted after the Hoover exchange was over, endorses the Hoover policies up and down the line. It recommends loans to the states for unemployment relief; development of cooperative marketing under the farm board; revision of veterans legislation to adjust inequalities and to provide economic aid; adherence to the world court; and revision of the tariff through the tariff commission to plug breaks in the wall resulting from depreciation of foreign currencies.

For Utility Regulation

It also proposes federal regulation of electric currents transmitted across state lines; an international conference on the monetary problem, including the subject of silver; congressional authorization for American participation in international conferences to be called when the violation of the Kellogg peace pact is threatened; laws to curb racketeers and kidnapers; and tariff protection for natural resources, including the products of the farms, the forest, the mines and the oil wells.

In contrast with the 1928 platform declaration, there was no mention of the billions owed the United States by her former allies.

COURT WILL ATTEND RELIEF DISCUSSION

The Jackson county court next Monday will attend the meeting of the county courts of the state at Portland, upon call of the governor, to consider plans for relief of the unemployed. The meeting will last all day and all phases of the jobless problem will be discussed.

It is expected that the program will be framed to provide work, through joint action of state, county and federal agencies, co-operating with service clubs and other agencies.
