

JIMMY BYRNE TO MEET MCCARTHY NEXT LOCAL CARD

A fight that would prove a headliner for any city has been booked for Medford boxing fans Wednesday evening, June 29, when Mack Lillard, local boxing promoter, will present Jack McCarthy of San Francisco in a ten-round bout against the Myrtle Point sensation, Jimmy Byrne, nationally known fighter.

McCarthy, who has 100 ring battles carded after his name, has won from Max Baer during his career, and also defeated Hans Finkler, in San Francisco a year ago. Finkler won by a knockout from Lenaki. Byrne, who is vacationing this summer with his parents at Myrtle Point, will see that McCarthy is given a battle throughout the ten rounds. Byrne has fought three times with Young Stribling, one match ending in a draw. Byrne has also been matched with George Godfrey, the negro batter.

When Jack Dempsey was on his come-back tour throughout the nation last fall, Byrne fought him before a $15,000 house in Eugene, and although Dempsey received the decision, may critics believed that Byrne was entitled to a draw.

Byrne is known as a rough and tough fighter, who walks into the ring, slugging all the time, while McCarthy has the reputation of a polished boxer. Byrne will weigh in at 195, and McCarthy at 190 pounds.

The card has been booked on a 60-40 basis according to Promoter Lillard, who said last night that no draw decision will be made. Both men will be in Medford several days before the match, and will work out at the open air camp in the city playground on Bear creek.

Promoter Lillard has also arranged a glove-fest between Herb White of Butte Falls and Arth Matthews of Medford, both of whom have shown promise of getting some place. Butte Falls fans will be on hand en masse to back their "pride."

If possible, Lillard said last evening, a bout featuring Terry Kileen against Roy Lutman of Grants Pass will also be put on the card.

GUSTO CAPTURES AMERICAN DERBY

WASHINGTON PARK, Chicago, June 18.—(AP)—With amazing gusto, a thoroughbred by that name, dropped out of the clouds today to win the $50,000 American derby, to the astonishment of 30,000 spectators.

In a sensational stretch drive that was reminiscent of Man o' War, his grandnephew, owned by Morton L. Schwartz, wealthy New Yorker, charged from sixth place to conquer Osculator, heavily-played favorite. Gusto triumphed over Osculator by two and one-half lengths.

Prince Hotspur, belonging to the estate of the late Joseph Letter, of Chicago and grouped with the Chicago-owned I Say in the field, finished third, staggering along four lengths back of the winner. I Say, the only filly in the race, finished fourth.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 18.—(AP)—Seth Miller, of Portland, won the preliminary handicap, one of today's features in the northern divisional shoot of the Pacific International Trapshooting association. He broke 96 out of 100 from the 20-yard mark.

MEDFORD TENNIS TEAM WILL FACE PELICANS TODAY

Klamath Falls will be the tennis capital of southern Oregon today when the crack 12-man team of the Medford Tennis Club invades the "City-by-the-Lake" for a return match with the Pelicans. Half a dozen local players went over the Cascades last night for a practice workout on the Klamath courts while the remainder of the crew will motor over this morning.

Jimmy Edmiston, Al Tollefson and Joe Patton, Medford's "big three" will be on the firing line today in the singles events with Harry Garfield, Harry Butler, "Dad" Wilson, the 60-year old shark of the locals, Carter Boggs, Al Spaulding, Rodger Earley, Al Carley, Al Gilhausen, "Bud" Simmons and Lee Van Ausdale supporting them.

In the doubles Edmiston will pair with Patton; Tollefson will work with Boggs and the two Harrys, Butler and Garfield, will make up the third local team. The fourth will be chosen from the remaining players. Thirteen singles and four doubles will be played.

Klamath has never won a match from the local club since it was organized four years ago. Today's Medford team will be weakened by the absence of Bud Deuel, Wlste Pruitt, John Eison and Dr. Harold Gilla, but it is still figured to bring home the Pelican scalp. In the former meeting of the clubs Medford won 12 to one.

DEMOCRATS TRAIN HEAVY BATTERIES ON G. O. P. PLANK

fort here but tomorrow James A. Parley, the field marshal of Governor Roosevelt of New York, arrives. Parley will organize the drive of the Roosevelt people to make the permanent chairman in the place of Shouse, the choice of Alfred E. Smith for that post.

Will Bring Showdown.

This contest appears inevitable and is destined to bring a showdown between the Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt delegates at the opening of the convention of a week from Monday.

Despite the trouble brewing for the Democratic convention, Shouse and other leaders profess confidence of party harmony afterwards, at least a "reasonable degree of it."

The third party threat has been noted by both Democratic and Republican leaders. Friends of Governor Roosevelt contend the best way to avoid a third party split is to nominate the New Yorker.

The prohibition controversy, which divided the Republican convention, is another worry confronting the Democrats, but Shouse believes the way will be found for a simple declaration in favor of submission of a repeal amendment to the states.

BONUS BATTALION SEEKING RECRUITS TO PUSH REQUEST

the day, but attributed their departure to a determination to return home for more recruits.

At least one contingent, a truck unit from Long Island did leave for that purpose. Chalked on the side of the truck was the sign: "Back to Washington with recruits."

Despite the disappointment of the senate's overwhelming defeat of the bonus measure last night and continued cloudy weather with occasional rains, life for those in the encampments fell into the usual routine.

After a three days' lull, communists resumed activities in the camps despite the early forcible ejections and a staunch veteran opposition to their teachings.

Confiscate Propaganda

The veterans confiscated numerous printed sheets being distributed in the camps such as "The Program of the Ex-servicemen League." The league is openly a communist organization.

The sheets called upon the veterans to unseat their executive committee and elect a "representative group of leaders." It called Waters "the betrayer." It attacked the police and the conditions in the camp.

The veterans arrested those distributing the literature and took to the police station for good measure some of their own members whose immunity to the Red tinge they doubted.

Another movement to bring wives and families to Washington was started in the camps. Several men already have brought their families but police tonight said they were unable to furnish proper quarters for them.
