

TRIO TOO MEAN FOR UTTERANCE SOUGHT BY COPS

A trio of sympathy racketeers, who posed in this and Josephine county as "victims of the depression," now characterized by residents of the Selma district, near Grants Pass, as "too mean for words to describe" are sought by the state police as fugitives from justice. They are Louis Young, 27, Melvin Dake, 26, and a third man, name and description, indefinite. Young has a string of aliases, the authorities say, and is wanted in other states for other crimes. They are sought for assault and robbery, bad checks, willful destruction of property, and felonious threats, committed early this month. Dan Powell, 73-year-old resident of the Selma district, according to the state police, listened to the hard luck story of Young and Dake when they came to his house, and out of the goodness of his heart gave Young employment at $1 per day for ten days. Powell also furnished food. The pair's tale of woe, also aroused the sympathy of Ed Foley, who permitted them to occupy a furnished house owned by him.

After a two weeks sojourn in the Selma district, Young and Dake were joined by a third man, who drove a California licensed coupe.

Before departing, the pair held up and robbed their aged benefactor of all his worldly wealth, $40, first demanding that he reveal the hiding place of other coin, they imagined he possessed. After this offense the pair is alleged to have burglarized the home of Foley, of $40. They then went to the Foley house they had been occupying and proceeded to demolish the contents. Not a piece of furniture or dish in the place was left unbroken, even the kitchen stove being smashed. As a finishing touch, they took an ax and chopped on the sides of the house.

The trio then fled in an auto, but a short distance from the scene of their crimes they ran into a ditch. About this time, Powell, the aged man, who is partially blind, and unable to see distinctly happened along, and was prevailed upon to go to his place and get his team and pull the auto out on the road. After this kindly act, they again robbed Powell of what small amount of money he had, and threatened him with death if he reported to the authorities. Powell held his tongue for three days and then reported to game wardens. Residents of the Selma district also complain that three checks passed by Young are worthless and that the trio "were hard-boiled."

As a result of the experience the tendency to play the Good Samaritan in the Selma area is at a low ebb. The men are described as suave and plausible when reciting the list of woes and injustices that have befallen them.

BOY'S HEAD PINNED BY WINDOW BARS

BOSTON, June 17.—(AP)—His name wasn't on the program nor was his event scheduled, but Linwood Wayman, 8, attracted considerable attention at Bunker Hill monument today as Boston celebrated its private holiday "Bunker Hill day." Linwood stuck his head out between the bars of a window at the top of the monument and it took a couple of crowd bars and husky men to get it back in. It all happened just as Mayor James M. Curley was arriving to place a wreath at the foot of the monument and Linwood's cries attracted attention from the mayor to himself.

A parade, which was to have been one of the chief features of the celebration had to be postponed because of rain.

HIS HEALTH IMPROVED 40%

After Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you are constipated, read this letter which Mr. Murray had attested by Notary Public:

"Two months ago I commenced using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to relieve constipation. I am in better health today than I have been in years, due to the use of your wonderful bran. My bowels move regularly, and my general health has improved 40%." — George A. Murray, 288 K Street, South Boston, Mass.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much better to use ALL-BRAN than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

VETERANS CROWD GALLERIES WHILE SOLONS EXPOUND

"I fear for this legislation—fear for it because it is fundamentally right."

"If it is right to be thoroughly grateful to those who have defended the country in its time of peril, now that they are needy and hungry, then it should pass," he asserted.

"A country which does not deal fairly with those who defended it in time of peril is not worthy of being defended."

While the senate debate continued the crowd outside rapidly increased and speakers kept up an unbroken effort to maintain order.

Shortly before noon a bugle sounded mess call and five enormous army stew cans were opened on the lawn. The men fell into line, some with mess plates they had brought. Those not so fortunate held slices of bread to have the hot stew poured on them.

As the vote neared, Senator Thomas (D., Okla.) chief bonus sponsor, predicted the bill would be beaten by a two to one vote.

Thomas said his poll of the senate had shown about two thirds of the membership was ready to vote against the measure.

The Oklahoman continued his battle for the bill, however, contending "every one has had his bonus save the man who earned it."

Thomas said that from his information 50,000 veterans were on the way to Washington to join those already here.

"This fight has just begun," he said.

Must Starve or Starve
Thomas warned the senate it was sending the veterans out to starve or starve.

"A no vote is a sentence to those men to go forth to starve or starve," he said.

"You are leaving them but one course. These men will not starve in this land of plenty."

Vice-President Curtis admonished the galleries to be in order when applause greeted a statement by Thomas that "there is just as much ignorance in the treasury about money, if

DEMOCRATS WILL ASK SUBMISSION IS SHOUSE GUESS

CHICAGO, June 17.—(AP)—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee said today his "guess" was that the Democratic convention meeting here June 27 would adopt a plank favoring submission of the question of prohibition repeal to the states, but would not go on record as a party for repeal.

Shouse, first of the Democratic leaders to arrive, said there might be a floor battle over the wording of the prohibition plank, but he believed most of this controversy has been smoothed out in advance.

He said more than 50 prohibition planks had been received, most of them "very, very wet" and with the "trend toward repeal."

An informal meeting of an unofficial resolutions committee members will be held Thursday, he said, to draw up a tentative platform in an effort to save time. Some 40 state delegations have notified him of selections of resolutions committee members.

The national committee will meet next Friday to hear contests.

The chairman of the Democratic national committee was named as a participant along with William Fox.
