

RETAIL BUYING POWER GAINING SURVEY SHOWS

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—Retail buying power continued to show considerable breadth during the past week, and trade activity was further stimulated by active commodity buying in certain wholesale markets in anticipation of excise taxes recently adopted by congress, according to the weekly mercantile trade review.

Bradstreet's reported a continuation of the upward seasonal trend in merchandising in some sections, although others, particularly the central and southwestern divisions showed a decided lull.

"While summer dullness is coming on," said this review, "seasonal spring buying has been sufficiently deferred until now to bring retail volume about up to last year."

"There has been a sharp upturn in some of the manufacturing and producing communities in anticipation of taxes to be imposed under the recent statutes enacted by congress. Rubber products, particularly automobile tires, are being made and sold in large quantities. In addition there has been an increase in quotations for all non-ferrous metals except copper."

3-CENT STAMP IN VOGUE JULY 6TH

The new 3-cent stamps issued by the postal department will be on sale and their use or equivalent required on all first-class mail on and after Wednesday, July 6, the postoffice has been advised. On that date the rate is raised from 2 to 3 cents. The new stamp is purple in color.

On the same date the air mail rate is also increased from 5 to 8 cents for the first ounce, and from 10 to 13 cents for each additional ounce.

Postal cards and postcards remain at the 1-cent rate. Business reply cards, however, require 2 cents, and business envelopes require 4 cent postage.

First-class mail, if not short more than one-ounce postage, will be forwarded postage due, if it carries a 3-cent stamp.

Parcel post rate changes will not be effective until October 1.

The new 3-cent stamp carries a picture of Lincoln. A 3-cent stamp, red in color, for the Washington bicentennial, will also be issued.

58 GET INTERIM TAGS FOR AUTO

Temporary plates totaling 58 have been issued by the sheriff's office for 1932-33 auto licenses. In the first days last year only two temporary permits were issued.

The state traffic department has issued orders that all new licenses must be in place by July 1, the start of the new license year. Governor Meier has indicated that he will not declare a moratorium, as requested by Portland and upstate residents.

The state police has been directed to wage against the California and other foreign licenses, when used by Oregon residents. Several owners of California licenses have been warned they must procure auto licenses in the state in which they vote and live and that subterfuges will be unavailing. The same applies to auto trucks.

CONVENTION PICTURES ANNOUNCED BY HOLLY

Five films of the Republican convention in Chicago have been received by the Holly theater, where they are now being shown in conjunction with the feature picture, "The Doomed Battalion."

The pictures include Senator Dickinson's keynote speech before the convention and many interesting sidelights, shot while the party leaders and spectators crowded the halls.

RUNNING MATES HAVE BUSY DAY BEFORE CAMERA

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—A meeting with the cabinet, receipt of congratulations, and posing for the camera were the order of the day for President Hoover and his running mate, Vice-President Curtis.

It was a depleted cabinet the president faced but there was no falling off in the ranks of cameramen who ordered the chief executive and Mr. Curtis around the south lawn of the White House grounds.

Returning from the Chicago battleground, where he was one of the administrative commanders, Secretary Mills called immediately on his chief. Mills conferred only a few minutes before the picture taking started.

The president met Vice-President with a hearty handshake in the hall outside his private office. They walked to the south lawn of the White House, where they faced a veritable barrage of clicking cameras.

Bishop William McDowell, who recently retired from his office in the Methodist Episcopal church, later called upon the president to "offer congratulations upon his re-nomination."

Bishop McDowell, who, in the past, has frequently advised the president on prohibition matters, declined to mention the new Republican platform.

Several hundred telegrams, most of them congratulating the president upon his re-nomination and wishing him well in the campaign to come, had been received today at the White House.

White House aides said "most of the telegrams" received by the president were of a congratulatory nature.

Some of them, however, contained objections to the prohibition plank adopted by the convention. None was made public at the White House.

LANSING CHIEF HEADS POLICE ASSOCIATION

PORTLAND, Ore., June 17.—(AP)—Alfred Seymour, chief of police of Lansing, Mich., was elected president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police at the closing of the annual convention of the association here today.

Other officers elected included Chief of Police Jenkins of Portland, six vice-presidents.

Chicago was selected as the 1933 convention city.

LATOURETTE WILL RELIEVE NORTON

An order directing that Judge E. C. Latourette of the Clackamas county circuit court be assigned to this judicial district, for hearing of Niedermyer, Inc. against Earl H. Pebl and the Pacific Record-Herald, in a legal action involving a mortgage, was received today by the county clerk. The order was signed by Henry J. Bean, chief justice of the state supreme court. Judge Latourette is expected to arrive Sunday evening for opening of the circuit court Monday.

Circuit Judge H. D. Norton, who has been holding the regular term of the circuit court for Josephine county, returned today. He will be here tomorrow for the signing of orders and transaction of routine court business. Next week Judge Norton will preside over the Clackamas county bench.

52 YEARS' TEST FOR GOLD MEDAL

This week marks the anniversary of Gold Medal kitchen-tested flour, according to S. R. McCourtie who is Medford this week supervising his company's participation in the Home-makers' Bureau cooking school now being held at the Fox Hialto theater.

"For 52 years housewives have enjoyed this kitchen-tested flour," Mr. McCourtie said today. "Since 1880 it has been a popular and widely used product, so well known, in fact, that Gold Medal is a household name throughout the country."

Betty Crocker, well known home economist, in featuring Gold Medal flour in countless lectures and demonstrations, has done much to popularize this product throughout the western states.

Miss Hon Is Honor Guest

Miss Margery Hon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hon, whose engagement to Earl Wynmore of Butte Falls was recently announced, was the honor guest at a luncheon and kitchen shower Thursday noon at the Hotel Medford.

Honoring Miss Hon, were the following members of the Jackson County building and loan staff, where she has been employed: Miss Jane Schmidt, Miss Josephine Taylor, Miss Wilma Oyger, and Mary Wilson.

SCOUT ORGANIZATIONS TAKE BUDGET CUTS

Character building organizations, including the Y. W. C. A. Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, accepted substantial cuts in their budgets for the remainder of this year at the meeting of the Community Chest board of directors yesterday afternoon.

The cuts were made to enable the transfer of money to the relief fund, where an emergency now exists.

Grangers indebted to the federal reserve bank of Spokane should do their utmost to elect "a qualified farmer" to the board of directors, the grange voted. Consideration of a federal old-age pension plan was indefinitely postponed, but the grange went on record as favoring direct election of the nation's president and vice-president. Change in the state laws to permit reimbursing persons for loss of poultry and other livestock by "killer" dogs was advocated.

A TREAT for the Readers of the MAIL TRIBUNE

BEGINNING June 20, this newspaper will publish each day an exclusive, brief, pithy "guest" editorial on a timely subject. A series of them have been prepared by outstanding figures in public life, at the request of the National Americanism Commission of The American Legion. The object is to present for consideration certain sound principles of Americanism at this time when there is some need of this kind of thinking on the part of our people.

What others think of patriotism, citizenship duty, military training, and the conduct of our government are intensely interesting. Among those who have contributed such editorials are:

- Geo. B. Cortelyou, president, Consolidated Gas Company, New York.
- F. Trubee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War.
- Gen. John J. Pershing.
- H. W. Chase, president, University of Illinois.
- Rev. John E. Shea, rector, Emmanuel Episcopal Church Shawnee, Okla.
- F. DuMont Smith, chairman, Committee on American Citizenship, American Bar Association.
- Thomas S. Gates, president, University of Pennsylvania.
- Kenneth C. Hogate, vice president and general manager, Wall Street Journal.
- John Cooper, U. S. Commissioner of Education.
- Rear Admiral Sumner E. W. Kittelle (ret.) U. S. N.
- M. H. Aylesworth, president, National Broadcasting Company.
- Governor Albert C. Ritchie.
- W. N. Doak, U. S. Secretary of Labor.
- Rev. Gill Robb Wilson, past national chaplain, The American Legion.
- Thomas F. Kane, president, University of North Dakota.
- Frank Miles, editor, Iowa Legionnaire.
- John E. Edgerton, president, National Association of Manufacturers.
- Edward C. Elliott, president, Purdue University.
- Rev. DeLoss, pastor, College Avenue Church of Christ, Des Moines, Iowa.
- John R. Quinn, county supervisor, Los Angeles County, Calif., and past national commander, The American Legion.
- Charles Burton Robbins, former Assistant Secretary of War.
